PREFACE.

A GENERAL idea of the plan of this work will be derived from a mere perusal of the title-page. Watts's version is of course made the basis of the compilation; and, in revising his Psalms and Hymns, the various readings have been carefully compared with an original English copy, containing his own notes and observations. The book, however, embraces copious selections from other sources, as appears by the authors' names in the body of the work. Watts's alone stand without a name; so that they can be easily distinguished from the rest.

Much attention has been bestowed on the arrangement of the Hymns in reference to subjects and occasions; and in this part of their labor, the Compilers have had constantly in view, the convenience of selection, and the preservation of a pleasing succession of topics to the devotional reader. This two-fold object was not to be gained without study and effort. Its advantages, we trust, will be obvious on the slightest examination.

The great importance of lyrical character has not been overlooked; but the Compilers have not dared to sacrifice sense to sound, devotional sentiment to the beauties of diction, or unity of design to the special convenience of adaptation. The great interests of devotional edification can be secured, only in proportion as the claims of music and poetry, pious sentiment, and discriminating taste, are properly united.

The musical references are the initials of the technical terms in common use, and the tunes named in connexion with the poetic pieces, are, for the most part, such plain and familiar ones, that their character will not be easily misunderstood. The advantages of this plan will appear on a perusal of the following article. See also the order of subjects, at the close of the volume.

This work has not been undertaken without mature deliberation; nor has its completion been the offspring of a series of desultory efforts. The work has been several years in a course of preparation; and the Compilers, providentially located within a few doors of each other, have had every advantage of mutual consultation which the subject required. How they have succeeded in their undertaking must be left to the public decision.

INTRODUCTION.

It is an obvious principle in Christian psalmody, that the devotional sentiments contained in the poetry, form the only proper basis of musical expression. Music, such as the Bible contemplates, is, in this respect, like an impassioned species of elocution. It is the chaste and simple language of emotion. The words of a Psalm or Hymn being given, the problem is, to enforce them upon the mind of the hearer, through the medium of impassioned enunciation. To this end, there must be good articulation, accent, and emphasis. The language must flow from the lips of the singer, as it does from those of the speaker, in a distinct and impressive manner. A congregation (if an apostle reasoned correctly) should never be addressed in an unknown tongue. That language which, under the divine blessing, is to make an impression upon us, must be distinctly heard. If there are instruments employed in the service, they should be so managed as not to mar the language. This is a matter of vital consequence. The principle, though much disregarded, lies at the foundation of all rational improvement. A few feeble, untutored voices, drowned by an instrument of overwhelming power, never sing to edification.

But mere distinctness of enunciation is not all that is required. There must be genuine feeling. Emotions not of a fortuitous nature, such as arise from a mere heated imagination, are here to be encouraged; but those which arise from definite influences of spirituality. The man who would make others feel, must feel himself. He must, himself, exercise legitimate emotions, if he would produce them in others. If he would edify others, he must himself be edified.

This principle, though extensively disregarded even by pious musicians, is just as obvious in its application to this subject, as it is in reference to pulpit oratory, or social prayer. It is all a mistake to suppose that music is a species of mental mechanism, which will secure its own ends on the mere principle of laborious accuracy or tasteful execution. Singers are moral agents, accountable to the Searcher of hearts for the feelings, and motives, and habits, which they cultivate and call into exercise, within the house of God. It is a solemn business to be engaged in the work of angels and seraphs; delightful, indeed, to the heart of intelligent, pious susceptibility, but awfully hazardous to the soul of the thoughtless, the irreverent, and the profane. There are worthy men in the Christian connexion who think little of this whole matter. Even among professors of religion, there are choristers and teachers who seem to have almost their whole attention directed away from the spiritual claims of edification. But they are fundamentally wrong.

Nor should children be made chief performers in the house of God. "Old men and maidens," as well as young men and children, are exhorted to take part in the service. If Christian influences are to be exerted by the public performances, they must be carried there by those who are truly pious. The Kenaniahs, the Asaphs, the Hemans, and the Jeduthuns, the evangelists, the elders, and the teachers of religion, must, as far as possible, be found in the ranks of cultivation. Children should not withhold their hosannas; they should be universally and thoroughly instructed in the office of sacred song: but the ministers and professed followers of the Lord Jesus Christ must not be guilty of practical indifference to his praises, if they would find them a real source of devout edification. Multitudes, who are now mute in the house of God, might be enlisted in the delightful service, if they only realized the full measure of their accountability. Feeble lungs would become strong, decayed voices would renew their vigor; and the jargon of dissonant notes would be hushed to silence under the general influence of enlightened cultivation. The devotional advantages of such a scene, may, under the blessing of God, be realized, when parents and teachers will consent to make sacred music a necessary branch of Christian education.

Cultivation, however, must not be confined to children and youth. It must be carried religiously into the various classes of adults. The family circle, the weekly lecture, the conference meeting, and the circle for prayer, must, in some way, be made to realize its hallowed influences. Christians need not expect to reap such influences as these, where they have never sowed them.

Such views as the above have influenced the Compilers uniformly, from the commencement of their undertaking The subjects of divine song have been enlarged, and palpable poetical blemishes have been removed: while the musical hints and references have not been made so mechanical in their arrangement as to entirely supersede the necessity of personal attention among those who lead in the public service. Emotions form the only proper basis of musical expression; and these are in their own nature incommensurable. General hints, therefore, are all that can be attempted with any prospect of success.

But we must here dismiss the subject, and close our remarks by the explanation of

PSALMS.

1. FIRST PART. C. M.—Dunchurch.
Way and end of the righteous and the wicked.

1 BLEST is the man who shuns the place
Where sinners love to meet;
Who fears to tread their wicked ways,
And hates the scoffer's seat:

2 But in the statutes of the Lord
Has placed his chief delight;
By day he reads or hears the word,
And meditates by night.

3 He, like a plant of gen'rous kind,
By living waters set,
Safe from the storm and blasting wind,
p Enjoys a peaceful state.

cr 4 Green as the leaf, and ever fair,
Shall his profession shine;
While fruits of holiness appear,
Like clusters on the vine.

PAUSE.

cx 5 Not so the impious and unjust;
What vain designs they form!
f Their hopes are blown away like dust,
Or chaff before the storm.

m 6 Sinners in judgment shall not stand
Among the sons of grace,
When Christ the Judge at his right hand
Appoints his saints their place.

p 7 His eye beholds the path they tread,
His heart approves it well;
f. ex While crooked ways of sinners lead
Down to the gates of hell.

1. SECOND PART. L. M.—Uxbridge.
Way of the righteous and the wicked.

vi 1 HAPPY the man whose cautious feet
Shun the broad way that sinners go,
Who hates the place where Atheists meet,
And fears to talk as scoffers do.

2 He loves t' employ his morning light
Among the statutes of the Lord;
And spends the wakeful hours of night,
Pleased with the wonders of his word.

3 He, like a plant by gentle streams,
Shall flourish in immortal green;
And heaven will shine with mildest beams
On every work his hands begin.

ex 4 But sinners find their counsels cross'd;
As chaff before the tempest flies,
ff So shall their hopes be blown and lost,
When the last trumpet shakes the skies.

1. THIRD PART. L. M.—Park-street.
Same subject.

1 THRICE happy he who shuns the way
That leads ungodly men astray;
Who fears to stand where sinners meet,
Nor with the scorner takes his seat.

2 The law of God is his delight;
That cloud by day, that fire by night,
Shall be his comfort in distress,
And guide him through life's wilderness.

3 His works shall prosper: he shall be
A fruitful, fair, unwith'ring tree,
That, planted where the river flows,
Nor drought, nor frost, nor mildew knows.

f 4 Not so the wicked; they are cast
Like chaff upon the whirlwind's blast:
ag In judgment they shall quake for dread,
di Nor with the righteous lift their head.

Montgomery.

1. FOURTH PART. S. M.—Watchman.
Same subject.

1 THE man is ever blest
Who shuns the sinners' ways,
Among their councils never stands,
Nor takes the scorner's place.

2 But makes the law of God
His study and delight,
Amid the labors of the day,
And watches of the night.

cr 3 He, like a tree shall thrive,
With waters near the root:
Fresh as the leaf his name shall live,
His works are heavenly fruit.

ex 4 Not so th' ungodly race,
They no such blessings find;
f Their hopes shall flee like empty chaff
Before the driving wind.

ag 5 How will they bear to stand
Before that judgment-seat,
Where all the saints at Christ's right hand
In full assembly meet?

di [6 He knows, and he approves
The way the righteous go:
cr But sinners and their works shall meet
A dreadful overthrow.]

2.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Peterborough.
Fruitless opposition to the reign of Christ.

ll 1 WHY did the nations join to slay
The Lord's anointed Son?
Why did they cast his laws away,
And tread his gospel down?

f 2 The Lord that sits above the skies
Derides their rage below;
He speaks, and terror and surprise
Will strike their spirits through.

di 3 "I call him my eternal Son,
And raise him from the dead;
I make my holy hill his throne,
And wide his kingdom spread."

ex 4 Be wise, ye rulers of the earth,
Obey th' anointed Lord,
f Adore the king of heavenly birth ag And tremble at his word.

p 5 With humble love address his throne,
For if he frown, ye die:
cr Those are secure, and those alone,
Who on his grace rely.

2. SECOND PART. S. M.—Clapton.
Christ triumphs and fills his mediatorial throne.

" 1 WHY did the Gentiles rage,
And Jews, with one accord,
Bend all their counsels to destroy
Th' Anointed of the Lord?

2 Rulers and kings agree
To form a vain design;
Against the Lord their powers unite,
Against his Christ they join.

f 3 The Lord derides their rage,
And will support his throne;
He that hath raised him from the dead
Hath own'd him for his Son.

PAUSE.

" 4 Christ has ascended high,
To rule the subject earth;
The merit of his blood he pleads,
And pleads his heavenly birth.

5 He asks, and God bestows
A large inheritance;
f Far as the world's remotest ends
His kingdom shall advance.

ex 6 The nations that rebel
Must feel his iron rod:
He'll vindicate those honors well,
That he received from God.

m 7 Be wise, ye rulers, now,
And worship at his throne;
vi With trembling joy, ye people, bow
To God's exalted Son.

2. THIRD PART. L. M.—Sterling.
Exhortation to rulers.

1 NOW ye that boast of earthly power,
Be wise, and serve the Lord, the Lamb;
Bow at his footstool and adore;
Rejoice and tremble at his name.

2 For God, who high in glory reigns,
Laughs at your pride, your rage controls;
f His power can fill your hearts with pains,
ag And speak in thunders to your souls.

p 3 With humble love address the Son, Lest he be angry, and ye die;
cr His wrath will burn to worlds unknown,
If ye provoke his jealousy.

f 4 His storms may drive you quick to hell;
p He is a God, and ye but dust:
cr ri Happy the men who know him well,
And make his grace their only trust.

3.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Windsor.
God our defence.

aff 1 MY God, how many are my fears!
How fast my foes increase!
Conspiring my eternal death,
They break my present peace.

2 The subtle tempter would persuade
There's no relief in heaven,
That all my swelling sins are now
Too big to be forgiven.

cr 3 But thou, my glory and my strength,
f Shalt on the tempter tread;
di Shalt silence all my threat'ning guilt,
And raise my drooping head.

v 4 I cried, and from his holy hill
He bow'd a list'ning ear;
I call'd my Father, and my God,
And he subdued my fear.

5 He shed soft slumbers on mine eyes,
cr In spite of all my foes;
I woke, and wonder'd at the grace
That guarded my repose.

f 6 What though the hosts of death and hell
All arm'd, against me stood:
Terrors no more shall shake my soul;
di My refuge is my God.

3. SECOND PART. L. M.—Quito.
Morning.

aff 1 O LORD, how many are my foes,
In this weak state of flesh and blood!
My peace they daily discompose:
But my defence and hope is God.

2 Tired with the burdens of the day,
cr To thee I raised an evening cry;
Thou heard'st when I began to pray,
And thine almighty help was nigh.

3 Supported by thy heavenly aid, di I laid me down and slept secure:
cr Not death would make my heart afraid,
f Though I should wake and rise no more.

di 4 But God sustain'd me all the night;
Salvation doth to God belong:
cr He raised my head to see the light,
And praise him in my morning song.

3. THIRD PART. L. M.—Luton.
Same subject.

aff 1 THE tempter to my soul hath said,
"There is no help in God for thee;"
Lord, lift thou up thy servant's head,
My glory, shield, and solace be.

f 2 Thus to the Lord I raised my cry, cr He heard me from his holy hill;
f At his command the waves roll'd by;
p He beckon'd, and the winds were still.

—cr 3 I slept in quiet and awoke;
Thou, Lord, my spirit didst sustain;
vi Bright from the east the morning broke,
Thy comforts rose on me again.

4 I will not fear, though armed throngs
Compass my steps in all their wrath;
Salvation to the Lord belongs,
His presence guards his people's path.
Montgomery.

4. FIRST PART. L. M.—Sterling.
A prayer-hearing God, our portion and hope.

p 1 O GOD of grace and righteousness,
Hear and attend when I complain:
Thou didst deliver from distress,
Bow down thy gracious ear again.

11 2 Ye sons of men, in vain ye try
To turn my glory into shame:
How long will scoffers love to lie,
And dare reproach my Saviour's name?

3 Know that the Lord divides his saints
From all the tribes of men beside;
di He hears and pities their complaints,
For the dear sake of Christ that died.

4 When our obedient hands have done
A thousand works of righteousness,
We put our trust in God alone,
cr And glory in his pard'ning grace.

5 Let the unthinking many say,
"Who will bestow some earthly good?"
But, Lord, thy light and love we pray;
Our souls desire this heavenly food.

4. SECOND PART. L. M.—Duke-street.
Protection from scoffers.

1 HOW long, ye sons of men, will ye
The servant of the Lord despise,
Delight yourselves with vanity,
And trust in refuges of lies?

2 Know that the Lord hath set apart
The godly man in every age;
He loves a meek and lowly heart—
His people are his heritage.

sne 3 Then stand in awe, nor dare to sin;
d Commune with your own heart; be still:
The Lord requireth truth within;
The sacrifice of mind and will.

Montgomery

4. THIRD PART. C. M.—Barby.
Evening.

1 LORD, thou wilt hear me when I pray
I am for ever thine:
I fear before thee all the day,
Nor would I dare to sin.

2 And while I rest my weary head
From care and business free,
'Tis sweet conversing on my bed
With my own heart and thee.

3 I pay this evening sacrifice;
And when my work is done,
cr Great God, my faith, my hope relies Upon thy grace alone.

v 4 Thus, with my thoughts composed to peace,
I give my eyes to sleep;
Thy hand in safety keeps my days,
And will my slumbers keep.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Colchester.
For the Lord's day morning.

1 LORD, in the morning thou shalt hear
My voice ascending high:
To thee will I direct my prayer,
To thee lift up mine eye:

cr 2 Up to the hills where Christ is gone,
To plead for all his saints,
Presenting at his Father's throne
Our songs and our complaints.

p. m 3 Thou art a God before whose sight
The wicked shall not stand;
Sinners shall ne'er be thy delight,
Nor dwell at thy right hand.

vi. f 4 But to thy house will I resort,
To taste thy mercies there;
I will frequent thy holy court,
And worship in thy fear.

p 5 Oh may thy spirit guide my feet
In ways of righteousness:
Make every path of duty straight,
And plain before my face.

PAUSE.—Dunchurch.

uff 6 My watchful enemies combine
To tempt my feet astray:
They flatter, with a base design,
To make my soul their prey.

ex 7 The Lord will crush them in the dust,
And all their plots destroy;
While those that in his mercy trust
For ever shout for joy.

di 8 The men that love and fear thy name Shall see their hopes fulfill'd;
cr The mighty God will compass them
With favour as a shield.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Colchester.
Same subject.

1 SOON as the morning rays appear
I'll lift my eyes above;
My voice shall reach thy list'ning ear,
And supplicate thy love.

2 Within thy house my voice shall rise
Before thy mercy-seat;
There will I fix my steadfast eyes,
And worship at thy feet.

3 Thy righteousness, thy strength display,
And my protection be:
Teach me to know that only way,
Which leads to heaven and thee.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Windsor.
Complaint in sickness.

aff 1 IN anger, Lord, rebuke me not:
Withhold the dreadful storm,
If thy displeasure waxes hot,
'Twill crush thy feeble worm.

2 My soul's bow'd down with heavy cares,
My flesh with pain oppress'd;
My couch is witness to my tears,
My tears forbid my rest.

3 Sorrow and pain wear out my days;
I waste the night with cries,
And count the minutes as they pass,
Till the slow morning rise.

4 Shall I be still afflicted more?
My eyes consumed with grief?
ex How long, my God, how long before
Thy hand afford relief?

5 Oh, hear, while dust and ashes speak,
p Restore my fainting breath;
cr And save me, for thy mercy's sake,
di From the dark shades of death.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Windsor.
Prayer under rebukes.

aff 1 IN mercy, not in wrath, rebuke
Thy feeble worm, O God;
My spirit dreads thine angry look,
And trembles at thy rod.

p 2 Have mercy, Lord, for I am weak;
Regard my humble cry:
Oh let thy voice of comfort speak,
And bring salvation nigh.

cr 3 Oh come, and show thy power to save,
And spare my fainting breath;
For who can praise thee in the grave,
Or sing thy name in death?

" 4 Satan, my cruel envious foe,
Insults me in my pain;
He smiles to see me brought so low,
And tells me hope is vain.

f 5 But hence, thou enemy, depart,
Nor tempt me to despair;
My Saviour comes to cheer my heart;
The Lord has heard my prayer.

Newton.

THIRD PART. L. M.—Darwen.
Same subject.

aff 1 LORD, I can suffer thy rebukes
When thou with kindness dost chastise;
But thy fierce wrath I cannot bear,
Oh let it not against me rise.

p 2 Pity my languishing estate,
And ease the sorrow that I feel;
cr The wounds thy heavy hand hath made,
di Oh let thy gentler touches heal.

3 See how I pass my weary days
In sighs and groans!—and when 'tis night,
My bed is water'd with my tears;
My grief consumes and dims my sight.

4 Look how the powers of nature mourn!
How long, Almighty God, how long?
cr When shall thine hour of grace return?
When shall I make thy grace my song?

f 5 Depart, ye tempters, from my soul,
And all despairing thoughts depart;
My God, who hears my humble moan,
Will ease my flesh and cheer my heart

C. M.—Barby.

God's care of his people, and punishment of persecutors.

aff 1 MY trust is in my heavenly Friend,
My hope in thee, my God,
Rise, and my helpless life defend
From those that seek my blood ag 2 With insolence and fury, they Would now my body tear,

As hungry lions rend the prey
When no deliv'rer's near.

p 3 If I indulge in thoughts unjust,
And wish and seek their wo;
Then let them tread my life to dust,
And lay mine honor low.

" 4 If there were malice hid in me—
I know thy piercing eyes—
I should not dare appeal to thee,
Nor ask my God to rise.

cr 5 Arise, my God, lift up thine hand,
Their pride and power control;
f Awake to judgment, and command
Deliv'rance to my soul.

di 6 The cruel persecuting race
Must turn, or feel thy sword:
cr Awake, my soul, and praise the grace
And justice of the Lord.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Barby.

Christ's condescension and glorification: or, God made man

1 O LORD, our Lord, how wondrous great
Is thine exalted name!
The glories of thy heavenly state
Let men and babes proclaim.

2 When I behold thy works on high,
The moon that rules the night,
And stars that well adorn the sky,
Those moving worlds of light;

p 3 Lord, what is man or all his race,
Who dwells so far below,
That thou shouldst visit him with grace,
And love his nature so?

er 4 That thine eternal Son should bear
To take a mortal form,
Made lower than his angels are,
To save a dying worm?

5 Yet while he lived on earth unknown,
And men would not adore,
f The waves and stormy winds did own
His Godhead and his power.

6 Let him be crown'd with majesty di Who bow'd his head in death;
ff And be his honors sounded high
By all things that have breath.

8. SECOND PART. C. M.—Arlington.
Same subject.

1 O LORD, my King, how excellent
Thy name on earth is known!
Thy glory in the firmament,
How wonderfully shown!

2 When I behold the heavens on high,
The work of thy right hand;
The moon and stars amid the sky,
Thy lights in every land:—

ex 3 Lord, what is man, that thou shouldst deign
On him to set thy love?
Give him on earth awhile to reign,
Then fill a throne above?

f 4 O Lord, how excellent thy name!
How manifold thy ways!
Let time thy saving truth proclaim,
Eternity thy praise.

Montgomery.

8. THIRD PART. L. M.—Uxbridge.
Infant hosannas.

1 ALMIGHTY Ruler of the skies,
Through the wide earth thy name is spread;
And thine eternal glories rise
O'er all the heavens thy hands have made.

p 2 To thee the voices of the young
A monument of honor raise;
And infants, with their lisping tongue,
Declare the wonders of thy praise.

3 Thy power ordains their tender age cr To bring proud rebels to the ground;
f To still the bold blasphemer's rage,
And all their policies confound.

4 Children amid thy temple throng,
To see their great Redeemer's face:
The Son of David is their song:
And sweet hosannas fill the place.

8. FOURTH PART. L. M.—Quito.
Adam and Christ, lords of the old and new creation.

1 LORD, what was man, when made at first,
Adam the offspring of the dust,
That thou shouldst set him and his race
But just below an angel's place?

cr 2 That thou shouldst raise his nature so,
And make him lord of all below—
Make every earthly thing submit,
And pay their homage at his feet?

f.ex 3 But oh what brighter glories wait
To crown the second Adam's state!
What honors shall thy Son obtain,
Who came to rescue sinful men!

p 4 See him below his angels made,
p. p See him entomb'd among the dead,
cr To save a ruin'd world from sin!
f But he shall reign with power divine.

5 The world to come, redeem'd from all
The miseries that attend the fall,
New made and glorious, shall submit
At our exalted Saviour's feet.

8. FIFTH PART. L. M.—Rothwell.
Christ's condescension and glorification.

f 1 O LORD, our Lord, in power divine
How great is thy illustrious name!
Through all the earth thy glories shine,
Placed high above the heavenly frame.

di 2 Down from his throne thy Son descends,
A little time our form to wear;
p Beneath th' angelic hosts he bends,
ex Our suff'rings and our sins to bear.

f 3 But, lo! thy power exalts him high,
In glorious dignity enthroned:
He bears our nature to the sky:
O'er all thy works the Ruler crown'd.

ff 4 Jesus, our Lord, in power divine,
How great is thy illustrious name!
Through all the earth thy glories shine;
Let the whole earth resound thy fame.
Pratt's Coll.

9. FIRST PART. C. M.—Barby. St. Ann's.
Judgment and mercy.

f 1 WITH my whole heart I'll raise my song,
Thy wonders I'll proclaim:
Thou, Sovereign Judge of right and wrong,
Wilt put my foes to shame.

2 I'll sing thy majesty and grace;
My God prepares his throne
To judge the world in righteousness,
And make his justice known.

di 3 Yet shall the Lord a refuge prove
For all the poor oppress'd,
To save the people of his love,
p And give the weary rest.

cr 4 The men who know thy name will trust
In thy abundant grace;
For thou didst ne'er forsake the just,
Who humbly sought thy face.

f 5 Sing praises to the righteous Lord,
Who dwells on Zion's hill;
Who executes his threat'ning word,
And doth his grace fulfil.

9. SECOND PART. C. M.—Barby.
Wisdom and equity of Providence.

f 1 WHEN the great Judge, supreme and just,
Shall once inquire for blood,
p The humble souls that mourn in dust cr Shall find a faithful God.

ex 2 Thy thunders shall affright the proud,
And put their hearts to pain;
Make them confess that thou art God,
p And they but sinful men.

cr 3 Thus, by thy judgments, mighty God,
Are thy deep counsels known:
When men of mischief are destroy'd,
The snare must be their own.

p 4 Though saints to sore distress are brought,
m And wait, and long complain,
Their cries shall never be forgot,
Nor shall their hopes be vain.

f 5 Rise, great Redeemer, from thy seat,
To judge and save the poor;
Let nations tremble at thy feet,
And man prevail no more 10.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Windsor.
For a day of humiliation.

aff 1 WHY doth the Lord stand off so far,
And why conceal his face,
When great calamities appear,
And times of deep distress?

2 Lord, shall the wicked still deride
Thy justice and thy power?
cr Shall they advance their heads in pride,
And still thy saints devour?

di 3 They put thy judgments from their sight,
And then insult the poor;
cr They boast, in their exalted height,
That they shall fall no more.

f 4 Arise, O God, lift up thy hand,
p Attend our humble cry;
cr No enemy shall dare to stand
When God ascends on high.

PAUSE.

Oppression punished.

5 Why do the men of malice rage,
And say, with foolish pride,
"The God of heav'n will ne'er engage
To fight on Zion's side."

6 But thou for ever art our Lord,
And powerful is thy hand,
cr As when the heathen felt thy sword,
And perish'd from thy land.

di 7 God will prepare our hearts to pray,
And bow his ear to hear:
Accept the vows thy children pay,
And free thy saints from fear.

SECOND PART. L. M.—Luther's Hymn.
Jehovah the avenger of the oppressed.

f 1 JEHOVAH reigns; your tribute bring;
Proclaim the Lord, th' Eternal King:
Crown him, ye saints, with holy joy,
His arm shall all your foes destroy.

di 2 The Lord shall save th' afflicted breast,
His arm shall vindicate th' oppress'd:
cr Earth's mightiest tyrant feel his power,
Nor sin nor Satan grieve them more.

p 3 Thy Spirit shall our hearts prepare;
Thine ear shall listen to our prayer:
f Thou righteous Judge, thou Power divine, di On thee our helpless souls recline.
Pratt's Coll

11.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Uxbridge
God loves the righteous and hates the wicked.

1 MY refuge is the God of love;
Why do my foes insult and cry,
cr "Fly like a tim'rous trembling dove,
To distant woods and mountains fly?"

[2 If government be all destroy'd,
That firm foundation of our peace,
And violence make justice void,
Where shall the righteous seek redress?]

di 3 The Lord in heaven hath fix'd his throne
His eye surveys the world below;
To him all mortal things are known,
His eyelids search our spirits through.

f 4 If he afflicts the saints so far,
To prove their love and try their grace.
cr What must the bold transgressors fear?
f His very soul abhors their ways.

ag [5 Upon the wicked he will rain
Tempests of brimstone, fire, and death,
Such as he kindled on the plain Of Sodom with his angry breath.]

di 6 The righteous Lord loves righteous souls, Whose thoughts and actions are sincere;
And with a gracious eye beholds
The men that his own image bear.

11.

SECOND PART. C. M.—St. Ann's. Barby.
Same subject.

1 THE Lord is in his holy place,
And from his throne on high,
He looks upon the human race
With omnipresent eye.

2 He proves the righteous, marks their path;
In him the weak are strong:
cr But violence provokes his wrath;
The Lord abhorreth wrong.

ag 3 God on the wicked will rain down
Brimstone, and fire, and snares;
The gloom and tempest of his frown!
This portion shall be theirs.

pi 4 The righteous Lord will take delight Alone in righteousness;
The just are pleasing in his sight;
The humble he will bless.

Montgomery.

12.

C. M.—Barby. ex.
General corruption a sign of Christ's coming.

" 1 HELP, Lord, for men of virtue fail,
Religion loses ground:
The sons of violence prevail,
And treacheries abound.

2 Their oaths and promises they break;
They act the flatt'rers part:
With fair deceitful lips, they speak,
But with a double heart.

[3 Scoffers appear on every side,
While a vile race of men
Is raised to seats of power and pride,
To bear the sword in vain.]

cr 4 Lord, when iniquities abound,
And blasphemy grows bold;
When faith is rarely to be found,
And love is waxing cold;

vi 5 Is not thy chariot hastening on?
Hast thou not given the sign?
May we not trust and live upon
A promise so divine?

ff 6 Yes, saith the Lord, I now will rise,
And make oppressors flee;
I shall appear to their surprise,
And set my servants free.

[7 Thy word, like silver seven times tried,
Through ages shall endure;
The men that in thy truth confide,
Shall find the promise sure.]

FIRST PART. L. M.—Derby.
Hope in darkness.

aff 1 HOW long, O Lord, shall I complain,
Like one that seeks his God in vain?
Wilt thou thy face for ever hide?
Shall I still pray and be denied?

2 Shall I for ever be forgot, di Like one whom thou regardest not?
cr Still shall my soul thine absence mourn?
And still despair of thy return?

[3 How long shall my poor troubled breast
Be with these anxious thoughts oppress'd
And Satan, my malicious foe,
Rejoice to see me sunk so low?]

di 4 Hear, Lord, and grant me quick relief,
Before my death concludes my grief;
If thou withhold thy heavenly light,
pp I sleep in everlasting night.

f 5 How will the powers of darkness boast
If but one praying soul be lost!
di But I have trusted in thy grace,
And shall again behold thy face.

cr 6 Whate'er my fears or foes suggest,
Thou art my hope, my joy, my rest;
—f My heart shall feel thy love, and raise
My cheerful voice to songs of praise.

13. SECOND PART. C. M.—Windsor. Barby. ex.

Temptation—Complaint.

aff 1 HOW long wilt thou conceal thy face
My God, how long delay?
When shall I feel those heavenly rays
That chase my fears away?

2 How long shall my poor lab'ring soul
Wrestle and toil in vain?
cr Thy word can all my foes control,
And ease my raging pain.

3 Be thou my sun, and thou my shield,
My soul in safety keep;
vi Make haste, before mine eyes are seal'd pp In death's eternal sleep.

[4 How would the tempter boast aloud
Should I become his prey!
How are his legions waxing proud
At thy so long delay!]

vi [5 But they shall fly at thy rebuke,
And Satan hide his head:
He knows the terrors of thy look,
And hears thy voice with dread.]

6 Thou wilt display that sovereign grace
Whence all my comforts spring;
f I shall employ my lips in praise,
And thy salvation sing.

13. THIRD PART. 7's.—Pleyel's Hymn.

Pleading for help.

aff 1 LORD of mercy, just and kind,
Wilt thou not my guilt forgive?
Never shall my troubled mind
In thy kind remembrance live?

2 Lord, how long shall Satan's art
Tempt my harass'd soul to sin?
Triumph o'er my bleeding heart,
Fears without and guilt within?

3 Lord, my God, thine ear incline,
Bending to the prayer of faith;
cr Cheer my eyes with light divine,
p Lest I sleep the sleep of death.

ex 4 On thy mercy I rely;
Mercy, heavenly Lord, impart:
Mercy brings salvation nigh;
Mercy shall rejoice my heart.

cr 5 Lord, I lift my heart in praise
All thy bounty to adore;
f From eternity thy grace
Flows increasing evermore.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Peterborough.
Human depravity.

" 1 FOOLS, in their hearts, believe and say
That "all religion's vain;
There is no God that reigns on high,
Or minds th' affairs of men."

[2 From thoughts so dreadful and profane, Corrupt discourse proceeds;
And in their impious hands are found,
Abominable deeds.]

3 The Lord, from his celestial throne,
Look'd down on things below;
To find the man that sought his grace,
Or did his justice know.

4 By nature all are gone astray,
Their practice all the same;
There's none that fears his Maker's hand,
There's none that loves his name.

5 Their tongues are used to speak deceit,
Their slanders never cease;
cr How swift to mischief are their feet!
Nor know the paths of peace.

6 Such seeds of sin, that bitter root,
In every heart are found;
Nor can we bear diviner fruit
'Till grace refine the ground.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Barby. ex.
Folly of persecutors.

aff 1 ARE sinners now so harden'd grown
That they the saints devour?
And never worship at thy throne,
Nor fear thine awful power?

ag 2 Great God, appear to their surprise,
Reveal thy dreadful name;
Let them no more thy wrath despise, di Nor turn our hope to shame.

p 3 Dost thou not dwell among the just?
And yet our foes deride
That we should make thy name our trust?
ex Great God, confound their pride.

f 4 Oh, that the joyful day were come
To finish our distress!
When God shall bring his children home
Our songs shall never cease.

15. FIRST PART. C. M.—Peterborough. Arlington.

Traits of a Christian character.

p 1 WHO shall inhabit in thy hill,
O God of holiness?
Whom will the Lord admit to dwell
So near his throne of grace?

2 The man who walks in pious ways,
And works with righteous hands;
Who trusts his Maker's promises,
And follows his commands:—

3 He speaks the meaning of his heart,
Nor slanders with his tongue;
Will scarce believe an ill report,
Nor do his neighbor wrong;

4 The wealthy sinner he contemns,
Loves all who fear the Lord;
And though to his own hurt he swears,
Still he performs his word;

5 His hands disdain a golden bribe,
And never wrong the poor:—
cr This man shall dwell with God on earth,
And find his heaven secure.

15. SECOND PART. L. M.—Uxbridge. Duke-street.

Same subject.

p 1 WHO shall ascend thy holy place,
Great God, and dwell so near thy face?—
The man who loves religion now,
And humbly walks with God below:

2 Whose hands are pure, whose heart is clean;
Whose lips still speak the thing they mean
No slanders dwell upon his tongue;
He hates to do his neighbor wrong.

ex 3 He loves his enemies, and prays
For those who curse him to his face;
And does to all men still the same
That he would hope or wish from them.

⌒4 Yet when his holiest works are done,
His soul depends on grace alone:—
cr This is the man thy face shall see,
And dwell for ever, Lord, with thee.

15.

THIRD PART. L. M.—Sterling.
Who shall reach heaven.

1 BUT who shall reach thine holy place,
Or who, O Lord, ascend thine hill?
The pure in heart shall see thy face;
The man that seeks to do thy will.

" 2 He who to bribes hath closed his hand,
To idols never bent the knee;
Nor sworn in falsehood;—he shall stand,
Redeemed by grace. and kept by Thee.
Montgomery.

16.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Quito.
Humility.

aff 1 PRESERVE me, Lord, in time of need,
For succor to thy throne I flee;
But have no merits there to plead;
My goodness cannot reach to thee.

2 Oft have my heart and tongue confess'd
How empty and how poor I am;
My praise can never make thee blest,
Nor add new glories to thy name.

" 3 Yet, Lord, thy saints on earth may reap
Some profit by the good they do;
These are the company I keep,
These are the choicest friends I know.

cr 4 Let others choose the sons of earth,
f And give their hours to noise and wine di I love the men of heavenly birth,
Whose thoughts and language are divine

16. SECOND PART. L. M.—Luton. ex.

Christ's all-sufficiency.

aff 1 HOW fast their guilt and sorrows rise,
Who haste to seek some idol god!
I will not taste their sacrifice,
Their off'rings of forbidden blood.

cr 2 My God provides a richer cup,
And nobler food to live upon:
ex He for my life has offer'd up
Jesus, his well beloved Son.

d 3 His love is my perpetual feast,
By day his counsels guide me right:
And be his name for ever blest,
Who gives me sweet advice by night.

cr 4 I set him still before mine eyes;
At my right hand he stands prepared
To keep my soul from all surprise,
And be my everlasting guard.

16. THIRD PART. L. M.—Luther's Hymn.

Hope in the resurrection.

f 1 WHEN God is nigh, my faith is strong;
His arm is my almighty prop:
Be glad, my heart—rejoice, my tongue;
di My dying flesh shall rest in hope.

p 2 Though in the dust I lay my head,
Yet, gracious God, thou wilt not leave
My soul for ever with the dead,
Nor lose thy children in the grave.

f" 3 My flesh shall thy first call obey,
Shake off the dust and rise on high;
Then shalt thou lead the wondrous way,
Up to thy throne above the sky.

ff 4 There streams of endless pleasure flow,
And full discov'ries of thy grace:
Joys we but tasted here below,
Spread heavenly raptures through the place.

16. FOURTH PART. C. M.—Moravian.

God our portion.

1 LET heathens to their idols haste,
And worship wood or stone;
cr But my delightful lot is cast
Where the true God is known.

di 2 His hand provides my constant food;
He fills my daily cup:
Much am I pleased with present good,
But more rejoice in hope.

cr 3 God is my portion and my joy,
My strength and my delight;
He gives me counsel every day,
And sweet advice by night.

di 4 My soul would all her thoughts approve
To his all-seeing eye:
cr Not death nor hell my hope shall move,
While such a friend is nigh.

16. FIFTH PART. C. M.—Dunchurch.

Resurrection of Christ.

p 1 "I SET the Lord before my face,
He bears my courage up;
My heart and tongue their joys express;
My flesh shall rest in hope.

di 2 "My spirit, Lord, thou wilt not leave Where souls departed are;
Nor quit my body in the grave,
To see corruption there.

cr 3 "Thou wilt reveal the path of life,
And raise me to thy throne;
f Thy courts immortal pleasures give,
Thy presence, joys unknown."

PAUSE.

p 4 Thus in the name of Christ, the Lord,
The holy David sung;
And Providence fulfils the word
Of his prophetic tongue.

p 5 Jesus, whom every saint adores,
Was crucified and slain:
cr Behold, the tomb its prey restores!
f Behold, he lives again!

vi 6 When shall my feet arise and stand
On heaven's eternal hills?
There sits the Son at God's right hand di And there the Father smiles.

17. FIRST PART. S. M.—Aylesbury
Portion of saints, and of sinners.

f 1 ARISE, my gracious God,
And make the wicked flee!
They are but thy chastising rod
To drive thy saints to thee.

pp 2 Behold, the sinner dies,
cr His haughty words are vain;
Here in this life his pleasure lies,
And all beyond is pain.

f 3 Then let his pride advance,
And boast of all his store, d The Lord is my inheritance,
My soul can wish no more.

p 4 I shall behold the face
Of my forgiving God,
cr And stand complete in righteousness,
Wash'd in my Saviour's blood.

17. SECOND PART. L. M.—Old Hundred. ex.
Portion of saints.

1 LORD, I am thine; but thou wilt prove
My faith, my patience, and my love;
When men of spite against me join,
They are the sword, the hand is thine.

[2 Their hope and portion lie below;
'Tis all the happiness they know;
'Tis all they seek: they take their shares,
And leave the rest among their heirs.]

l 3 What sinners value, I resign;
cr Lord, 'tis enough that thou art mine:
di I shall behold thy blissful face,
cr And stand complete in righteousness.

m.p 4 This life's a dream, an empty show;
cr But the bright world to which I go,
Hath joys substantial and sincere;
f When shall I wake and find me there?

5 O glorious hour! O blest abode!
p I shall be near, and like my God;
cr And flesh and sin no more control
The sacred pleasures of the soul.

pp 6 My flesh shall slumber in the ground
cr 'Till the last trumpet's joyful sound;
vi. f Then burst the chains, with sweet surprise
And in my Saviour's image rise.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Luton. ex.
Deliverance from temptation and despair.

1 THEE will I love, O Lord, my strength,
My rock, my tower, my high defence;
Thy mighty arm shall be my trust,
For I have found salvation thence.

ag" 2 Death, and the terrors of the grave,
Stood round me with their dismal shade;
While floods of high temptation rose,
And made my sinking soul afraid.

3 I saw the op'ning gates of hell,
With endless pains and sorrows there,
Which none, but they that feel, can tell;
While I was hurried to despair.

p 4 In my distress I call'd my God,
When I could scarce believe him mine,
He bow'd his ear to my complaint,
cr Then did his grace appear divine.

f 5 My song for ever shall record
That terrible, that joyful hour;
And give the glory to the Lord,
Due to his mercy and his power.

SECOND PART. L. M.—Uxbridge.
Sincerity rewarded.

1 LORD, thou hast seen my soul sincere,
Hast made thy truth and love appear;
Before mine eyes I set thy laws,
And thou hast own'd my righteous cause.

[2 Since I have learn'd thy holy ways,
I've walk'd upright before thy face;
Or if my feet did e'er depart,
'Twas not with a presumptuous heart]

ex 3 What sore temptations broke my rest!
What wars and strugglings in my breast!
But through thy grace that reigns within
I guard against each darling sin.

" 4 The sin that close besets me still,
That works and strives against my will;
When shall thy Spirit's sovereign power
Destroy it, that it rise no more?

5 With an impartial hand, the Lord
Deals out to mortals their reward;
The kind and faithful soul shall find
A God more faithful and more kind.

6 The just and pure shall ever say Thou art more pure, more just, than they
f. ex But men that love revenge shall know
God hath an arm of vengeance too.

THIRD PART. L. M.—Park-street.
Rejoicing in triumph.

" 1 JUST are thy ways, and true thy word,
Great Rock of my secure abode;
Who is a God besides the Lord?
And where's a refuge like our God?

2 'Tis he that girds me with his might,
Gives me his holy sword to wield,
And, while with sin and hell I fight,
Spreads his salvation for my shield.

3 He lives, and blessed be my Rock, cr The God of my salvation lives;
The dark designs of hell are broke:
—p Great is the peace my Father gives.

18.

FOURTH PART. C. M.—Colchester.
Victory over temporal enemies.

d 1 WE love thee, Lord, and we adore:
Now is thine arm reveal'd;
Thou art our strength, our heavenly tower
Our bulwark and our shield.

cr 2 We fly to our eternal Rock,
And find a sure defence:
His holy name our lips invoke,
And draw salvation thence.

f 3 When God, our leader, shines in arms,
What mortal heart can bear
f. ex The thunder of his loud alarms,
The lightning of his spear?

vi 4 He rides upon the winged wind;
And angels in array,
In millions wait to know his mind,
And swift as flames obey.

m 5 He speaks, and at his fierce rebuke ff Whole armies are dismay'd;
His voice, his power, his angry look,
Strike all their courage dead.

di 6 Oft has the Lord whole nations bless'd
For his own children's sake;
The powers, that give his people rest,
Shall of his care partake.

FIFTH PART. 10's.—Portsea. New 50th.
Applied to the American Revolution.

f 1 TO bless the Lord our God in strains divine,
With thankful hearts and raptur'd voices join:
To us what wonders his right hand hath shown,
Mercies his chosen tribes have scarcely known:
Like David blest, begin th' enraptur'd song, cr Let praise and joy awaken every tongue.

f 2 When, fir'd to rage, against our nation rose Chiefs of proud name, and bands of haughty foes,
He train'd our hosts to fight, with arms array'd,
With health invigor'd, and with bounty fed,
Gave us a chosen chief our sons to guide,
p Heard every prayer, and every want supplied.

cr 3 No more against our land let strangers rise,
To fade and fall beneath th' avenging skies;
Let the fierce legions yield to happier sway,
The groping savage hail the gospel day.
Low sink the proud, the men of blood be slain
Nor injur'd Zion lift her cries in vain.

cr⁀ 4 But O, thou Power belov'd! our shores around
Be every virtue, every blessing found:
" Here bid thy seasons crown the fruitful plain;
Here bid fair peace extend her blissful reign;
Let laws, let justice hold perpetual sway,
The soul unfetter'd and the conscience free.

5 With clearest splendor, here, let knowledge shine,
Here, every glory beam from truth divine;
di To Jesus' call, the soul obsequious bend;
Grace from thy Spirit in rich showers descend;
cr Till nations shall become thy bright abode,
f And boundless praise unceasing rise to God.
Dwight.

19.

FIRST PART. S. M.—Watchman.
Language of nature and the Bible.

1 BEHOLD, the lofty sky
Declares its maker, God;
And all the starry works on high
Proclaim his power abroad.

2 The darkness and the light
Still keep their course the same;
While night to day, and day to night,
Divinely teach his name.

di 3 In every diff'rent land,
Their gen'ral voice is known:
cr They show the wonders of his hand,
And orders of his throne.

f 4 Let Christian lands rejoice,
Where he reveals his word;
They are not left to nature's voice,
To bid them know the Lord.

" 5 His laws are just and pure,
His truth without deceit;
His promises for ever sure,
And his rewards are great.

[6 While of thy works I sing,
Thy glory to proclaim;
Accept the praise, my God, my King
In my Redeemer's name.]

19. SECOND PART. S. M.—Clapton.
The Bible—watchfulness, &c.—for the Lord's day morning

1 BEHOLD, the morning sun Begins his glorious way:
cr His beams through all the nations run,
And life and light convey.

2 But where the gospel comes,
It spreads diviner light:
f It calls dead sinners from their tombs,
And gives the blind their sight.

di 3 How perfect is thy word,
And all thy judgments just!
For ever sure thy promise, Lord;
And men securely trust.

4 My gracious God, how plain
Are thy directions giv'n;
O, may I never read in vain,
But find the path to heav'n.

PAUSE.

5 I hear thy word with love,
And I would fain obey:
Send thy good Spirit from above.
To guide me, lest I stray.

aff 6 O, who can ever find
The errors of his ways?
Yet, with a bold presumptuous mind,
I would not dare transgress.

7 Warn me of ev'ry sin;
p Forgive my secret faults:
And cleanse this guilty soul of mine,
cr Whose crimes exceed my thoughts.

8 While with my heart and tongue
I spread thy praise abroad;
f Accept the worship and the song,
My Saviour and my God.

19. THIRD PART. L. M.—Rothwell. Sterling.
The book of nature and the gospel compared.

1 THE heav'ns declare thy glory, Lord
In ev'ry star thy wisdom shines;
But, when our eyes behold thy word,
We read thy name in fairer lines.

2 The rolling sun, the changing light,
And nights and days, thy power confess;
But the blest volume thou hast writ,
Reveals thy justice and thy grace.

3 Sun, moon, and stars, convey thy praise
Round the whole earth, and never stand;
So when thy truth began its race,
It touch'd and glanc'd on every land.

4 Nor shall thy spreading gospel rest,
Till through the world thy truth has run;
Till Christ has all the nations bless'd,
That see the light, or feel the sun.

f 5 Great Sun of Righteousness, arise!
Bless the dark world with heav'nly light!
Thy gospel makes the simple wise,
Thy laws are pure, thy judgments right.

6 Thy noblest wonders here we view,
aff In souls renew'd, and sins forgiv'n;
Lord, cleanse my sins, my soul renew,
And make thy word my guide to heav'n.

19.

FOURTH PART. L. M.—Park-street.

Language of the starry heavens.

1 THE spacious firmament on high,
With all the blue ethereal sky,
And spangled heav'ns, a shining frame,
cr Their great Original proclaim.

2 Th' unwearied sun from day to day,
Does his Creator's power display;
And publishes to every land,
The work of an Almighty hand.

3 Soon as the evening shades prevail,
The moon takes up the wondrous tale;
And nightly, to the list'ning earth,
Repeats the story of her birth;—

4 While all the stars that round her burn,
And all the planets in their turn,
Confirm the tidings as they roll,
cr And spread the truth from pole to pole.

pp 5 What, though in solemn silence, all Move round this dark terrestrial ball—
What, though nor real voice nor sound,
Amid their radiant orbs is found?

cr 6 In reason's ear they all rejoice,
f And utter forth a glorious voice,
For ever singing as they shine,
"The hand that made us is divine."
Addison.

19.

FIFTH PART. L. M.—Sterling.
Starry heavens.

tt 1 THY glory, Lord, the heav'ns declare,
The firmament displays thy skill:
The changing clouds, the viewless air,
Tempest and calm, thy word fulfil.

p 2 Though voice nor sound inform the ear,
Well known the language of their song,
When one by one the stars appear,
pp Led by the silent moon along.

f 3 Wak'd by thy touch, the morning sun
Comes like a bridegroom from his bow'r,
And like a giant, glad to run
His bright career with speed and pow'r.

4 While these transporting beauties shine,
Gems of the great creation's Lord:
ff Glory eternal, joy divine,
Spring from the treasures of thy word.
Montgomery.

19.

SIXTH PART. L. P. M.—St. Helen's.
The scriptures.

tt 1 I LOVE the volume of thy word;
What light and joy those leaves afford
To souls benighted and distress'd!
Thy precepts guide my doubtful way,
Thy fear forbids my feet to stray,
Thy promise leads my heart to rest.

2 From the discov'ries of thy law
The perfect rules of life I draw;
These are my study and delight:
Not honey so invites the taste;
Nor gold that hath the furnace pass'd,
Appears so pleasing to the sight.

f 3 Thy threat'nings wake my slumb'ring eyes,
And warn me where my danger lies;

di But 'tis thy blessed gospel, Lord,
That makes my guilty conscience clean,
Converts my soul, subdues my sin,
And gives a free but large reward.

aff 4 Who knows the error of his thoughts?
My God, forgive my secret faults,
And from presumptuous sin restrain· cr Accept my poor attempts to praise,
That I have read thy book of grace,
And book of nature, not in vain.

19.

SEVENTH PART. C. M.—Barby.
God's laws and statutes, &c.

1 THY law is perfect, Lord of light,
Thy testimonies sure:
The statutes of thy realm are right,
And thy commandments pure.

2 Holy, inviolate, thy fear,
Enduring as thy throne;
Thy judgments, chast'ning or severe,
Justice and truth alone.

3 Let these, O God, my soul convert,
And make thy servant wise;
f Let these be gladness to my heart,
The day-spring to mine eyes.

aff 4 By these, may I be warn'd betimes;
Who knows the guile within?
Lord, save me from presumptuous crimes
Cleanse me from secret sin.

5 So may the words my lips express,
The thoughts that throng my mind,
O Lord, my strength and righteousness,
With thee acceptance find.

Montgomery.

FIRST PART L. M.—Duke-street.
Prayer and hope of victory in time of defensive war.

aff 1 NOW may the God of pow'r and grace
Attend his people's humble cry;
Jehovah hears when Israel prays,
And brings deliv'rance from on high.

[2 The name of Jacob's God defends
Better than shields or brazen walls;
He from his sanctuary sends Succor and strength, when Zion calls.]

3 Well he remembers all our sighs,
His love exceeds our best deserts;
His love accepts the sacrifice
Of humble groans and broken hearts.

[4 In his salvation is our hope;
And in the name of Israel's God
Our troops shall lift their banners up,
While foes invade us from abroad.]

5 Some trust in horses train'd for war,
And some of chariots make their boast,
Our surest expectations are
From God who rules the heav'nly host ex 6 O, save us, Lord, from slavish fear;

Now let our hopes be firm and strong:
Till thy salvation shall appear,
f And joy and triumph raise the song.

20.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Dunchurch.
Christ's prevailing intercession.

1 THE Lord unto thy prayer attend,
In trouble's darkest hour;
cr The name of Jacob's God defend
And shield thee by his power.

f 2 In thy salvation we'll rejoice,
And triumph in the Lord;
For when in prayer God hears thy voice
He will relief afford.

p 3 In chariots and on horses, some
For aid and shelter flee;
f But in thy name, O Lord, we come,
And will remember thee.

4 O Lord, to us salvation bring;
In thee alone we trust;
Hear us, O God, our heav'nly King;
Thou refuge of the just!

21. FIRST PART. L. M.—Park-street.

Christ exalted to the Kingdom.

tr 1 DAVID rejoic'd in God, his strength, Rais'd to the throne by special grace;
cr But Christ, the Son, appears at length, Fulfils the triumph and the praise.

f 2 How great is the Messiah's joy,
In the salvation of thy hand!
Lord, thou hast rais'd his kingdom high,
And giv'n the world to his command.

3 Around his sacred temples shine
Th' Eternal's uncreated rays:
All power is his, and grace divine,
And length of everlasting days.

ex 4 And as a fiery oven glows
With raging heat and burning coals;
cr Thy vengeance shall consume his foes,
Thy wrath devour their guilty souls.

21. SECOND PART. C. M.—New Cambridge.

Pious rulers are the care of heaven.

1 OUR rulers, Lord, with songs of praise
Should in thy strength rejoice;
And blest with thy salvation, raise
To heav'n their cheerful voice.

2 Oh, let them now on God rely,
For wisdom and for grace;
His mercy shall their wants supply,
And save our happy race.

3 Thy wondrous power thou wilt declare,
And still exalt thy fame;
While we glad songs of praise prepare,
For thine Almighty name.

21 THIRD PART. C. M.—Dunchurch.

Acknowledgment of national blessings.

f 1 IN thee, great God, with songs of praise,
Our favor'd realms rejoice;
And blest with thy salvation, raise
To heav'n their cheerful voice.

2 Thy sure defence, from foes around,
Hath spread our rising name;
And all our feeble efforts crown'd
With freedom and with fame.

aff 3 In deep distress our injur'd land
Implor'd thy power to save;
For life we pray'd; thy bounteous hand
The timely blessing gave.

cr 4 On thee, in want, or wo, or pain,
Our hearts alone rely;
Our rights thy mercy will maintain,
And all our wants supply.

5 Thus, Lord, thy wondrous power declare,
And still exalt thy fame;
While we glad songs of praise prepare
For thine Almighty name.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Derby.
Christ's sufferings and exaltation.

aff 1 NOW let our mournful songs record
The dying sorrows of our Lord;
When he complain'd in tears and blood,
As one forsaken of his God.

ex 2 The Jews beheld him thus forlorn,
And shook their heads and laugh'd in scorn
"He rescu'd others from the grave,
Now let him try himself to save."

3 They wound his head, his hands, his feet,
Till streams of blood each other meet:
By lot his garments they divide,
And mock the pangs in which he died.

cr 4 But God, his Father, heard his cry;
f Rais'd from the dead he reigns on high;
The nations learn his righteousness,
And humbled sinners taste his grace.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Windsor.
Same subject.

aff 1 "NOW in the hour of deep distress,
My God, support thy son;
When horrors dark my soul oppress,
O leave me not alone!"

2 Thus did our suff'ring Saviour pray,
With mighty cries and tears;
di God heard him in that dreadful day,
cr And chas'd away his fears.

vi 3 Great was the vict'ry of his death,
f His throne exalted stands;
While all the nations of the earth,
Shall bow to his commands.

" 4 A num'rous offspring must arise
From his expiring groans;
They shall be reckon'd in his eyes
For daughters and for sons.

di 5 The meek and humble soul shall see His table richly spread;
cr And all that seek the Lord shall be
With joys immortal fed.

f 6 The isles shall know the righteousness
Of our incarnate God;
And nations yet unborn possess
Salvation in his blood.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Rothwell.
God our Shepherd.

1 MY Shepherd is the living Lord;
Now shall my wants be well suppli'd;
His providence and holy word
Become my safety and my guide.

2 In pastures where salvation grows,
He makes me feed, he makes me rest;
There living water gently flows,
And heav'nly food divinely blest.

3 My wand'ring feet his ways mistake,
But he restores my soul to peace,
And leads me for his mercy sake
In the fair paths of righteousness.

4 Though I walk through the gloomy vale, ag Where death and all its terrors are;
My heart with fear shall never fail,
For God my Shepherd's with me there.

5 Surely the mercies of the Lord Attend his children all their days;
f Within his courts I'll hear his word,

23. SECOND PART. C. M.—Colchester.

Same subject.

1 MY Shepherd will supply my need,
Jehovah is his name;
In pastures fresh he makes me feed,

2 He brings my wand'ring spirit back,
When I forsake his ways,
And leads me for his mercy sake,
In paths of truth and grace.

pp 3 When I walk through the shades of death,
cr Thy presence is my stay;
A word of thy supporting breath
f Drives all my fears away.

!! 4 The sure provisions of my God
Attend me all my days;
⁀ O, may thy house be my abode,
And all my work be praise.

!! 5 There would I find a settled rest, (While others go and come;)
cr No more a stranger or a guest,
But like a child at home.

23. THIRD PART. S. M.—Shirland.

Same subject.

!! 1 THE Lord my shepherd is,
I shall be well supplied;
Since he is mine, and I am his,
What can I want beside?

2 He leads me to the place
Where heav'nly pasture grows;
Where living waters gently pass,
cr And full salvation flows.

3 If e'er I go astray,
He doth my soul reclaim.
He guides me in his own right way,
For his most holy name.

4 While he affords his aid,
I cannot yield to fear;
di Though I should walk through death's dark shade,
My Shepherd's with me there.

11 5 In spite of all my foes
Thou dost my table spread;
My cup with blessings overflows,

Nor from thy house will I remove,
Nor cease to speak thy praise.

23. FOURTH PART. P. M. 11's.—Goshen.

Same subject.

11 1 THE Lord is my Shepherd, no want shall I know,
I feed in green pastures, safe folded I rest;
He leadeth my soul where the still waters flow,
Restores me when wand'ring, redeems when oppress'd.

2 Through the valley and shadow of death though I stray,
Since thou at my Guardian, no evil I fear;
Thy rod shall defend me, thy staff be my stay;
No harm can befall, with my comforter near.

3 In the midst of affliction my table is spread;
With blessings unmeasur'd, my cup runneth o'er,
With perfume and oil thou anointest my head,
O what shall I ask of thy providence more!

cr 4 Let goodness and mercy, my bountiful God,
Still follow my steps, till I meet thee above;
I seek—by the path which my forefathers trod,
Through the land of their sojourn—thy kingdom of love.

23. FIFTH PART. L. M. 6 lines.—Wesley Chapel.

The Lord our Shepherd.

d 1 THE Lord my pasture shall prepare,
And feed me with a shepherd's care,
His presence shall my wants supply,
And guard me with a watchful eye:
My noonday walks he shall attend,
And all my midnight hours defend.

2 When on the sultry glebe I faint,
Or on the thirsty mountain pant;
To fertile vales and dewy meads
My weary, wand'ring steps he leads,
Where peaceful rivers, soft and slow,
Amid the verdant landscape flow.

ex 3 Though in the paths of death I tread,
With gloomy horrors overspread,
My steadfast heart shall fear no ill,
di For thou, O Lord, art with me still:
Thy friendly rod shall give me aid,
And guide me through the dreadful shade.

4 Though in a bare and rugged way,
Through devious lonely wilds I stray;
Thy presence shall my pains beguile:
cr The barren wilderness shall smile,
f With sudden greens and herbage crown'd
And streams shall murmur all around.

cr To the streams that still and slow
Through the verdant meadows flow.

3 Safe the dreary vale I tread,

As my guardian and my guide.

Thou my footsteps shalt attend;

Yield me an eternal home.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Arlington.

Dwelling with God.

" 1 THE earth for ever is the Lord's,
And all that is therein;
He founded it upon the floods,
And rules the raging main.

2 But who among the sons of men,
May visit thine abode?
He that hath hands from mischief clean;
Whose heart is right with God.

3 This is the man may rise and take
The blessings of his grace:
This is the lot of those that seek
The God of Jacob's face.

cr 4 Oh, let our soul's immortal powers,
To meet the Lord prepare,
Who enter'd heav'ns eternal doors,
And reigns in glory there.

f 5 The King of Glory! who can tell
The wonders of his might?
He rules the nations; but to dwell
With saints is his delight.

24. SECOND PART. L. M.—Park-street.

Saints to dwell in heaven, where Christ has ascended.

tt 1 THE spacious earth is all the Lord's,
And men and worms and beasts and birds:
He rais'd the building on the seas,
And gave it for their dwelling place.

cr 2 But there's a brighter world on high,
Thy palace, Lord, above the sky;
Who shall ascend that blest abode,
And dwell so near his Maker, God?

li 3 He that abhors and fears to sin,
Whose heart is pure, whose hands are clean,
Him shall the Lord the Saviour bless,
And clothe his soul with righteousness.

4 These are the men, the pious race,
That seek the God of Jacob's face;
These shall enjoy the blissful sight,
And dwell in everlasting light.

f 5 Rejoice, ye shining worlds on high, ex Behold the King of Glory nigh!
Who can this King of Glory be?
The Lord of might and majesty!

6 Rais'd from the dead, he goes before
To open heaven's eternal door;
To give his saints a blest abode
Near their Redeemer, and their God.

24. THIRD PART. L. M.—Park-street.

Triumphant ascension of Christ.

1 OUR Lord is risen from the dead,
Our Jesus is gone up on high;
ex The pow'rs of hell are captive led,
Dragg'd to the portals of the sky.

f!! 2 Lo! his triumphal chariot waits,
And angels chant the solemn lay,
cr Lift up your heads, ye heav'nly gates,
Ye everlasting doors, give way!

m⁀ 3 Loose all your bars of massy light,
f And wide unfold th' ethereal scene:
He claims these mansions as his right;
Receive the King of Glory in.

p 4 "Who is the King of Glory—who?"
cr The Lord that all his foes o'ercame,
The world, sin, death, and hell o'erthrew,
—di And Jesus is the conq'ror's name.

ff 5 Lo! his triumphal chariot waits,
And angels chant the solemn lay;
Lift up your heads, ye heav'nly gates,
Ye everlasting doors, give way!

p 6 "Who is the King of Glory—who?"
f The Lord of boundless pow'r possess'd,
The King of saints and angels too, ff God over all, for ever blest.

24. FOURTH PART. 7's.—Benevento.

Christ's Ascension.

f 1 "WIDE, ye heav'nly gates, unfold, Clos'd no more by death and sin;
cr Now the conq'ring Lord behold, Let the King of Glory in:"
p Hark, th' angelic host inquire, cr "Who is he, th' Almighty King?"
p Hark, again the answering choir,
Thus in strains of triumph sing:

f 2 "He whose powerful arm alone,
On his foes destruction hurl'd,
He who hath the victory won,
He who sav'd a ruin'd world,

He who God's pure law fulfill'd,
Jesus the Incarnate Word,
He whose truth with blood was seal'd,
He is heaven's all glorious Lord."

p 3 "Who shall to this blest abode, Follow in the Saviour's train?"
cr "They who in his cleansing blood,
Wash away each guilty stain;
f They whose daily actions prove,
Steadfast faith, and holy fear,
Fervent zeal and grateful love;
They shall dwell for ever here."

25. FIRST PART. S. M.—St. Bridges. Aylesbury.
Waiting for pardon and direction.

1 I LIFT my soul to God,
My trust is in his name,
Let not my foes, that seek my blood,
Still triumph in my shame.

cr 2 Sin and the pow'rs of hell,
Would tempt me to despair:
Lord, make me know thy cov'nant well,
That I may 'scape the snare.

cr 3 From the first dawning light
Till the dark evening rise,
For thy salvation, Lord, I wait
With ever longing eyes.

4 Remember all thy grace,
And lead me in thy truth:
Forgive the sins of riper days,
And follies of my youth.

5 The Lord is just and kind,
The meek shall learn his ways;
And every humble sinner find
The riches of his grace.

cr 6 For his own goodness' sake
He saves my soul from shame;
He pardons (though my guilt be great Through my Redeemer's name.

25. SECOND PART. S. M.—Psalm 25.
Divine instruction.

1 WHERE shall the man be found
That fears t' offend his God, cr That loves the gospel's joyful sound,
di And trembles at the rod?

2 The Lord shall make him know
The secrets of his heart:
The wonders of his cov'nant show,
And all his love impart.

3 The dealings of his hand
Are truth and mercy still,
With such as in his cov'nant stand,
And love to do his will.

4 Their souls shall dwell at ease
Before their Maker's face, cr Their seed shall taste the promises
In their extensive grace.

25. THIRD PART. S. M.—St. Giles.
Distress of soul: or, backsliding and desertion.

1 MINE eyes and my desire
Are ever to the Lord;
I love to plead his promises,
And rest upon his word.

m 2 Turn, turn thee to my soul,
Bring thy salvation near;
When will thy hand release my feet
Out of the deadly snare?

" 3 When shall the sovereign grace
Of my forgiving God,
Restore me from those dang'rous ways
My wand'ring feet have trod?

[4 The tumult of my thoughts
Doth but enlarge my wo;
My spirit languishes; my heart
Is desolate and low.

[5 With every morning light,
My grief anew begins;
Look on my anguish and my pain,
And pardon all my sins.]

m 6 O keep my soul from death,
Nor put my hope to shame;
For I have plac'd my only trust
In my Redeemer's name.

cr [7 With humble faith I wait
To see thy face again;
Of Israel it shall ne'er be said,
He sought the Lord in vain.]

FOURTH PART. S. M.—Watchman.
Mercy to the faithful.

1 TO God, in whom I trust,
I lift my heart and voice;
O! let me not be put to shame,
Nor let my foes rejoice.

2 Thy mercies and thy love,
O Lord, recall to mind;
And graciously continue still,
As thou wert ever kind.

3 Let all my youthful crimes
Be blotted out by thee;
aff And oh, for thy great goodness' sake,
In mercy think on me.

vi 4 His mercy and his truth
The righteous Lord displays;

And teaching them his ways.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Luton.
Conscious integrity.

1 JUDGE me, O Lord, and prove my ways
And try my reins, and try my heart;
My faith upon thy promise stays,
Nor from thy law, my feet depart.

2 Among thy saints will I appear,
Array'd in robes of innocence;
But, when I stand before thy bar,
The blood of Christ is my defence.

cr 3 I love thy habitation, Lord,
The temple where thine honors dwell;
There shall I hear thy holy word,
And there thy works of wonder tell.

aff 4 Let not my soul be join'd at last
With men of treachery and blood;
Since I my days on earth have past
Among the saints and near my God.

SECOND PART. 7's.—German Hymn.
Going to the place of worship.

p 1 SEARCH my heart, my actions prove,
Try my inmost thoughts that rise,
For thy kindness and thy love
Ever are before mine eyes.

cr 2 I have lov'd the hallow'd place
Where thine honor doth abide;
To the temple of thy grace
Still my erring footsteps guide.

di 3 Keep my soul from all offence;
All my supplications hear;
Bid me walk in innocence;

4 In thy worship I delight;
cr In thy house my voice I'll raise,

FIRST PART. C. M.—Barby.
The church our delight and safety.

vi 1 THE Lord of glory is my light
And my salvation too;
God is my strength, nor will I fear
What all my foes can do.

ff 2 One privilege my heart desires:
O, grant me mine abode
Among the churches of thy saints,
The temples of my God!

3 There shall I offer my requests,
And see thy beauty still;
Shall hear thy messages of love,
And there inquire thy will.

f. ex 4 When troubles rise and storms appear,

God has a strong pavilion where 27. SECOND PART. C. M.—Wareham.

Prayer and hope.

1 SOON as I heard my Father say,
"Ye children, seek my grace,"
My heart replied without delay,
"I'll seek my Father's face."

p 2 Let not thy face be hid from me,
Nor frown my soul away;
f God of my life, I fly to thee,
In a distressing day.

di 3 Should friends and kindred near and dear
Leave me to want or die;
My God would make my life his care,
And all my need supply.

p 4 My fainting flesh had died with grief, cr Had not my soul believ'd
That grace would soon provide relief·
Nor was my hope deceiv'd.

He'll raise your spirit when it faints,
And far exceed your hope.

God's sanctuary a refuge.

And in thy tabernacle hide,
Secure from every foe.

aff 3 O leave me not when griefs assail,
And earthly comforts flee;

When thou bad'st me seek thy face,
vi Quickly did my heart reply,
Resting on thy word of grace,
"Thee I'll seek, O Lord most high."

aff 2 Should the world deceitful prove,
And no more its help I share;
Should I lose a father's love,

My light, my help is near:

28. FIRST PART. L. M.—Vernon.
Prayer and deliverance from temptation.

aff 1 TO thee, O Lord, I raise my cries,
My fervent prayer in mercy hear;
For ruin waits my trembling soul,
If thou refuse a gracious ear.

p 2 While suppliant tow'rd thy holy hill
I lift my feeble hands to pray,
Afford thy grace, nor drive me still
With impious hypocrites away.

[3 To sons of falsehood, that despise
The works and wonders of thy reign,
Thy justice gives the due reward,
And sinks their souls to endless pain.]

vi 4 For ever blessed be the Lord,
Whose mercy hears my mournful voice;
My heart, that trusted in his word,
In his salvation shall rejoice.

di 5 Let every saint in sore distress,

28. SECOND PART. C. M.—Rochester. ex.
Prayer and praise for deliverance from evil companions

aff 1 TO thee, my King, my God of grace,
I lift my humble cry;
Let not my poor desponding soul
With impious wretches die.

[2 With peaceful lips and froward heart
They charm the wretch astray;
And lure his heedless feet to death,
Along the flowery way.]

p 3 For me they dug the secret pit,
And form'd the hidden snare;
Thoughtless, I followed where they led,
Nor saw destruction near.

f 4 He broke the charm that drew my feet
To darkness and the dead;
cr From lips profane, and tongues impure,
With trembling steps I fled.

ex 5 My heart with agonizing prayer
Besought the Lord to save:
Unseen he seiz'd my trembling hand
And brought me from the grave.

vi 6 Homeward I flew to find my God,
And seek his face divine;
f Restor'd to peace, to hope, to life,
To Zion's friends and mine.

7 My lips thy wond'rous works shall sing,
My heart adore thy grace:
Henceforth, be love my sweet employ,
And all my pleasure praise.

29. FIRST PART. L. M.—Luther's Hymn. Park-street.
Ascriptions of honor and glory.

vi. f 1 GIVE to the Lord, ye sons of fame,
Give to the Lord renown and power,
Ascribe due honors to his name,
And his eternal might adore.

2 The Lord proclaims his power aloud,
Over the ocean and the land;
His voice divides the watery cloud,
cr And lightnings blaze at his command.

di-cr 3 He speaks—and tempest, hail, and wind,
Lay the wide forest bare around;
The fearful hart and frighted hind,
Leap at the terror of the sound.

4 To Lebanon he turns his voice,
m And lo! the stately cedars break;
ff The mountains tremble at the noise;
The valleys roar; the deserts quake.

di 5 The Lord sits sovereign on the flood:
The thund'rer reigns for ever king;
But makes his church his blest abode,
Where we his awful glories sing.

p 6 In gentler language, then the Lord
The counsel of his grace imparts;
cr Amid the raging storm, his word di Speaks peace and courage to our hearts.

29. SECOND PART. 11's.—Goshen
Same subject.

vif 1 GIVE glory to God in the highest; give praise,
Ye noble, ye mighty, with joyful accord;
All-wise are his counsels, all-perfect his ways,
In the beauty of holiness worship the Lord.

di 2 The voice of the Lord on the ocean is known,
The God of eternity thund'reth abroad;
The voice of the Lord from the depth of his throne,
Is terror and power, all nature is awed.

–cr 3 At the voice of the Lord, the tall cedars are bow'd,
And towers from their base into ruin are hurl'd;
di The voice of the Lord from the dark-bosom'd cloud, cr Dissevers the lightning in flames o'er the world.

p 4 The voice of the Lord, through the calm of the wood, Awakens its echoes, strikes light through the caves;
cr The Lord sitteth King on the turbulent flood;
The winds are his servants, his servants the waves.

" 5 The Lord is the strength of his people; the Lord

Health, sickness, and recovery.

"What canst thou profit by my blood?

FIRST PART. C. M.—Windsor.
Deliverance from death.

1 INTO thy hand, O God of truth,
My spirit I commit;
Thou hast redeem'd my soul from death,
And sav'd me from the pit.

2 The passions of my hope and fear
Maintain'd a doubtful strife;
While sorrow, pain, and sin conspir'd
To take away my life.

3 "My times are in thy hand," I cried,
"Though I draw near the dust;"
Thou art the refuge where I hide,
The God in whom I trust.

4 O make thy reconciled face
Upon thy servant shine;
And save me for thy mercy's sake
For I'm entirely thine.

PAUSE.

5 'Twas in my haste my spirit said,
"I must despair and die;
I am cut off before thine eyes:"
But thou hast heard my cry.

6 Thy goodness, how divinely free!
How wondrous is thy grace
To those who fear thy majesty,
And trust thy promises?

7 O love the Lord, all ye his saints,
And sing his praises loud;
He'll bend his ear to your complaints,
And recompense the proud.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Barby.
Deliverance from slander and reproach.

1 MY heart rejoices in thy name,
My God, my help, my trust;
Thou hast preserv'd my face from shame,
Mine honor from the dust.

2 "My life is spent with grief," I cried,
"My years consum'd in groans;
My strength decays, mine eyes are dried,
And sorrow wastes my bones."

3 Among mine enemies, my name
Was a vile proverb grown;
While to my neighbors I became
Forgotten and unknown.

4 Slander and fear on every side
Seiz'd and beset me round;
I to the throne of grace applied,
And speedy rescue found.

PAUSE.

cr 5 How great deliv'rance thou hast wrought
Before the sons of men!
The lying lips to silence brought,
And made their boastings vain.

6 Thy children, from the strife of tongues
In thy pavilion hide:
Guard them from infamy and wrongs,
And from the sons of pride.

7 Within thy secret presence, Lord,
Let me for ever dwell;
No fenced city, wall'd and barr'd,
Secures a saint so well.

32.

FIRST PART. S. M.—Clapton. Watchman.
Confession and forgiveness.

aff 1 O BLESSED souls are they,
Whose sins are cover'd o'er!
Divinely blest, to whom the Lord
Imputes their guilt no more.

2 They mourn their follies past,
And keep their hearts with care;
Their lips and lives without deceit,
Shall prove their faith sincere.

p 3 While I conceal'd my guilt,
I felt the fest'ring wound:
cr Till I confess'd my sins to thee,
di And ready pardon found.

4 Let sinners learn to pray,
cr Let saints keep near the throne;
Our help, in times of deep distress,
Is found in God alone.

32.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Colchester.
Pardon and sincere obedience.

1 HAPPY the man to whom his God
No more imputes his sin;
But, wash'd in the Redeemer's blood,
Hath made his garments clean.

cr 2 Happy beyond expression, he Whose debts are thus discharg'd;
And from the guilty bondage free,
He feels his soul enlarg'd.

3 His spirit hates deceit and lies,
His words are all sincere;
He guards his heart, he guards his eyes,
To keep his conscience clear.

pp 4 While I my inward guilt suppress'd,
No quiet could I find;
ag Thy wrath lay burning in my breast,
And rack'd my tortur'd mind.

ff 5 Then I confess'd my troubled thoughts
My secret sins reveal'd;
Thy pard'ning grace forgave my faults
Thy grace my pardon seal'd.

cr 6 This shall invite thy saints to pray:
f When like a raging flood Temptations rise, our strength and stay di Is a forgiving God.

32.

THIRD PART. L. M.—Repose.
Same subject.

1 BLEST is the man, for ever blest,
Whose guilt is pardon'd by his God;
Whose sins with sorrow are confess'd,
And cover'd with his Saviour's blood.

2 Blest is the man to whom the Lord
"Imputeth not iniquities:"
He pleads no merit of reward,
And not on works but grace relies.

3 From guile his lips and heart are free;
His humble joy, his holy fear,
With deep repentance well agree,
And join to prove his faith sincere.

cr 4 How glorious is that righteousness
That hides and cancels all his sins!
While a bright evidence of grace,
Through his whole life appears and shine.

32.

FOURTH PART. L. M.—Darwen. Quito.
Confession and pardon.

aff 1 WHILE I keep silence, and conceal
My heavy guilt within my heart,
What torments doth my conscience feel!
What agonies of inward smart!

2 I spread my sins before the Lord,
And all my secret faults confess:
Thy gospel speaks a pard'ning word,
Thy Holy Spirit seals the grace.

3 For this shall every humble soul
Make swift addresses at thy feet:
cr When floods of huge temptation roll.
di There shall they find a blest retreat.

p 4 How safe beneath thy wings I lie, ex When days grow dark and storms appear!
cr And when I walk, thy watchful eye
Shall guide me safe from every snare.

33.

FIRST PART. C. M.—New Cambridge.
Works of creation and providence.

1 REJOICE, ye righteous, in the Lord:
This work belongs to you:
Sing of his name, his ways, his word,
How holy, just, and true.

2 His works of nature and of grace
Reveal his wondrous name:
His mercy and his righteousness
cr Let heav'n and earth proclaim.

ff 3 His wisdom and Almighty word
The heav'nly arches spread;
And by the spirit of the Lord
Their shining hosts were made.

4 He bade the liquid waters flow
To their appointed deep:
The flowing seas their limits know,
And their own station keep.

5 Ye tenants of the spacious earth,
With fear before him stand!
He spake, and nature took its birth,
And rests on his command.

f 6 He scorns the angry nations' rage,
And breaks their vain designs;
His counsel stands through every age,
And in full glory shines.

33. SECOND PART. C. M.—Colchester.

God blesses the nation.

1 BLEST is the nation where the Lord
Hath fix'd his gracious throne;
Where he reveals his heav'nly word,
And calls their tribes his own.

2 His eyes, with infinite survey,
The spacious earth behold:
He form'd us all of equal clay,
And knows our feeble mould.

[3 Kings are not rescu'd by the pow'r
Of armies from the grave;
Vain is the conflict of the hour,
Except the Lord will save.]

p 4 God is our fear, and God our trust,
When plagues and famine spread;
ex His watchful eye secures the just,
Amid ten thousand dead.

f 5 Lord, let our hearts in thee rejoice,
Now bless us from thy throne;
For we have made thy word our choice,
We trust thy grace alone.

33. THIRD PART. L. P. M.—St. Helen's. Newcourt.

Works of creation and providence.

vi. f 1 YE holy souls, in God rejoice,
Your Maker's praise becomes your voice;
Great is your theme, your songs be new;
l l Sing of his name, his word, his ways,
His works of nature and of grace,
How wise and holy, just and true.

2 Justice and truth he ever loves,
And the whole earth his goodness proves;
His word the heav'nly arches spread;
How wide they shine from north to south!
And by the spirit of his mouth,
Were all the starry armies made.

3 He gathers the wide flowing seas,
Those wat'ry treasures know their place,
In the vast storehouse of the deep:
—f He spake, and gave all nature birth,
And fires, and seas, and heav'n, and earth
His everlasting orders keep.

p 4 Let mortals tremble and adore
A God of such resistless power,
Nor dare indulge their feeble rage:
cr Vain are your thoughts, and weak your hands,
f But his eternal counsel stands,
And rules the world from age to age.

33. FOURTH PART. 11's and 8's.—Palestine.

f 1 REJOICE in the Lord, O ye righteous, rejoice,
The upright his praises should sing;
With harp and with psaltry, attune your glad voice,
And loud let the harmony ring:
O sing of his righteousness, sing of his love,
His judgment and mercy proclaim;
Earth is fill'd with his goodness, while angels above
Rejoice in his glorious name.

" 2 By the word of the Lord, the bright heavens were made,
cr The earth, the wide waters that roar;
ag O fear him ye nations, let earth be afraid,
Stand in awe of his glory and power:
ex He spake—it was done; he commanded—it rose;
The universe sprang into view!
His counsels shall stand, though vain mortals oppose,
His ways are all righteous and true.

" 3 How blest is the nation whose God is the Lord,
The land where in mercy he dwells;
Where thousands rejoice in his worship and word,
Where wonders of grace he reveals:
⁀ O trust in his name, in his wisdom confide,
Nor look to his creatures for aid;
cr Our souls shall rejoice, while in him we abide,
di Though troubles and sorrows invade.

MS.

34. FIRST PART. L. M.—Seasons.

God's care of his saints; he hears their prayers.

1 LORD, I will bless thee all my days,
Thy praise shall dwell upon my tongue:
My soul shall glory in thy grace,
While saints rejoice to hear the song

2 Come, magnify the Lord with me, cr Let every heart exalt his name;
di I sought the eternal God, and he Has not expos'd my hope to shame.

aff 3 I told him all my secret grief,
My secret groanings reach'd his ears:
cr He gave my inward pain relief,
And calm'd the tumult of my fears.

p 4 To him the poor lift up their eyes,
With radiance mild their faces shine,
vi A beam of mercy from the skies Fills them with light and joy divine.

di 5 His holy angels pitch their tents Around the men that serve the Lord;
cr O, fear and love him, all his saints:
Taste of his grace and trust his word

34. SECOND PART. L. M.—Duke-street.

Religious Education.

ff 1 CHILDREN, in years and knowledge young,
Your parents' hope, your parents' joy;
Attend the counsels of my tongue;
Let pious thoughts your minds employ.

2 If you desire a length of days,
And peace to crown your mortal state;
Restrain your feet from impious ways,
Your lips from slander and deceit.

3 The eyes of God regard his saints,
His ears are open to their cries;
cr He sets his frowning face against
The sons of violence and lies.

p 4 To humble souls and broken hearts,
God with his grace is ever nigh;
cr Pardon and hope his love imparts, di When men in deep contrition lie.

ex 5 He tells their tears, he counts their groans,
His Son redeems their souls from death;
His spirit heals their broken bones,
f While they in praise employ their breath.

34. THIRD PART. C M.—Dunchurch.

Praise for deliverance.

1 I'LL bless the Lord from day to day
How good are all his ways!
Ye humble souls that watch and pray,
Come help my lips to praise.

2 Sing to the honor of his name,
How a poor suff'rer cried;
His hope was not expos'd to shame,
His suit was not denied.

cx 3 I told the Lord my sore distress
With heavy groans and tears;
He gave my sharpest sorrows ease,
And silenc'd all my fears.

vi 4 Oh, sinners, come and taste his love,
Come learn his pleasant ways;
And let your own experience prove
The sweetness of his grace.

5 O, love the Lord, ye saints of his,
His eye regards the just;
How richly blest their portion is,
Who make his name their trust.

34. FOURTH PART. C. M.—New Cambridge.

Trust in God, and praise for deliverance.

" 1 THROUGH all the changing scenes of life,
In trouble and in joy,
The praises of my God shall still
My heart and tongue employ.

2 Of his deliv'rance I will boast,
Till all that are distress'd,
From my example comfort take,
And charm their grief to rest.

f 3 O magnify the Lord with me,
Exalt his holy name;
di When in distress on him I call'd, cr He to my rescue came.

" 4 The host of God encamp around
The dwellings of the just;
Deliv'rance he affords to all
Who make his name their trust.

cr 5 Oh make but trial of his love;
Experience will decide,
f How blest are they, and only they,
Who in his truth confide.

T. & B.

35. FIRST PART. C. M.—Windsor.

Prayer and faith in times of persecution.

aff 1 NOW, plead my cause, Almighty God,
Against the sons of strife,
Who trample on the Saviour's blood,
And fight against my life.

cr 2 Oppose their progress; stop their way:
Oh make them fear thy rod;
di But to my soul in mercy say,
"I am thy Saviour God."

ff 3 How will the net they spread for me,
Their froward feet inthral!
Into the pit which they decree,
How soon their souls must fall!

4 They love the road that leads to hell:
Those rebels soon must die,
Whose malice is implacable
Against the Lord most high.

ex 5 But hast thou not a chosen few Among that impious race?
Divide them from the bloody crew,
cr By thy surprising grace.

vi 6 Then will I raise my tuneful voice,
To make thy wonders known;
In their salvation I'll rejoice,
And bless thee for my own.

35. SECOND PART. C. M.—Barby.

Christ's love to enemies typified in David.

1 BEHOLD the love, the gen'rous love
That holy David shows:
Behold his kind compassion move
For his afflicted foes.

p 2 When they are sick his soul complains,
And seems to feel the smart;
The spirit of the gospel reigns,
And melts his pious heart.

cx 3 How did his flowing tears condole.
As for a brother dead!
And fasting mortified his soul,
While for their life he pray'd.

p' 4 They groan'd and curs'd him on their bed
Yet still he pleads and mourns:
And double blessings on his head
The righteous God returns.

vi 5 O glorious type of heav'nly grace!
Thus Christ the Lord appears:
di While sinners curse, the Saviour prays,
And pities them with tears.

cr 6 He, the true David, Israel's King,
Bless'd and belov'd of God,
To save us rebels, dead in sin,
p Gave his own precious blood.

36.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Rothwell.
Perfections and providence of God.

f 1 HIGH in the heav'ns, eternal God!
Thy goodness in full glory shines:
Thy truth shall break through every cloud
That veils or darkens thy designs.

2 For ever firm thy justice stands,
As mountains their foundations keep:
Wise are the wonders of thy hands,
Thy judgments are a mighty deep.

3 Thy providence is kind and large,
Both man and beast thy bounty share:
The whole creation is thy charge;
But saints are thy peculiar care.

di 4 From the provisions of thy house,
We shall be fed with sweet repast:
There mercy like a river flows,
And brings salvation to our taste.

vi 5 Life like a fountain, rich and free,
Springs from the presence of the Lord:
And in thy light our souls shall see
The glories promis'd in thy word.

36. SECOND PART. S M.—Aylesbury.

Practical atheism exposed.

1 WHEN man grows bold in sin,
My heart within me cries,
"He hath no faith of God within,
Nor fear before his eyes."

2 His heart is false and foul,
His words are smooth and fair;
Wisdom is banish'd from his soul,
And leaves no goodness there.

3 He plots upon his bed
New mischief to fulfil:
He sets his heart, his hand, his head,
To practise all that's ill.

mæ 4 But there's a dreadful God,
Though men renounce his fear;
di His justice, hid behind the cloud,
f Shall one great day appear.

5 His truth transcends the sky:
In heav'n his mercies dwell;
ag Deep as the sea his judgments lie;
His anger burns to hell.

6 How excellent his love,
Whence all our safety springs!
f.⌒ Oh never let my soul remove
From underneath his wings.

37. FIRST PART. 8's and 6's.—Warning.

The wicked are not to be envied.

1 THOUGH wicked men grow rich or great,
Repine not at their high estate,
Nor let thy envy rise;
For soon, cut down like tender grass,
Or blooming flow'rs, away they pass di When all their beauty dies.

cr 2 Trust in the Lord, and him obey,
And thou within the land shalt stay,
Secure from ev'ry ill:
Make his commands thy chief delight.
And he, thy duty to requite,
Shall thy desires fulfil.

3 Commit thy way unto the Lord,
And he will needful help afford,
To perfect thy designs:
He'll make like light, serene and clear
Thy clouded innocence appear,
As when the morning shines.

tr 4 Rest in the Lord, on him depend;
Let patience all thy thoughts attend;
Nor let thine anger rise:
Though wicked men with hate abound,
And with success their plots are crown'd,
Which they in wrath devise.

cr 5 How soon their greatness will decay,
And all their riches melt away,
p Their place no more be found!
cr While humble souls in God rejoice,
f And praise him with the heart and voice,
Whose mercies still abound.

T. & B.

37.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Peterborough.
Charity to the poor.

tr 1 WHY do the wealthy wicked boast,
And grow profanely bold?
The meanest portion of the just,
Exceeds the sinner's gold.

2 Though they may borrow of their friends
And ne'er design to pay;
The saint is merciful, and lends,
Nor turns the poor away.

3 His alms with liberal heart he gives,
Among the sons of need:
His memory to ages lives,
And blessed is his seed.

4 He fears to talk with lips profane,
To slander or defraud;
His ready tongue declares to men
What he has learn'd of God.

5 The law and gospel of the Lord
Deep in his heart abide;
Led by the Spirit and the Word,
His feet shall never slide.

6 When sinners fall, the righteous stand,
Preserv'd from every snare;
cr They shall possess the promis'd land,
And dwell for ever there.

37.

THIRD PART. C. M.—Barby.

The way and end of the righteous and the wicked.

1 MY God, the steps of pious men
Are order'd by thy will;
Though they should fall, they rise again,
Thy hand supports them still.

cr 2 The Lord delights to see their ways,
Their virtue he approves;
He'll ne'er deprive them of his grace,
Nor leave the men he loves.

3 The heav'nly heritage is theirs,
Their portion and their home;
He feeds them here, and makes them heirs
Of blessings long to come.

f 4 Wait on the Lord, ye sons of men,
Nor fear when tyrants frown;
Ye shall confess their pride was vain,
When justice casts them down.

PAUSE.

ex 5 The haughty sinner have I seen,
Not fearing man or God;
Like a tall bay-tree, fair and green,
Spreading its arms abroad—

—di 6 When, lo! he vanish'd from the ground, Destroy'd by hands unseen;
p Nor root, nor branch, nor leaf was found,
Where all that pride had been.

cr 7 But mark the man of righteousness,
His sev'ral steps attend;
vi True pleasure reigns through all his ways,
And peaceful is his end.

38.

C. M.—Windsor.

Guilt, repentance, prayer for pardon.

aff 1 AMID thy wrath, remember love,
Restore thy servant, Lord;
Nor let a Father's chast'ning prove
Like an avenger's sword.

[2 My sins, a heavy burden, weigh
My sinking spirit down;
And I go mourning all the day,
Beneath my Father's frown.]

ex 3 O Lord, the sorrows I endure
Are great beyond control;
No other hand but thine can cure
The anguish of my soul.

4 All my desires to thee are known,
di Thine eye counts every tear;
p And every sigh, and every groan,
Is notic'd by thine ear.

cr 5 Thou art my God, my only hope,
And thou wilt hear my cry:
f My God will bear my spirit up,
When Satan bids me die.

PAUSE.

ex 6 My foes rejoice to see me slide
Into the miry pit;
Exulting in malicious pride
When they supplant my feet.

7 I will confess my guilt to thee,
And grieve o'er all my sin;
di Yet weak will all my efforts be,
Without thy aid divine.

8 My God, forgive my follies past,
And be for ever nigh:
cr O Lord of my salvation, haste,
Before thy servant die.

39. FIRST PART. C. M.—Peterborough. Coventry
Watchfulness over the tongue in presence of scoffers.

" 1 THUS I resolv'd before the Lord,
To watch my heedless tongue;
Lest some unguarded sinful word,
Should do my neighbor wrong.

2 And if I'm e'er constrain'd to stay
With men of lives profane;
cr I'll set a double guard that day,
Nor let my talk be vain.

di 3 I'll scarce allow my lips to speak
The pious thoughts I feel;
Lest scoffers should th' occasion take,
To mock my kindling zeal.

cr 4 Yet, if some proper hour appear,
I'll not be overaw'd;
f But let the scoffing sinners hear
That I can speak for God.

39. SECOND PART. C. M.—Rochester.

Man mortal.

aff 1 TEACH me the measure of my days,
Thou Maker of my frame:
I would survey life's narrow space,
And learn how frail I am.

2 A span is all that we can boast,
An inch or two of time;
di Man is but vanity and dust,
In all his flow'r and prime.

3 See the vain race of mortals move,
Like shadows o'er the plain;
cr They rage and strive, desire and love,
di But all their noise is vain.

[4 Some walk in honor's gaudy show;
Some dig for golden ore;
They toil for heirs, they know not who,
And straight are seen no more.]

5 What should I wish or wait for then,
From creatures, earth, and dust?
They make our expectations vain,
And disappoint our trust.

cr 6 Now I forbid my carnal hope,
My fond desires recall;
I give my mortal int'rest up,
And make my God my all.

39. THIRD PART. C. M.—Burford.

Sick-bed devotions, or submissive pleading.

1 GOD of my life, look gently down,
Behold the pains I feel;
di But I am dumb before thy throne,
p Submissive to thy will.

2 Diseases are thy servants, Lord,
They come at thy command;
I'll not indulge one murm'ring word
Against thy chast'ning hand.

aff 3 Yet I may plead with humble cries,
Remove thy sharp rebukes:
My strength consumes, my spirit dies,
Through thy repeated strokes.

4 Crush'd as a moth beneath thy hand,
di We moulder into dust;
Our feeble powers can ne'er withstand,
p And all our beauty's lost.

" 5 I'm but a stranger here below,
As all my fathers were:
May I be well prepar'd to go,
When I the summons hear.

cr 6 But if my lips be spared awhile,
Before my last remove;
I'll sing thy tender mercies still,
And celebrate thy love.

39.

FOURTH PART. S. M.—Aylesbury. St. Giles.
Same subject.

aff 1 LORD, let me know mine end,
My days, how brief their date,
That I may timely comprehend
How frail my best estate.

2 My life is but a span,
Mine age is nought with thee;
cr What is the highest boast of man di But dust and vanity!

p 3 Dumb at thy feet I lie,
For thou hast brought me low;
ag Remove thy judgments, lest I die;
I faint beneath thy blow.

cr 4 At thy rebuke, the bloom
Of man's vain beauty flies;
And grief shall like a moth consume
All that delights our eyes.

di 5 Have pity on my fears,
Hearken to my request,
Turn not in silence from my tears,
But give the mourner rest.

6 O spare me yet, I pray,
Awhile my strength restore,
Ere I am summon'd hence away,
p And seen on earth no more.

Montgomery.

39. FIFTH PART. 7's and 6's. Peculiar.—Missionary H.

Human frailty.

1 O WHAT is earthly pleasure,
Compar'd with thy rich grace?
aff Lord teach us how to measure
The remnant of our days,
How brief is our existence,
How frail a thing is man;
And grant us thine assistance,
This feeble life to scan.

cr 2 How soon the hours of gladness
That cheer us on our way, di Are chang'd to gloom and sadness,
ex Or fill'd with deep dismay!
ff Man, in his best condition,
Is vanity and dust;
Soon past the fleeting vision;
p Then he gives up the ghost.

ff 3 Earth's treasures quickly leave us,
Its honors ne'er endure;
Its pleasures but deceive us,
Its hopes are insecure:
di But, Lord, while time so fleeting,
Is fill'd with many a snare;
My soul on thee is waiting,
cr I'll trust thy guardian care.

Mother's H. Book.

40. FIRST PART. C. M.—Dunchurch.

Deliverance from deep distress.

1 I WAITED patient for the Lord,
He bow'd to hear my cry;
He saw me resting on his word,
And brought salvation nigh.

ex 2 He rais'd me from a horrid pit,
Where mourning long I lay;
His hand releas'd my sinking feet,
From depths of miry clay.

cr 3 Firm on a rock he made me stand,
And taught my cheerful tongue
To praise the wonders of his hand,
In new and thankful song.

f 4 I'll spread his works of grace abroad,
The saints with joy shall hear,
And sinners learn to make my God
Their only hope and fear.

d 5 How many are thy thoughts of love!
Thy mercies, Lord, how great!
cr Language and time would fail to prove,
Or numbers to repeat.

40.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Coventry.
Incarnation and sacrifice of Christ.

1 [THUS saith the Lord, "Your work is vain,
Give your burnt-off'rings o'er;
In dying goats and bullocks slain,
My soul delights no more."]

vi 2 And see, the blest Redeemer comes,
Th' Eternal Son appears!
And at th' appointed time assumes
The body God prepares.

l 3 Much he reveal'd his Father's grace,
And much his truth he show'd:
He preach'd the way of righteousness,
Where great assemblies stood.

4 His Father's honor touch'd his heart di He pitied sinner's cries;
And to fulfil a Saviour's part,
Was made a sacrifice.

cr 5 No blood of beasts on altars shed,
Could wash the conscience clean;
f But the rich sacrifice he paid,
Atones for all our sin.

40.

THIRD PART. L. M.—Uxbridge. Luton.
Christ our sacrifice.

1 THE wonders, Lord, thy love hath wrought
cr Exceed our praise, surmount our thought:
Should I attempt the long detail,
di My speech would faint, my numbers fail.

l 2 No blood of beasts on altars spilt,
Can cleanse the souls of men from guilt,
cr But thou hast found, through matchless grace,
A ransom for our ruin'd race.

p 3 "Behold I come," the Saviour cries,
"A ready, willing sacrifice;
I come to bear the heavy load
Of sin, and do thy will, my God.

" 4 "'Tis written in thy great decree,
'Tis in thy book foretold of me;
I must fulfil the Saviour's part,
And lo! thy law is in my heart.

5 "I'll magnify thy holy law,
And rebels to obedience draw;
cr When on my cross I'm lifted high,
Or to my crown above the sky.

6 "The Spirit shall descend, and show
What thou hast done, and what I do;
vi The wond'ring world shall learn thy grace,
Thy wisdom, and thy righteousness."

L. M.—Park-street.
Christian sympathy and charity.

1 BLEST is the man whose heart can move,
And melt with pity to the poor;
Whose soul, by sympathizing love,
Feels what his fellow-saints endure.

" 2 His heart contrives for their relief
More good than his own hands can do;
He, in the time of gen'ral grief,
Shall find the Lord has mercy too.

3 His soul shall live secure on earth,
With secret blessings on his head,
When drought, and pestilence, and dearth,
Around him multiply their dead.

p 4 Or, if he languish on his couch,
God will pronounce his sins forgiv'n;
cr Will save him with a healing touch,
Or take his willing soul to heav'n.

42.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Laight-street.
Direction and hope: or, absence from the house of worship

aff 1 WITH earnest longings of the mind,
My God, to thee I look;
So pants the hunted hart to find
And taste the cooling brook.

2 When shall I see thy courts of grace,
And meet my God again?
di So long an absence from thy face
My heart endures with pain.

ex [3 Temptations vex my weary soul,
And tears are my repast;
The foe insults without control,
"And where's your God at last."

⌒ 4 'Tis with a mournful pleasure now
I think on ancient days;
Then to thy house did numbers go,
And all our work was praise.

di 5 But why, my soul, sink down so far
Beneath this heavy load?
Why do my thoughts indulge despair,
And sin against my God!

cr 6 Hope in the Lord, whose mighty hand
Can all my woes remove;
f For I shall yet before him stand,
And sing restoring love.

42. SECOND PART. C. M.—Chester. Barby.

Thirsting and panting after God.

aff 1 AS pants the hart for cooling streams,
When hunted in the chase;
So longs my soul, O God, for thee
And thy refreshing grace.

⌒ 2 For thee, my God, the living God,
My thirsty soul doth pine;
cr Oh, when shall I behold thy face, Thou Majesty divine.

p 3 Why restless, why cast down, my soul?
cr Still hope, and thou shalt sing
f The praise of him who is my God,
And heaven's eternal King.

T. & B.

42. THIRD PART. L. M.—Repose. Seasons.

Hope in deep affliction.

p 1 MY spirit sinks within me, Lord;
cr But I will call thy name to mind,
And times of past distress record
When I have found my God was kind.

f. ex 2 Huge troubles, with tumultuous noise,
Swell like a sea, and round me spread;
Thy water-spouts drown all my joys,
And rising waves roll o'er my head.

di 3 Yet will the Lord command his love,
When I address his throne by day;
p Nor in the night his grace remove;
cr The night shall hear me sing and pray.

di 4 I'll cast myself before his feet
And say, "My God, my heav'nly Rock,
Why doth thy love so long forget
The soul that groans beneath thy stroke?"

" 5 I'll chide my heart that sinks so low,
Why should my soul indulge her grief?
cr Hope in the Lord, and praise him too,
He is my rest, my sure relief.

[6 Thy light and truth shall guide me still,
Thy words shall my best thoughts employ;
And lead me to thine heav'nly hill,
My God, my most exceeding joy.

42.

FOURTH PART. 7's.—Mount Calvary.
Prayer and hope in deep affliction.

aff 1 HEARKEN, Lord, to my complaints,
For my soul within me faints;
Thee, far off, I call to mind,
In the land I left behind,
Where the streams of Jordan flow,
Where the heights of Hermon glow.

2 Tempest-tost, my failing bark Founders in the ocean dark, cr Deep to deep around me calls,
With the rush of waterfalls,
While I plunge to lower caves,
Overwhelm'd by all thy waves.

" 3 Once the morning's earliest light,
Brought thy mercy to my sight,
And my wakeful song was heard
Later than the evening bird:
Hast thou all my pray'rs forgot?
Will thy mercy heed them not?

di 4 Why, my soul, art thou perplex'd?
Why with faithless trouble vex'd?
cr Hope in God, whose saving name,
Thou shalt joyfully proclaim,
When his countenance shall shine
Through the clouds that darken thine.
Montgomery.

43.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Rochester. Barby. ex.
Prayer for deliverance from enemies.

aff " 1 JUDGE me, O God, and plead my cause Against a sinful race;
From vile oppression and deceit
Secure me by thy grace.

2 On thee my steadfast hope depends, di And am I left to mourn?
To sink in sorrow, and in vain
Implore thy kind return?

cr 3 O send thy light to guide my feet,
And bid thy truth appear;
Conduct me to thy holy hill,
To taste thy mercies there.

f 4 Then to thine altar, O my God,
My joyful feet shall rise;
And my triumphant song shall praise
The God that rules the skies.
Anon

43.

SECOND PART. 7's and 6's.—Nuremburg.
Prayer for deliverance and comfort.

aff 1 SAVE me, Lord, in this distress;
Clothe me in thy righteousness;
Good and merciful thou art,
di Bind this bleeding, broken hear;
Cast me not despairing hence,
cr Be my hope, my confidence.

" 2 Send thy light and truth to guide;
Leave me not to turn aside;
On thy holy hill I'll rest,
In thy courts for ever blest;
Then to God, my love, my joy,
Praise shall all my pow'rs employ.
Montgomery.

44.

C. M.—Rochester.

Complaint in great declension and persecution.

1 LORD, we have heard thy works of old,
Thy works of pow'r and grace;
And to our ears our fathers told
The wonders of their days.

2 They saw the beauteous churches rise,
The spreading gospel run;
cr While light and glory from the skies
Through all their temples shone.

3 In God they boasted all the day;
And in a cheerful throng
Did thousands meet to praise and pray,
And grace was all their song.

p.ex 4 But now our souls are seiz'd with shame,
Confusion fills our face,
To hear the enemy blaspheme,
And fools reproach thy grace.

cr 5 Yet have we not forgot our God,
Nor falsely dealt with heav'n;
Nor have our steps declin'd the road
Of duty thou hast giv'n;—

f.ex 6 Though dragons all around us roar,
With their destructive breath;
And thine own hand hath bruis'd us sore,
Hard by the gates of death.

PAUSE.—Burford.

aff 7 We are expos'd all day to die,
As martyrs for the cause;
As sheep for slaughter bound we lie,
By sharp and bloody laws.

f.ex 8 Awake, arise, Almighty Lord!
Why sleeps thy wonted grace?
Why should we be like men abhorr'd,
Or banish'd from thy face?

di 9 Wilt thou for ever cast us off,
And still neglect our cries?
p For ever hide thy heav'nly love
From our afflicted eyes?

!! 10 Down to the dust our soul is bow'd,
While foes insult around:
cr Rise for our help, rebuke the proud,
And all their pow'rs confound.

11 Redeem us from perpetual shame,
Our Saviour and our God;
We plead the honors of thy name,
The merits of thy blood.

45. FIRST PART. S. M.—Watchman. Shirland.
Beauty and glory of Christ—success of his kingdom.

d 1 MY Saviour and my King,
Thy beauties are divine;
Thy lips with blessings overflow,
And every grace is thine.

cr 2 Now make thy glory known,
Gird on thy dreadful sword;
And ride in majesty to spread
The conquests of thy word.

3 Subdue thy stubborn foes, di Incline their hearts t' obey,
p While justice, meekness, grace, and truth
cr Attend thy glorious way.

f. m 4 Thy laws, O God! are right;
Thy throne shall ever stand,
And thy victorious gospel prove
A sceptre in thy hand.

PAUSE.

l l 5 Behold, at his right hand
The gentile church is seen,
Like a fair bride in rich attire,
When princes guard the queen.

d 6 Fair bride, receive his love;
Forget thy father's house;
Forsake thy gods, thy idol gods,
And pay thy Lord thy vows.

7 O let thy God and King
Thy sweetest thoughts employ;
Thy children shall his honors sing,
In palaces of joy.

45. SECOND PART. C. M.—Remembrance. Coventry.
Christ and his glorious reign.

1 I'LL speak the honors of my King,
His form divinely fair;
None of the sons of mortal race
May with the Lord compare.

d 2 Sweet is thy speech, and heav'nly grace
Upon thy lips is shed:
Thy God with blessings infinite
Hath crown'd thy sacred head.

f 3 Gird on thy sword, victorious Prince!
Ride with majestic sway;
Subdue and melt thy stubborn foes,
And make the world obey.

mæ 4 Thy throne, O God! for ever stands:
Thy word of grace shall prove di A peaceful sceptre in thy hands,
To rule thy saints by love.

5 Justice and truth attend thee still,
But mercy is thy choice:
cr And God, thy God, thy soul shall fill f With everlasting joys.

45. THIRD PART. L. M.—Park-street.

Glory of Christ, and honor of his gospel.

ex 1 NOW be my heart inspir'd to sing
The glories of my Saviour King:
Jesus the Lord, his form how fair;
How rich, how bright his beauties are.

2 O'er all the sons of human race,
He shines with majesty and grace:
d Love from his lips divinely flows,
And blessings all his state compose.

f 3 Dress thee in arms, Almighty Lord!
Gird on the terrors of thy sword,
In majesty and glory ride
di With truth and meekness at thy side.

[4 Thine anger, like a pointed dart,
Shall pierce the foes of stubborn heart:
Or words of mercy, kind and sweet,
Shall melt the rebels at thy feet.]

f. 5 Thy throne, O God! for ever stands, di Grace is the sceptre in thy hands;
Thy laws are just, thy judgments right,
Justice and grace are thy delight.

[6 God, thy own God, hath richly shed
His oil of gladness on thy head;
And with his sacred Spirit bless'd
His first-born Son above the rest.]

45. FOURTH PART. L. M.—Repose.

Christ and his church; or, the mystical marriage.

d 1 THE King of Saints, how fair his face!
Adorn'd with majesty and grace!
He comes with blessings from above,
And wins the nations to his love.

2 At his right hand our eyes behold
The queen array'd in purest gold;
The world admires her heav'nly dress,
Her robes of joy and righteousness.

3 He forms her beauties like his own;
He calls and seats her near his throne
Fair stranger, let thy heart forget
The idols of thy native state.

cr 4 So shall the King the more rejoice
In thee, the fav'rite of his choice:
Let him be lov'd and yet ador'd,
For he's thy Maker and thy Lord.

f 5 O happy hour, when thou shalt rise
To his fair palace in the skies;
And all thy sons, a numerous train,
Each like a prince in glory reign.

ff 6 Let endless honors crown his head,
Let every age his praises spread;
While we with cheerful songs approve di The condescension of his love.

46. FIRST PART. L. M.—Seasons.

God our refuge.

aff 1 GOD is the refuge of his saints,
When storms of sharp distress invade:
Ere we can offer our complaints,
Behold him present with his aid.

ag 2 Let mountains from their seats be hurl'd
Down to the deep, and buried there;
Convulsions shake the solid world;
Our faith shall never yield to fear.

m.p 3 There is a stream whose gentle flow
Supplies the city of our God;
Life, love, and joy, still gliding through,
And wat'ring our divine abode.

cr 4 That sacred stream, thy holy word,
Supports our faith, our fear controls;
Sweet peace thy promises afford,
And give new strength to fainting souls.

5 Zion enjoys her Monarch's love Secure against a threat'ning hour;
f Nor can her firm foundations move,
Built on his truth, and arm'd with pow'r.

46. SECOND PART. L. M.—Park-street.

God defends his church.

f.!! 1 LET Zion and her King rejoice,
Though tyrants rage and kingdoms rise,
He utters his Almighty voice!
di The nations melt, the tumult dies.

!! 2 The Lord of old for Jacob fought,
And Jacob's God is still our aid:
Behold the works his hand hath wrought,
What desolations he hath made!

3 From sea to sea, through all the shores,
p He makes the noise of battle cease;
f When from on high his thunder roars,
di He awes the trembling world to peace.

m.p 4 Be still and know that he is God;
cr He reigns exalted o'er the lands,
He will be known and fear'd abroad;
But still his throne in Zion stands.

f.⁀ 5 O Lord of hosts, Almighty King!
While we so near thy presence dwell,
vi Our faith shall sit secure and sing,
Nor fear the raging pow'rs of hell.

46. THIRD PART. 7's and 6's. Peculiar.—Ashfield.

God our refuge and strength.

aff 1 O GOD of our salvation!
Our refuge in distress,
Our strength and consolation,
Secure us by thy grace;
di While in thy peace abiding,
While thou thyself art near,
cr In thy strong arm confiding,
We shall not yield to fear.

f.ex 2 Though earth were in commotion,
Though mountains high were cast
Into the depths of ocean,
Amid the stormy blast;
The billows loud and raging,
In vain their foam would pour;
di Thy voice the wrath assuaging,
Would still the tempest's roar.

p 3 There is a peaceful river
Descending from on high,
Whose streams are pure for ever,
Whose waters cannot dry:
No waves of tribulation
Disturb their glad'ning course, cr The Rock of our salvation
Is the unfailing source.

4 God in the midst is dwelling,
Mount Zion shall not move;
f The streams of grace are swelling
A tide of boundless love:
Her foes so oft conspiring,
ff Tumultuous in noise,
di Like angry waves retiring,
p Have melted at his voice.

cr 5 The Lord of hosts is with us,
The God of Jacob near:
With his strong arm beneath us,
Our souls shall never fear;
f Our refuge is most glorious;
di Be still: for he is God;
cr His cause shall be victorious,
f Earth trembles at his nod.

Spiritual Song

46. FOURTH PART. L. M.—Park-street.
The river of God, and the heavenly city.

1 THERE is a river pure and bright,
Whose streams make glad the heav'nly plains,
Where, in eternity of light,
The city of our God remains.

2 Built by the word of his command,
With his unclouded presence blest,
cr Firm as his throne, the bulwarks stand.
m There is our home, our hope, our rest.

vi 3 Thither let fervent faith aspire,
Our treasure and our heart be there,
O for a seraph's wing of fire!
m No—for the mightier wings of prayer!

f 4 Now, though the earth's foundations rock,
And mountains down the gulf be hurl'd;
di His people smile amid the shock,
They look beyond this transient world.
Montgomery.

47. FIRST PART. C. M.—Coventry.
Christ ascending and reigning.

vi.f 1 O FOR a shout of sacred joy
To God, the sovereign King;
Let every land their tongues employ,
And hymns of triumph sing.

2 Jesus our God ascends on high:
His heav'nly guards around,
ff Attend him rising through the sky
With trumpets' joyful sound.

di 3 While angels shout and praise their King, Let mortals learn their strains;
cr Let all the earth his honor sing,
O'er all the earth he reigns.

mæ 4 Rehearse his praise with awe profound,
Let knowledge lead the song;
Nor mock him with a solemn sound,
Upon a thoughtless tongue.

47. SECOND PART. C. M.—Moravian Hymn.
Christ worshipped.

f 1 EXTOL the Lord, the Lord most high,
King over all the earth;
Exalt his triumph to the sky,
In songs of sacred mirth.

ff 2 God is gone up with loud acclaim,
And trumpets' tuneful voice;
Sing praise, sing praises to his name;
Sing praises and rejoice.

3 Sing praises to our God: sing praise
To every creature's King:
His wondrous works, his glorious ways,
All tongues and kindred sing.

mæ 4 God sits upon his holy throne,
God o'er the heathen reigns:
His truth through all the world is known—
That truth his throne sustains.

5 Princes around his footstool throng,
Kings in the dust adore;
cr Earth and her shields to God belong—
f Sing praises evermore.

Montgomery

48. FIRST PART. S. M.—Clapton.
The church the honor and safety of the land.

f'' 1 GREAT is the Lord our God,
And let his praise be great;
He makes his churches his abode,
His most delightful seat.

[2 These temples of his grace
How beautiful they stand!
The honors of our native place,
The bulwarks of our land.]

di 3 In Zion God is known
A refuge in distress;
cr How bright has his salvation shone,
Through all her palaces!

4 When kings against her join'd,
And saw the Lord was there;
ex In wild confusion of the mind
They fled with hasty fear.

'' 5 Oft have our fathers told,
Our eyes have often seen,
How well our God secures the fold
Where his own flock has been.

cr 6 In every new distress
We'll to his house repair:
We'll call to mind his wondrous grace,
And seek deliv'rance there.

48. SECOND PART. S. M.—Oakland. Clapton.
Beauty of the church.

1 FAR as thy name is known
The world declares thy praise;
Thy saints, O Lord, before thy throne
Their songs of honor raise.

vi 2 With joy thy people stand
On Zion's chosen hill;
Proclaim the wonders of thy hand,
And counsels of thy will.

ff 3 Let strangers walk around
The city where we dwell;
Compass and view thy holy ground,
And mark the building well,—

4 The orders of thy house,
The worship of thy court,
The cheerful songs, the solemn vows,—
And make a fair report.

cr 5 How decent and how wise!
How glorious to behold!
f Beyond the pomp that charms the eyes,
And rites adorn'd with gold.

⁓ 6 The God we worship now,
Will guide us till we die;
Will be our God while here below,
And ours above the sky.

48.

THIRD PART. 11's and 8's.—Palestine.
Same subject.

1 O GREAT is Jehovah, and great be his praise,
In the city of God he is King;
Proclaim ye his triumphs in jubilant lays;
On the mount of his holiness sing.

cr 2 The joy of the earth from her beautiful height,
Is Zion's impregnable hill:
The Lord in her temple still taketh delight,
God reigns in her palaces still.

3 At the sight of her splendor the kings of the earth
ex Grew pale with amazement and dread;
Fear seiz'd them like pangs of a premature birth,
di They came, they beheld her, and fled.

cr 4 Let the daughters of Judah be glad for thy love
The mountain of Zion rejoice;
For thou wilt establish her seat from above,
Wilt make her the throne of thy choice.

5 Go, walk about Zion and measure the length,
Her walls and her bulwarks, mark well;
Contemplate her palaces glorious in strength,
Her tow'rs and her pinnacles tell.

6 Then say to your children—our refuge is tried,
This God is our God to the end;
f His counsels for ever his people shall guide
His arm shall for ever defend.

Montgomery.

49. FIRST PART. C. M.—Peterborough.

Pride and death: or, the vanity of life and riches.

1 WHY doth the man of riches grow
To insolence and pride;
To see his wealth and honors flow
With every rising tide?

[2 Why doth he treat the poor with scorn,
Made of the self-same clay,
And boast as though his flesh were born
Of better dust than they?]

3 Not all his treasures can procure
His soul a short reprieve;
Redeem from death one guilty hour,
Or make his brother live.

4 He sees the foolish and the wise,
The tim'rous and the brave,
di Quit their possessions, close their eyes,
p And hasten to the grave.

cr 5 Yet 'tis his inward thought and pride
His house shall ever stand;
His name, that it may long abide,
Is given to his land.

f 6 Vain are his thoughts, his hopes are lost,
How soon his mem'ry dies!
His name is written in the dust,
Where his own body lies.

PAUSE.

7 This is the folly of their way;
And yet their sons, as vain,
Approve the words their fathers say,
And act their works again.

8 Men void of wisdom and of grace,
Though honor raise them high,
Live like the beasts, a thoughtless race,
di And like the beasts they die.

p 9 Laid in the grave so dark and deep,
cr Death triumphs o'er them there,
f Till the last trumpet breaks their sleep,
ex And wakes them in despair.

49.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Burford.
Death and the resurrection.

ff 1 YE sons of pride, that hate the just,
And trample on the poor.
When death has brought you down to dust,
Your pomp shall rise no more.

f 2 The last great day shall change the scene:
di When will that hour appear?
cr When shall the just revive and reign
O'er all that scorn'd them here?

p 3 God will my naked soul receive,
Call'd from the world away,
cr And break the prison of the grave,
To raise my mould'ring clay.

f 4 Heav'n is my everlasting home,
Th' inheritance is sure;
ff Let men of pride their rage resume,
di But I'll repine no more.

50.

FIRST PART. C. M.—St. Ann's.
The last judgment—saints rewarded.

[1 THE Lord, the Judge, before his throne
Bids the whole earth draw nigh
The nations near the rising sun,
And near the western sky.

2 No more shall bold blasphemers say,
"Judgment will ne'er begin:"
No more abuse his long delay,
To impudence and sin.]

f 3 Thron'd on a cloud our God shall come,
Bright flames prepare his way,
ex Thunder and darkness, fire and storm,
Lead on the dreadful day.

4 Heav'n from above his call shall hear,
Attending angels come,
ex And earth and hell shall know and fear
His justice and their doom.

di 5 "But gather all my saints," he cries,
"That made their peace with God
By the Redeemer's sacrifice,
And seal'd it with his blood.

" 6 "Their faith and works brought forth to light,
Shall make the world confess,
My sentence of reward is right,
And heav'n adore my grace."

50. SECOND PART. C. M.—Peterborough.

Obedience better than sacrifice.

" 1 THUS saith the Lord, "The spacious fields,
And flocks and herds are mine:
To cattle of a thousand hills,
I claim a right divine.

2 "I ask no sheep for sacrifice,
Nor bullocks burn'd with fire:
To hope and love, to pray and praise,
Is all that I require.

cr 3 "Call upon me when trouble's near,
My hand shall set thee free;
Then shall thy thankful lips declare
The honor due to me.

di 4 "The man that offers humble praise Shall glorify me best:
cr And those that tread my holy ways,
Shall my salvation taste."

50. THIRD PART. C. M.—Peterborough.

The judgment of hypocrites.

1 WHEN Christ to judgment shall descend,
And saints surround their Lord;
He'll call the nations to attend,
And hear his awful word.

" 2 "Not for the want of bullocks slain,
Will I the world reprove;
Altars and rites and forms are vain,
Without the fire of love."

ex 3 And what have hypocrites to do?
Why bring their sacrifice;
Why call my statutes just and true,
Yet deal in theft and lies!

di 4 Should they expect to 'scape my sight,
And sin without control?
cr No, I will bring their crimes to light,
And rend each guilty soul.

f 5 Consider, ye that slight the Lord,
Before his wrath appear;
If once you fall beneath his sword,
di There's no deliv'rer there.

50. FOURTH PART. L. M.—Sterling.

Hypocrisy exposed.

f 1 THE Lord, the Judge, his churches warns;
Let hypocrites attend and fear,
Who place their hope in rights and forms,
But make not faith nor love their care.

p 2 To heav'n they lift their hands unclean,
Defil'd with lust, defil'd with blood;
By night they practise every sin,
By day their mouths draw near to God.

3 And while his judgments long delay, di They grow secure, and sin the more;
They think he sleeps as well as they,
And put far off the dreadful hour.

f 4 Oh dreadful hour when God draws near,
And sets their crimes before their eyes!
ex His wrath their guilty souls shall tear, ff And no deliv'rer dare to rise.

50. FIFTH PART. 10's.—Walworth.

The last judgment.

f 1 BEHOLD, the Judge descends, his guards are nigh, mæ Tempest and fire attend him down the sky!
Heav'n, earth, and hell, draw near, let all things come,
To hear his justice, and the sinner's doom:
di "But gather first my saints," the Judge commands;
"Bring them, ye angels, from their distant lands.

l l 2 "Behold, my cov'nant stands for ever good,
Seal'd by th' eternal sacrifice in blood,
And sign'd with all their names, the Greek, the Jew,
That paid the ancient worship or the new.
—cr There's no distinction here; come spread their thrones,
And near me seat my fav'rites and my sons.

3 "I, their Almighty Saviour, and their God,
I am their judge; ye heav'ns, proclaim abroad
My just, eternal sentence, and declare ⁀ Those awful truths that sinners dread to hear.
ex. di Sinners in Zion, tremble and retire:
I doom thee, painted hypocrite, to fire!

p 4 "Silent I waited with long suff'ring love,
cr But didst thou hope that I should ne'er reprove;
And cherish such an impious thought within,
That God the righteous would indulge thy sin?
f Behold my terrors now: my thunders roll;
ex And thy own crimes affright thy guilty soul."

f l l 5 Sinners, awake betimes; ye fools, be wise;
Awake, before the dreadful morning rise;
Change your vain thoughts, your sinful works amend;
vi Fly to the Saviour, make the Judge your friend,
Lest, like a lion, his last vengeance tear
Your trembling souls, and no deliv'rer near.

50. SIXTH PART. 10's and 11's.—Walworth, or Old 50th.

The last judgment.

f l l [1 THE God of glory sends his summons forth,
Calls the south nations, and awakes the north;
From east to west the sovereign orders spread,
Through distant worlds, and regions of the dead.

ex The trumpet sounds: hell trembles;
heav'n rejoices:
vi Lift up your heads, ye saints, with cheerful voices.]

di 2 No more shall atheists mock his long delay;
His vengeance sleeps no more: behold the day;
cr Behold, the Judge descends; his guards are nigh:
Tempest and fire attend him down the sky.
vi When God appears all nature shall adore him;
While sinners tremble, saints rejoice before him.

f 3 Heav'n, earth, and hell, draw near, let all things come,
To hear his justice, and the sinner's doom:
di "But gather first my saints," the Judge commands;
"Bring them, ye angels, from their distant lands."
vi When Christ returns, wake every cheerful passion;
f And shout, ye saints, he comes for your salvation.

di 4 Behold, his cov'nant stands for ever good,
Seal'd by th' eternal sacrifice in blood,
And sign'd with all their names, the Greek, the Jew,
That paid the ancient worship or the new
There's no distinction here; join all your voices,
And raise your heads, ye saints, for heav'n rejoices.

5 "Here," saith the Lord, "ye angels, spread their thrones,
And near me seat my fav'rites and my sons:
di Come, my redeem'd, possess the joys prepar'd cr Ere time began; 'tis your divine reward."
vi When Christ returns, wake every cheerful passion;
And shout, ye saints, he comes for your salvation.

PAUSE.

p. ex 6 Unthinking wretch! how couldst thou hope to please
A God, a spirit, with such sinful ways?
While, with his grace and statutes on thy tongue,
Thou lov'st deceit and dost thy neighbor wrong!

cr Judgment proceeds: hell trembles; heav'n rejoices:
Lift up your heads, ye saints, with cheerful voices.

pp 7 "Silent I waited with long suff'ring love,
But didst thou hope that I should ne'er reprove;

cr And cherish such an impious thought within,
That the All-holy would indulge thy sin?"

mæ See, God appears: all nature joins t' adore him;
Judgment proceeds, and sinners fall before him.

ff. ex 8 "Behold my terrors now: my thunders roll;
And thy own crimes affright thy guilty soul;
Now like a lion shall my vengeance tear Thy bleeding heart, and no deliv'rer near!"

di Judgment concludes: hell trembles; heav'n rejoices:

vi Lift up your heads, ye saints, with cheerful voices.

51.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Darwen. Vernon.

A penitent pleading for pardon.

aff 1 SHOW pity, Lord! O Lord, forgive!
Let a repenting rebel live:
Are not thy mercies large and free?
May not a sinner trust in thee?

2 My crimes are great; but can't surpass
The power and glory of thy grace:

cr Great God! thy nature hath no bound;

di So let thy pard'ning love be found.

cr 3 Oh! wash my soul from every sin,
And make my guilty conscience clean:

di Here on my heart the burden lies,
And past offences pain mine eyes.

p 4 My lips with shame my sins confess,
Against thy law, against thy grace:
cr Lord, should thy judgments grow severe,
—di I am condemn'd; but thou art clear.

ag 5 Should sudden vengeance seize my breath,
I must pronounce thee just in death;
And if my soul were sent to hell,
Thy righteous law approves it well.

p. ex 6 Yet, save a trembling sinner, Lord,
Whose hope, still hov'ring round thy word,
Would light on some sweet promise there,
cr Some sure support against despair.

51.

SECOND PART. L. M.—Derby.
Confession of sin, original and personal.

aff 1 LORD, I am vile, conceiv'd in sin,
And born unholy and unclean;
Sprung from the man whose guilty fall
Corrupts the race, and taints us all.

di 2 Soon as we draw our infant breath,
The seeds of sin grow up for death;
Thy law demands a perfect heart;
But we're defil'd in every part.

cr 3 Great God, create my heart anew,
And form my spirit pure and true:
O make me wise betimes to spy
My danger and my remedy.

p 4 Behold, I fall before thy face,
My only refuge is thy grace;
No outward forms can make me clean,
The leprosy lies deep within.

[5 No bleeding bird or bleeding beast,
Nor hyssop branch, nor sprinkling priest,
Nor running brook, nor flood, nor sea,
Can wash the dismal stain away.]

cr 6 Jesus, my God! thy blood alone,
Hath pow'r sufficient to atone;
Thy blood can make me white as snow,
No Jewish type could cleanse me so.

di 7 While guilt disturbs and breaks my peace,
Nor flesh nor soul hath rest nor ease;
cr Lord, let me hear thy pard'ning voice,
Then shall my broken heart rejoice

51. THIRD PART. L. M.—Darwen.

The backslider's supplication.

aff 1 O THOU that hear'st when sinners cry!
Though all my crimes before thee lie,
Behold them not with angry look,
But blot their mem'ry from thy book.

2 Create my nature pure within,
And form my soul averse to sin;
Let thy good Spirit ne'er depart,
Nor hide thy presence from my heart.

3 I cannot live without thy light,
p Cast out and banish'd from thy sight:
cr Thy holy joys, my God, restore,
And guard me that I fall no more.

pp 4 Though I have griev'd thy Spirit, Lord, cr His help and comfort still afford;
aff And let a wretch come near thy throne
To plead the merits of thy Son.

PAUSE.

5 A broken heart, my God, my King,
Is all the sacrifice I bring;
The God of grace will ne'er despise
A broken heart for sacrifice.

p 6 My soul is humbled in the dust,
And owns thy dreadful sentence just;
Look down, O Lord, with pitying eye,
And save the soul condemn'd to die.

vi 7 Then will I teach the world thy ways;
Sinners shall learn thy sovereign grace;
I'll lead them to my Saviour's blood,
And they shall praise a pard'ning God.

f 8 O may thy love inspire my tongue!
Salvation shall be all my song:
And all my pow'rs shall join to bless
The Lord, my strength and righteousness

51. FOURTH PART. C. M.—Windsor.

Same subject.

aff 1 LORD, I would spread my sore distress
And guilt before thine eyes:
Against thy law, against thy grace,
How high my crimes arise!

2 Hadst thou condemn'd my soul to hell,
And crush'd my flesh to dust;
Heav'n had approv'd thy vengeance well,
And earth had own'd it just.

" [3 Born in a world of guilt, I drew Contagion with my breath;
And as my days advanc'd, I grew
A juster prey for death.]

cr 4 Cleanse me, O Lord, and cheer my soul
With thy forgiving love;
Oh, make my broken spirit whole,
And bid my pains remove.

p 5 Let not thy Spirit, Lord, depart,
Nor drive me from thy face;
Create anew my sinful heart,
And fill it with thy grace.

cr 6 Then will I make thy mercy known
Before the sons of men;
Backsliders shall address thy throne.
And turn to God again.

51. FIFTH PART. C. M.—Burfora.

Repentance and faith in the blood of Christ.

aff 1 O GOD of mercy! hear my call,
My load of guilt remove:
Break down this separating wall,
That bars me from thy love.

2 Give me the presence of thy grace;
Then my rejoicing tongue
vi Shall speak aloud thy righteousness,
And make thy praise my song.

" 3 No blood of goats, nor heifers slain,
For sin could e'er atone;
The death of Christ shall still remain Sufficient and alone.

cr 4 A soul oppress'd with sin's desert,
My God will ne'er despise;
di An humble groan, a broken heart,
Is our best sacrifice.

52.

C. M.—Peterborough. Rochester.

The wicked will be destroyed; but the righteous saved.

" 1 WHY should the wicked make their boast,
And heav'nly grace despise?
In their own arm they put their trust,
Mid violence and lies.

cr 2 Our God in vengeance will destroy,
And banish from his face,
Th' implacable that thus annoy
The children of his grace.

d 3 But like a beauteous cultur'd grove,
Dress'd in immortal green,
Thy saints abiding in thy love,
Within thy courts are seen.

⌒ 4 On thine eternal grace, O Lord,
Thy children rest secure;
And all who trust thy holy word,
Will find salvation sure.

Anon.

53.

C. M.—Rochester.

Folly of the enemies of Zion.

" 1 ARE all the foes of Zion fools,
Who thus devour her saints?
Do they not know her Saviour rules,
And pities her complaints?

vi 2 They shall be seiz'd with dread surprise:
The Lord's avenging arm
Shall crush the impious foes that rise
To do his children harm.

3 In vain the sons of Satan boast
Of armies in array:
When God on high dismays their host,
di They fall an easy prey.

⌒ 4 O for a word from Zion's King,
Her captives to restore!
Jacob with all his tribes shall sing,
And Judah weep no more.

54.

S. P. M.—as 122.—Dalston.

Prayer for deliverance from enemies.

ff 1 MY God, preserve my soul;
Oh, make my spirit whole!

To save me, let thy strength appear:
Strangers my path surround;
cr Their pride and rage confound,
And bring thy great salvation near.

2 Those that against me rise,
Are aliens from the skies;
They hate thy church and kingdom, Lord;
They mock thy fearful name;
They glory in their shame;
Nor heed the wonders of thy word.

m. 3 But O, thou King divine,
My chosen friends are thine;
The men that still my soul sustain:
Wilt thou my foes subdue;
And form their hearts anew;
And snatch them from eternal pain?

vi 4 Escap'd from every wo,
O grant me here below,
To praise thy name with those I love;
And when beyond the skies,
Our souls unbodied rise,
Unite us in the realms above.

Dwight.

55.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Burford.

Support for the afflicted and tempted soul.

aff 1 O GOD, my refuge, hear my cries,
Behold my flowing tears;
For earth and hell my hurt devise,
And triumph in my fears.

2 Their rage is levell'd at my life,
My soul with guilt they load;
And fill my thoughts with inward strife
To shake my hope in God.

3 O were I like some gentle dove,
And innocence had wings,
I'd fly, and make a long remove
From all these restless things.

di 4 Let me to some wild desert go,
And find a peaceful home,
Where storms of malice never blow
Temptations never come.

PAUSE.—Barby.

aff 5 By morning light I'll seek his face,
At noon repeat my cry;
The night shall hear me ask his grace,
Nor will he long deny.

6 God shall preserve my soul from fear
And shield me when afraid:
cr 'Ten thousand angels must appear,
If he command their aid.

7 I cast my burdens on the Lord,
The Lord sustains them all;
My courage rests upon his word,
That saints shall never fall.

8 My highest hope shall not be vain,
My lips shall speak his praise,
di While cruel and deceitful men
Scarce live out half their days.

55. SECOND PART. S. M.—Psalm 25.

Dangerous prosperity of the wicked; or, daily devotion encouraged.

aff 1 LET sinners take their course,
And choose the road to death;
cr But in the worship of my God
I'll spend my daily breath.

di 2 My thoughts address the throne,
When morning brings the light;
I seek his blessings every noon,
And pay my vows at night.

3 Thou wilt regard my cries,
O my eternal God!
cr While sinners perish in surprise,
Beneath thine angry rod.

p 4 Because they dwell at ease,
And no sad changes feel;
They neither fear nor trust thy name,
Nor learn to do thy will.

cr 5 But I with all my cares
Will lean upon the Lord;
I'll cast my burdens on his arm,
And rest upon his word.

f 6 His arm shall well sustain
The children of his love;
The ground on which their safety stands
No earthly power can move.

56.

C. M.—Moreland.

Trust in God during seasons of great peril or persecution.

aff 1 O THOU whose justice reigns on high,
And makes th' oppressor cease;
Behold how envious sinners try
To vex and break my peace.

2 They wrest my words to mischief still,
Charge me with unknown faults;
Mischief doth all their counsels fill,
And malice, all their thoughts.

3 The sons of violence and lies
Join to devour me, Lord;
But as my hourly dangers rise,
My refuge is thy word.

ff 4 In God, most holy, just, and true,
I have repos'd my trust;
Nor will I fear what man can do,
The offspring of the dust.

PAUSE.—Barby. ex.

p 5 God counts the sorrows of his saints,
Their groans affect his ears;
Thou hast a book for my complaints,
A bottle for my tears.

cr 6 When to thy throne I raise my cry,
The wicked fear and flee:
So swift is prayer to reach the sky,
So near is God to me.

— 7 Thy solemn vows are on me, Lord;
Thou shalt receive my praise:
vi I'll sing how faithful is thy word,
How righteous are thy ways.

8 Thou hast secur'd my soul from death,
O set thy servant free;
f That heart and hand, and life and breath
May be employ'd for thee.

57.

L. M.—Seasons. Repose.
Praise for divine protection.

aff 1 MY God, in whom are all the springs
Of boundless love and grace unknown, di Hide me beneath thy spreading wings,
Till the dark cloud is overblown.

2 Up to the heav'ns I send my cry;
The Lord will my desires perform;
cr He sends his angels from the sky,
And saves me from the threat'ning storm.

f 3 Be thou exalted, O my God,
Above the heav'ns where angels dwell;
Thy pow'r on earth be known abroad,
While land to land thy wonders tell.

PAUSE.—Park-street.

f 4 My heart is fix'd—my song shall raise Immortal honors to thy name:
" Awake, my tongue, to sound his praise—
My tongue, the glory of my frame.

5 High o'er the earth his mercy reigns,
And reaches to the utmost sky;
His truth to endless years remains,
When lower worlds dissolve and die.

f 6 Be thou exalted, O my God,
Above the heav'ns where angels dwell;
Thy power on earth be known abroad,
While land to land thy wonders tell.

58.

L. P. M.—St. Helen's.
Warning to magistrates.

1 JUDGES, who rule the world by laws,
Will ye despise the righteous cause,
When the oppress'd before you stand?
Dare you condemn the virtuous poor,
And let the rich escape secure,
Whose gold and influence bribe your hand?

2 God is your judge, and he alone;
O have you never, never known,
cr That high in heav'n his justice reigns?
" Yet ye invade the rights of God,
And send your bold decrees abroad,
To bind the conscience in your chains.

ag 3 When once HE thunders from the sky,
Your grandeur melts, your titles die,
Your pow'r is crumbled to the dust:
As empty chaff, when whirlwinds rise,
Before the sweeping tempest flies,
p Your hopes shall be for ever lost.

cr 4 Thus will the vengeance of the Lord
Safety and joy to saints afford;
While all that hear shall join and say—
"Sure there's a God that rules on high,
A God that hears his children cry,
And waits their suff'rings to repay."

59.

FIRST PART. S. P. M.—Dalston. ex.
Miserable end of the wicked.

ag 1 WHEN God in wrath shall come
To tell the sinner's doom, ex What anguish shall the wicked tear!
The men that slight his name,
That boast of sin and shame,
No more shall ask, "What God can hear?"

ll 2 Thou hear'st, Omniscient Lord,
Each curse and idle word,
And all the scoffs of lips profane;
di And when the night of death,
p Shall stop their fleeting breath,
Their souls shall seek for peace in vain.

aff 3 Oh, how will sinners need
An advocate to plead,
Accepted, at thine awful throne!
How in that solemn hour
Would faith's transcendent power
Outweigh all things beneath the sun!

v 4 Yet save their souls, O Lord;
Subdue them by thy word,
Though all their pow'rs oppose thy reign:
Now may thy foes submit,
And bow beneath thy feet,
cr Nor let them read thy wrath in vain.

Dwight

59.

SECOND PART. S. M.—Aylesbury.
Complaint against persecutors.

aff 1 FROM foes that round us rise,
O God of heaven, defend;
Who brave the vengeance of the skies
And with thy saints contend.

di 2 Beneath the silent shade
Their secret plots they lay,
Our peaceful walls by night invade,
And waste the fields by day.

cr 3 Yet save them, Lord, from death;
Subdue them by thy word;
f Confound their counsels with thy breath,
p But pard'ning grace afford.

vi 4 Then shall our grateful voice
Proclaim our guardian God;
The nations round the earth rejoice,
And sound thy praise abroad.

Anon.

60.

C. M.—Windsor.
Prayer against war.

aff 1 LORD, thou hast scourg'd our guilty land;
Behold thy people mourn;
cr Shall wrath still guide thy powerful hand,
di And mercy ne'er return?

mæ 2 Beneath the terrors of thine eye,
Earth's haughtiest towers decay;
Thy frowning mantle spreads the sky,
And mortals melt away.

ag 3 How Zion trembles at the stroke,
And dreads thy lifted hand!
p O heal the people thou hast broke,
And spare our guilty land.

aff 4 Save, save us from the bloody field;
Save those that fear thy name:
From hosts of foes our nation shield,
And put their hopes to shame.

vi 5 Then shall our loud and thankful voice,
Proclaim our guardian God:
The nation shall in thee rejoice,
And sound thy praise abroad.

S. M.—Dunbar.
Safety in God.

aff 1 WHEN, overwhelm'd with grief,
My heart within me dies,
Helpless and far from all relief,
To heav'n I lift mine eyes.

2 O lead me to the rock
That's high above my head,
And make the covert of thy wings
My shelter and my shade.

di 3 Within thy presence, Lord,
For ever I'll abide,
cr Thou art the tower of my defence,
The refuge where I hide.

4 Thou givest me the lot
Of those that fear thy name;
If endless life be their reward,
I shall possess the same.

62.

L. M.—Seasons. Derby.
Trust in God; but no confidence in the creature

aff 1 MY spirit looks to God alone,
My rock and refuge is his throne,
In all my fears, in all my straits,
My soul for his salvation waits.

2 Trust him, ye saints, in all your ways,
Pour out your hearts before his face;
When helpers fail, and foes invade,
God is our all-sufficient aid.

p 3 Trust not the men of high degree,
Or low—for they are vanity:
Laid in God's balance, both appear
Light as a puff of empty air.

4 Make not increasing gold your trust,
Nor set your hearts on glitt'ring dust:
Why will you grasp the fleeting smoke,
And not believe what God hath spoke?

f 5 Once hath his awful voice declar'd;
Once and again our ears have heard;
All power is his eternal due;
He must be fear'd and trusted too.

6 For sovereign power reigns not alone,
Grace is a partner of the throne;
Thy grace and justice, mighty Lord,
Shall well divide our last reward.

63.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Colchester.
The morning of the Lord's day.

1 EARLY, my God, without delay,
I haste to seek thy face;
My thirsty spirit faints away,
Without thy cheering grace.

di 2 So pilgrims on the scorching sand,
Beneath a burning sky,
Long for a cooling stream at hand,
And they must drink or die.

cr 3 I've seen thy glory and thy power
Through all thy temple shine;
My God, repeat that heav'nly hour,
That vision so divine.

4 Not life itself with all its joys
Can my best passions move;
Or raise so high my cheerful voice,
As thy forgiving love.

5 Thus till my last expiring day,
I'll bless my God and King;
f Thus will I lift my hands to pray,
And tune my lips to sing.

63.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Coventry.
Midnight thoughts recollected.

1 'TWAS in the watches of the night
I thought upon thy power;
I kept thy lovely face in sight,
Amid the darkest hour.

2 While I lay resting on my bed
My thoughts arose on high;
cr My God, my life, my hope, I said,
Bring thy salvation nigh.

3 I strive to mount thy holy hill,
And climb the heav'nly road;
And thy right hand upholds me still,
When I commune with God.

di 4 Thy mercy stretches o'er my head
The shadow of thy wing;
cr My heart rejoices in thine aid,
And I thy praises sing.

cx 5 But the destroyers of my peace,
Shall vent their rage in vain:
The tempter and his power shall cease,
And all my sins be slain.

63. THIRD PART. L. M.—Stonefield.

Adoption.

1 GREAT God, indulge my humble claim,
Thou art my hope, my joy, my rest;
vi The glories that compose thy name
Stand all engag'd to make me blest.

di 2 Thou great and good, thou just and wise,
Thou art my Father, and my God;
And I am thine by sacred ties,
Thy son, thy servant, bought with blood.

aff 3 With heart, and eyes, and lifted hands,
For thee I long, to thee I look;
As travellers in thirsty lands
Pant for the cooling water brook.

ri 4 With early feet I love t' appear
Among thy saints, and seek thy face;
Oft have I seen thy glory there,
And felt the power of sovereign grace.

f 5 I'll lift my hands, I'll raise my voice,
While I have breath to pray or praise;
This work shall make my heart rejoice,
And spend the remnant of my days.

63. FOURTH PART. S. M.—Watchman.

Seeking God.

aff 1 MY God, permit my tongue
This joy, to call thee mine;
And let my early cries prevail
To taste thy love divine.

2 My thirsty, fainting soul
Thy mercy doth implore:
Not travellers in desert lands
Can pant for waters more.

3 Within thy churches, Lord,
I long to find a place;
Thy power and glory to behold,
And feel thy quick'ning grace.

p 4 For life without thy love
No relish can afford;
cr No joy can be compar'd with this,
To serve and please the Lord.

5 To thee I'll lift my hands;
f I'll praise thee, while I live;
Not the rich dainties of a feast,
Such food or pleasures give.

PAUSE.

l l 6 In wakeful hours of night
I call my God to mind;
I think how wise thy counsels are,
And all thy dealings kind.

7 Since thou hast been my help,
To thee my spirit flies;
And on thy watchful providence,
My cheerful hope relies.

di 8 The shadow of thy wings
My soul in safety keeps:
cr I follow where my Father leads,
And he supports my steps.

S. P. M.—Dalston.
Prayer in reference to revilers.

aff l l 1 SAVE me from evil men,
The impious and profane,
That would thy heritage destroy;
How bitter are their words,
More keen than pointed swords,
To wound our peace, and mar our joy.

2 Together they prepare
The secret pit or snare,
Nor think that God will see or know;
While those who tread that way,
The thoughtless and the gay,
Pursue the path to endless wo.

3 Yet while against the skies,
Such men of malice rise,
Thine hand oft sweeps them to the grave;
f Oh then, beyond the tomb,
How dreadful is their doom,
Where no kind arm is found to save!

ff 4 But if thy sovereign grace,
Reclaims them from their ways,
vi The saints shall bid their songs arise;
The world shall see and hear,
Sinners in Zion fear,
And bow before th' offended skies.

Dwight.

65.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Uxbridge. Luton.
Public prayer and praise.

1 THE praise of Zion waits for thee,
And praise, O God, becomes thy house;
There shall thy saints thy glory see,
And there perform their public vows.

p 2 O thou, whose mercy bends the skies,
To save when humble sinners pray;
cr All lands to thee shall lift their eyes,
And every yielding heart obey.

vi 3 Blest is the man whom thou wilt choose,
And give him kind access to thee;
Give him a place within thy house,
To taste thy love divinely free.

ex 4 Let scoffers fear when Zion prays, Rebels prepare for long distress;
mæ When Zion's God himself arrays
In terror and in righteousness.

ag 5 With dreadful glory God fulfils
What his afflicted saints request,
When his avenging arm reveals di That love which gives his churches rest.

vi 6 Then will the flocking nations run
To Zion's hill, and own their Lord;
The rising and the setting sun
Shall see the Saviour's name adored.

65. SECOND PART. L. M.—Park-street.

A summer's morning.

vi 1 AT God's command the morning ray
Smiles in the east and leads the day;
Seasons and times obey his voice,
The evening and the morn rejoice.

2 'Tis from his wat'ry stores on high,
He gives the thirsty ground supply.
The yielding earth made soft with show'rs,
Dresses herself with plants and flow'rs.

3 The desert grows a fruitful field,
Abundant food the valleys yield:
f The plains lift up their cheerful voice,
The hills repeat the echoing joys.

4 Thy works pronounce thy power divine,
O'er every field thy glories shine;
Through every month thy gifts appear;
Great God, thy goodness crowns the year.

65. THIRD PART. C. M.—Barby.

Worship in the house of God.

1 PRAISE waits in Zion, Lord, for thee;
There shall our vows be paid;
Thou hast an ear when sinners pray;
All flesh shall seek thine aid.

aff 2 Lord, our iniquities prevail,
But pard'ning grace is thine;
And thou wilt grant us pow'r and skill
To conquer every sin.

vi 3 Blest are the men whom thou wilt choose
To bring them near thy face;
Give them a dwelling in thy house,
To feast upon thy grace.

4 In answering what thy church requests,
f Thy truth and terror shine;
And works of dreadful righteousness
Fulfil thy kind design.

di 5 Thus shall the wond'ring nations see
The Lord is good and just;
And distant islands fly to thee,
And make thy name their trust.

65. FOURTH PART. C. M.—Coventry.

God's providential care in the seasons, &c.

f 1 'TIS by thy strength the mountains stand,
God of eternal pow'r;
di The sea grows calm at thy command,
p And tempests cease to roar.

cr 2 Thy morning light and evening shade Successive comforts bring;
Thy plenteous fruits make harvest glad,
Thy flow'rs adorn the spring.

3 Seasons, and times, and months, and hours
Heav'n, earth, and air, are thine;
When clouds distil in fruitful show'rs,
The Author is divine.

4 Those wand'ring fountains in the sky,
Borne by the winds around,
With wat'ry treasures well supply
The furrows of the ground.

5 The thirsty ridges drink their fill,
And ranks of corn appear;
Thy ways abound with blessings still,
Thy goodness crowns the year.

65. FIFTH PART. C. M.—Retirement. Coventry.

Spring, for the husbandman.

vi 1 GOOD is the Lord, the heav'nly King,
Who makes the earth his care;
Visits the pastures every spring,
And bids the grass appear.

2 The clouds, like rivers rais'd on high,
Pour out at thy command
Their wat'ry blessings from the sky,
To cheer the thirsty land.

3 The soften'd ridges of the field
Permit the corn to spring;
The valleys rich provisions yield,
And cheerful lab'rers sing.

4 The little hills on every side
Rejoice at falling show'rs;
The meadows, drest in all their pride,
Perfume the air with flow'rs.

di 5 The barren clods refresh'd with rain, Promise a joyful crop;
cr The parching grounds look green again,
And raise the reaper's hope.

6 The various months thy goodness crowns,
How bounteous are thy ways!
The bleating flocks spread o'er the downs,
f And shepherds shout thy praise.

66.

FIRST PART. C. M.—New Cambridge.
Praise to the Creator.

f 1 SING, all ye nations, to the Lord,
Sing with a joyful noise;
With melody of sound record
His honors and your joys.

2 Say to the power that rules the sky,
mæ How terrible art thou!
Sinners before thy presence fly,
di Or at thy footstool bow.

ff 3 God made the ebbing channel dry,
When Israel pass'd the flood;
Then did the church renew their joy,
And triumph in their God.

cr 4 Through watery deeps and fiery ways
We march at thy command;
Led to possess the promis'd place
By thine unerring hand.

f 5 O bless our God, and never cease;
Ye saints, fulfil his praise;
He keeps our life, maintains our peace,
And guides our doubtful ways.

66.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Barby. ex.
Praise for hearing prayer.

1 NOW shall my solemn vows be paid
To that Almighty Power,
Who heard the long requests I made
In my distressful hour.

2 My lips and cheerful heart prepare
To make his mercies known;
Come, ye who fear my God, and hear
The wonders he hath done.

aff 3 When on my head sharp sorrows fell,
I sought his heav'nly aid;
He sav'd my sinking soul from hell,
p And death's eternal shade.

ff 4 Had sin lain cover'd in my heart,
While prayer employ'd my tongue,
The Lord had shown me no regard,
Nor I his praises sung.

vi 5 But God—his name be ever blest—
Hath set my spirit free;
He listen'd to my poor request,
Nor turn'd his heart from me.

67. FIRST PART. C. M.—Colchester.

Prayer for the enlargement of the church.

vi 1 SHINE, mighty God, on Zion shine,
With beams of heav'nly grace;
Reveal thy pow'r through all the land,
And show thy smiling face.

2 When shall thy name from shore to shore
Sound through the earth abroad,
And distant nations know and love
Their Saviour and their God?

cr 3 Sing to the Lord, ye distant lands,
f Sing loud with solemn voice;
Let every tongue exalt his praise,
And every heart rejoice.

4 Earth shall obey his high command,
And yield her full increase;
And God will crown each chosen land
With fruitfulness and peace.

67. SECOND PART. S. M.—Watchman. Clapton.

Same subject.

p 1 TO bless thy chosen race,
In mercy, Lord, incline;
And cause the brightness of thy face
On all thy saints to shine.

cr 2 That so thy wondrous way
May through the world be known;
While distant lands their homage pay,
And thy salvation own.

f 3 O, let them shout and sing
To thee in pious mirth;
For thou, the righteous Judge and King,
Shalt govern all the earth.

4 Let diff'ring nations join
To celebrate thy fame;
Let all the world, O Lord, combine
To praise thy glorious name.

T. & B.

67.

THIRD PART. 7's.—Nuremburg.
Same subject.

1 ON thy church, O Power divine,
Cause thy glorious face to shine;
Till the nations from afar,
Hail her as their guiding star.

cr 2 Then shall God, with lavish hand,
Scatter blessings o'er the land;
And the world's remotest bound,
With the voice of praise resound.

Spirit of the Psalms.

68.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Luther's Hymn.
Destruction of God's enemies, and salvation of his children.

mæ 1 GOD will arise in awful might,
And put the hosts of hell to flight;
As smoke that sought to clothe the skies,
Before the rising tempest flies.

ag 2 See him array'd in burning flame,
To vindicate his glorious name;
While justice bids his foes expire,
Like yielding wax before the fire!

3 And while his thunders rend the sky,
His name, Jehovah, sounds on high;
vi Sing to his name, ye sons of grace;
Ye saints, rejoice before his face.

4 He breaks the captive's heavy chain,
And pris'ners see the light again;
ex But rebels that dispute his will,
Must dwell in chains and darkness still.

f 5 Kingdoms and thrones to God belong,
Crown him, ye nations, in your song;
His wondrous works and powers rehearse,
His honors shall enrich your verse.

ag 6 He shakes the heav'ns with loud alarms;
How terrible is God in arms!
di In Zion are his mercies known;
Zion is his peculiar throne.

cr 7 Proclaim him king, pronounce him blest;
He's your defence, your joy, your rest;
When terrors rise, and nations faint,
God is the strength of every saint.

68.

SECOND PART. L. M.—Park-street.
Christ's ascension, and the gift of the Spirit.

vi. f 1 LORD, when thou didst ascend on high,
Ten thousand angels fill'd the sky;
Those heav'nly guards around thee wait,
Like chariots that attend thy state.

2 Not Sinai's mountain could appear
More glorious when the Lord was there;
While he pronounc'd his holy law,
And struck the chosen tribes with awe.

3 How bright the triumph none can tell,
When the rebellious powers of hell,
That thousand souls had captive made,
Were all in chains like captives led.

4 Rais'd by his Father to the throne,
He sent the promis'd Spirit down,
With gifts and grace for rebel men,
That God might dwell on earth again.

69.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Rochester.
Sufferings of Christ for sinners.

1 FATHER, I sing thy wondrous grace,
I bless my Saviour's name;
Who bought salvation for the poor,
And bore the sinner's shame.

2 His deep distress hath rais'd us high,
His duty and his zeal
Fulfill'd the law, which mortals broke,
And finish'd all thy will.

3 His dying groans, his living songs,
Shall better please my God,
Than harp or trumpet's solemn sound,
Than goats' or bullocks' blood.

4 This shall his humble follow'rs see,
And set their hearts at rest;
They by his death draw near to thee,
And live for ever blest.

[5 Zion is thine, most holy God,
Thy Son shall bless her gates;
And glory purchas'd by his blood,
For thy own Israel waits.]

f 6 Let heav'n and all that dwell on high
To God their voices raise;
While lands and seas assist the sky,
And join t' advance the praise.

69.

SECOND PART. L. M.—Darwen. Vernon.
Sufferings of Christ, and the sinner's salvation.

aff 1 DEEP in our hearts let us record
The deeper sorrows of our Lord;
Behold the rising billows roll,
To overwhelm his holy soul.

[2 In long complaints he spends his breath,
While hosts of hell and pow'rs of death,
And all the sons of malice join
To execute their curs'd design.]

3 Yet, gracious God, thy power and love
Have made the curse a blessing prove;
Those dreadful suff'rings of thy Son,
Aton'd for crimes which man had done.

4 The pangs of our expiring Lord,
The honors of thy law restor'd;
His sorrows made thy justice known,
And paid for follies not his own.

ex 5 Oh, for his sake, our guilt forgive,
And let the mourning sinner live!
cr The Lord will hear us in his name,
Nor shall our hope be turned to shame.

70.

FIRST PART. 7's.—German Hymn.
Prayer against spiritual enemies.

aff 1 HASTEN, Lord, to my release,
Haste to help me, O my God!
Foes, like armed bands increase;
Turn them back the way they trod.

vi. ag 2 Dark temptations round me press,
Evil thoughts my soul assail;
Doubts and fears in my distress,
Rise till flesh and spirit fail.

3 Those that seek thee, shall rejoice,
p I am bow'd with misery;
cr Yet I make thy law my choice;
Turn, my God, and look on me.

4 Thou mine only Helper art,
My Redeemer from the grave:
Strength of my weak troubled heart,
vi Do not tarry—haste to save.

Montgomery.

70.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Park-street.
Same subject.

m 1 O THOU whose hand the Kingdom sways,
Whom earth, and hell, and heav'n obeys;
To help thy chosen sons appear,
And show thy pow'r and glory near.

vi 2 O haste, with every gift inspir'd,
With glory, truth, and grace attir'd;
Thou Star of heaven's eternal morn,
Thou Sun whom beams divine adorn!

f. m 3 Assert the honor of thy name;
O'erwhelm thy foes with fear and shame;
Bid them beneath thy footstool lie,
p Nor let their souls for ever die.

ri 4 Saints shall be glad before thy face,
And grow in love, and truth, and grace;
Thy church shall blossom in thy sight,
And yield her fruits of pure delight.

5 O hither, then, thy footsteps bend:
vi Swift as a roe, from hills descend;
di Mild as the Sabbath's cheerful ray, cr Till life unfolds eternal day.

Dwight.

71.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Rochester.
The aged saint's reflection and hope.

1 MY GOD, my everlasting hope,
I live upon thy truth;
Thy hands have held my childhood up,
And strengthen'd all my youth.

2 Still has my life new wonders seen Repeated every year;
Behold my days that yet remain,
I trust them to thy care.

aff 3 Cast me not off when strength declines,
When hoary hairs arise;
And round me let thy glory shine,
p Whene'er thy servant dies.

cr 4 Then in the hist'ry of my age,
When men review my days,
They'll read thy love in every page,
In every line thy praise.

71.

SECOND PART. C. M.—New Cambridge.
Christ our strength and righteousness.

vi.f 1 MY Saviour, my Almighty friend,
When I begin thy praise,
Where will the growing numbers end,
The numbers of thy grace?

2 Thou art my everlasting trust,
Thy goodness I adore;
And since I knew thy graces first,
I speak thy glories more.

3 My feet shall travel all the length
Of the celestial road:
And march with courage in thy strength,
To see my Father, God.

p 4 When I am fill'd with sore distress
For some surprising sin;
cr I'll plead thy perfect righteousness,
And mention none but thine.

f 5 How will my lips rejoice to tell
The vict'ries of my King;
My soul redeem'd from sin and hell,
Shall thy salvation sing.

[6 My tongue shall all the day proclaim
My Saviour and my God;
His death has brought my foes to shame,
And sav'd me by his blood.]

ff 7 Awake, awake, my tuneful pow'rs:
With this delightful song,
di I'll entertain the darkest hours,
Nor think the season long.

71. THIRD PART. C. M.—Peterborough.
Prayer of the aged saint in view of death.

1 GOD of my childhood, and my youth,
The guide of all my days;
I have declar'd thy heav'nly truth,
And told thy wondrous ways.

aff 2 Wilt thou forsake my hoary hairs,
And leave my fainting heart?
Who shall sustain my sinking years
If God, my strength, depart?

cr 3 Let me thy power and truth proclaim
To the surviving age;
And leave a savor of thy name
When I shall quit the stage.

p 4 The land of silence and of death, Attends my next remove;
cr Oh may these poor remains of breath
Teach the wide world thy love.

PAUSE.—Coventry.

ff 5 Thy righteousness is deep and high,
Unsearchable thy deeds;
Thy glory spreads beyond the sky,
And all my praise exceeds.

cr 6 Oft have I heard thy threat'ning voice,
p And sunk with inward grief;
But mid the loss of transient joys,
cr Thy grace was my relief.

ff 7 By long experience have I known Thy sovereign power to save;
di At thy command, I venture down,
p Securely to the grave.

pp 8 When I lie buried deep in dust,
My flesh shall be thy care;
cr These with'ring limbs with thee I trust,
f To raise them strong and fair.

71. FOURTH PART. L. M.—Luton.
God the hope of the aged.

1 LORD, I have put my trust in thee:
Turn not my confidence to shame:
cr Thy promise is a rock to me:
A tow'r of refuge is thy name.

di 2 Thou hast upheld me from the womb,
Thou wert my strength and hope in youth,
p Now trembling, bending o'er the tomb,
I lean upon thine arm of truth.

" 3 Though I have long outliv'd my peers,
And stand amid the world alone:
A stranger, left by former years,
cr I know my God, by him am known.

aff 4 Cut me not off in mine old age,
Forsake me not, in life's last hour;
The foe hath not forgot his rage,
ag The lion ravens to devour.

5 Not far, my God, not far remove;
Sin and the world still spread their snares:
Stand by me now, or they will prove Too crafty yet, for my gray hairs.

f 6 Me through what troubles hast thou brought,
Me with what consolations crown'd!
Now be thy last deliv'rance wrought;
di My soul in peace with thee be found.

Montgomery.

72.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Luton.
Universal reign of Christ on earth.

mæ 1 GREAT God, whose universal sway
The known and unknown worlds obey;
Now give the kingdom to thy Son;
Extend his pow'r, exalt his throne.

2 Thy sceptre well becomes his hand,
All heav'n submits to his command;
His justice shall avenge the poor,
And pride and rage prevail no more.

p 3 As rain on meadows newly mown,
So shall he send his influ'nce down;
His grace on fainting souls distils,
Like heav'nly dew on thirsty hills.

4 The heathen lands that lie beneath
The shades of overspreading death, cr Revive at his first dawning light,
And deserts blossom at the sight.

f 5 The saints shall flourish in His days,
Drest in the robes of joy and praise;
Peace like a river from his throne,
Shall flow to nations yet unknown.

72. SECOND PART. L. M.—Rothwell. Park-street.
Christ's kingdom among the Gentiles.

f'll 1 JESUS shall reign where'er the sun
Doth his successive journeys run;
His kingdom stretch from shore to shore,
Till moons shall wax and wane no more.

di 2 For him shall endless prayer be made,
cr And praises throng to crown his head;
p His name like sweet perfume shall rise,
With every morning sacrifice.

vi 3 People and realms of every tongue,
Dwell on his love with sweetest song;
di And infant voices shall proclaim
Their early blessings on his name.

f 4 Blessings abound where'er he reigns,
The joyful pris'ner bursts his chains;
di The weary find eternal rest,
And all the sons of want are blest.

aff 5 Where he displays his healing power,
Death and the curse are known no more
In him the tribes of Adam boast
More blessings than their father lost.

ff 6 Let every creature rise and bring Peculiar honors to our King;
Angels descend with songs again,
And earth repeat the loud Amen.

72. THIRD PART. 7's.—Song of Jubilee.
Christ's reign upon earth.

vi 1 HASTEN, Lord, the glorious time,
When beneath Messiah's sway,
Every nation, every clime,
Shall the gospel call obey.

2 Highest kings his power shall own,
Heathen tribes his name adore;
cr Satan and his host o'erthrown,
Bound in chains, shall hurt no more.

di 3 Then shall wars and tumults cease,
Then be banish'd grief and pain;
Righteousness, and joy, and peace,
Undisturb'd shall ever reign.

cr 4 Bless we then our gracious Lord,
Ever praise his glorious name;
f All his mighty acts record,
All his wondrous love proclaim.
Spirit of the Psalms.

72. FOURTH PART. 7's and 6's. P.-Missionary H.

Christ's reign upon earth as the Son of David.

f!! 1 HAIL to the Lord's anointed, Great David's greater Son!
Hail, in the time appointed,
His reign on earth begun!
He comes to break oppression,
To set the captive free;
To take away transgression,
And rule in equity.

2 He comes with succor speedy,
To those who suffer wrong:
di To help the poor and needy,
And bid the weak be strong;
To give them songs for sighing,
Their darkness turn to light,
p Whose souls condemn'd and dying,
Were precious in his sight.

cr 3 He shall come down like showers,
Upon the fruitful earth;
And love and joy, like flowers,
Spring in his path, to birth;
vi Before him, on the mountains,
Shall peace, the herald go;
And righteousness, in fountains,
From hill to valley flow.

4 For him shall prayer unceasing,
And daily vows ascend;
cr His kingdom still increasing,
A kingdom without end:
The tide of time shall never
His covenant remove;
f His name shall stand for ever,
That name to us is LOVE.
Montgomery.

73. FIRST PART. C. M.—Dundee.

God our support and portion.

aff 1 GOD, my supporter and my hope,
My help for ever near;
Thine arm of mercy held me up,
When sinking in despair.

cr 2 Thy counsels, Lord, shall guide my feet
Through life's dark wilderness;
Thy hand conduct me near thy seat,
To dwell before thy face.

di 3 Were I in heav'n without my God,
'Twould be no joy to me;
And while this earth is my abode,
I long for none but thee.

p 4 What if the springs of life were broke,
And flesh and heart should faint?
cr God is my soul's eternal Rock,
The strength of every saint.

5 Behold, the sinners that remove Far from thy presence, die;
Not all the idol-gods they love,
Can save them when they cry.]

6 But to draw near to thee, my God,
Shall be my sweet employ;
f My tongue shall sound thy works abroad,
And tell the world my joy.

73. SECOND PART. L. M.—Derby.

Awful result of the sinner's prosperity.

aff 1 LORD, what a thoughtless wretch was I,
To mourn, and murmur, and repine;
To see the wicked plac'd on high,
In pride and robes of honor shine.

ex 2 But oh their end, their dreadful end!
Thy sanctuary taught me so:
On slipp'ry rocks I see them stand,
And fiery billows roll below.

p 3 Now let them boast how tall they rise,
I'll never envy them again;
There they may stand with haughty eyes,
Till they plunge deep in endless pain.

cr 4 Their fancied joys, how fast they flee!
Like dreams, as fleeting and as vain;
Their songs of richest harmony,
Are but a prelude to their pain.

5 Now I esteem their mirth and wine
Too dear, to purchase with my blood,
Lord, 'tis enough that thou art mine;
My life, my portion, and my God.

73.

THIRD PART. S. M.—Watchman. Psalm 25.
Sinners not to be envied in their prosperity.

1 SURE there's a righteous God,
Nor is religion vain;
Though men of vice may boast aloud,
And men of grace complain.

cr 2 I saw the wicked rise,
di And felt my heart repine;
cr While haughty fools, with scornful eyes
Would high in honor shine.

3 The tumult of my thought
Held me in hard suspense,
Till to thy house my feet were brought
To learn thy justice thence.

vi 4 Thy word, with light and power,
Did my mistake amend;
I saw the sinner's life before;
But here I learn'd his end.

5 On what a slippery steep
The thoughtless wretches go!
ag And oh, that dreadful fiery deep,
That waits their fall below!

p 6 Lord, at thy feet I bow,
My thoughts no more repine;
cr I call my God, my portion now,
And all my powers are thine.

74.

C. M.—Moreland.
Prayer under declension and persecution.

aff 1 WILL God for ever cast us off?
His wrath for ever smoke,
Against the people of his love—
His little chosen flock?

2 Think of the tribes, so dearly bought
With their Redeemer's blood;
Nor let thy Zion be forgot,
Where once thy glory stood.

3 Oh, come to our relief in haste,
Aloud the ruin calls;
See what a wide and fearful waste
Is made within thy walls.

[4 The wicked labor to destroy
Our heritage and rest:
"Come, let us seize at once," they cry,
"The temple and the priest."]

5 And still to heighten our distress, di Thy presence is withdrawn:
Thy wonted signs of power and grace—
p Are they for ever gone?

cr 6 Speak to our souls, and heal our wo,
Bid us no longer mourn;
Spirit of Grace, in mercy show
Thy tokens of return.

L. M.—Seasons. Duke-street.
Applied to the American Revolution.

1 TO thee, most high and holy God,
To thee, our thankful hearts we raise;
Thy works declare thy name abroad,
Thy wondrous works demand our praise.

di 2 To bondage doom'd, our chosen sons,
Beheld their foes insulting rise;
And sore oppress'd by earthly thrones,
They sought the Sovereign of the skies.

cr 3 'Twas then, great God, with equal pow'r, Arose thy vengeance and thy grace,
To scourge their legions from the shore,
And save the remnant of our race.

4 Thy hand, that form'd the restless main,
And rear'd the mountain's awful head,
Bade raging seas their course restrain,
And desert wilds receive their dead.

p 5 Such deeds are never wrought by chance,
Nor can the winds such wonders show;
'Tis God, the Judge, doth one advance:
'Tis God, that lays another low.

cr 6 Let vain oppressors sink their pride,
Nor lift so high their scornful head;
But lay their violence aside,
And own the empire God has made.

76. C. M.—Remembrance.

God's destruction of his ancient enemies, the Canaanites.

1 IN Judah, God of old was known,
His name in Israel great;
In Salem stood his holy throne,
And Zion was his seat.

2 Among the praises of his saints
His dwelling place he chose;
And listen'd to their just complaints Against their haughty foes.

cr 3 At thy rebuke, O Jacob's God,
What pow'rs and empires fell!
ag Who knows the terrors of thy rod?
Thy vengeance, who can tell?

4 What power can stand before thy sight
When once thy wrath appears?
When heav'n shines round with dreadful light,
The earth adores and fears.

f 5 When God in his own sov'reign ways,
Comes down to save th' oppres'd;
The wrath of man shall work his praise,
di And he'll restrain the rest.

77. FIRST PART. C. M.—Windsor.

Feelings of despondency subdued.

aff 1 TO God I cried with mournful voice,
I sought his gracious ear:
In the sad hour when troubles rose
And fill'd my heart with fear.

2 Sad were my days, and dark my nights,
My soul refus'd relief;
I thought on God the just and wise,
But thoughts increas'd my grief.

p 3 Will he for ever cast me off?
His promise ever fail?
Has he forgot his tender love?
Shall anger still prevail?

cr 4 But I forbid this hopeless thought,
This dark despairing frame:
Rememb'ring what thy hand hath wrought,
Thy hand is still the same.

[5 I'll think again of all thy ways,
And talk thy wonders o'er;
Thy wonders of recov'ring grace—
When flesh could hope no more.

6 Grace dwells with justice on the throne;
And men that love thy word,
Have in thy holy temple known,
The counsels of the Lord.]

77. SECOND PART. 7's and 6's. P.—Ashfield.

Faith prevailing in the midst of gloom.

aff 1 IN time of tribulation,
Hear, Lord, my feeble cries;
With humble supplication
To thee my spirit flies:
My heart with grief is breaking,
Scarce can my voice complain;
Mine eyes with tears kept waking,
Still watch and weep in vain.

2 The days of old in vision,
Bring banish'd bliss to view:
The years of lost fruition,
Their joys in pangs renew:
Remember'd songs of gladness,
Through night's lone silence brought,
Strike notes of deeper sadness,
And stir desponding thought.

3 Hath God cast off for ever?
Can time his truth impair?
His tender mercy never Shall I presume to share?
Hath he his loving kindness
Shut up in endless wrath?
cr No; 'tis but human blindness,
That cannot see his path.

4 Thy way is in great waters,
Thy footsteps are unknown;
Let Adam's sons and daughters
Confide in thee alone:

Thy deeds, O Lord, are wonder;
Holy are all thy ways:
f The secret place of thunder
Shall utter forth thy praise.

Montgomery.

78. FIRST PART. C. M.—Peterborough.
Children to be instructed in the histories of God's gracious providence.

" 1 LET children hear the mighty deeds
Which God perform'd of old;
Which in our younger years we saw,
And which our fathers told.

2 He bids us make his glories known,
His works of power and grace;
And we'll convey his wonders down
Through every rising race.

3 Our lips shall tell them to our sons,
And they again to theirs;
That generations yet unborn
May teach them to their heirs.

4 Thus shall they learn, in God alone
Their hope securely stands;
That they may ne'er forget his works,
But practise his commands.

78. SECOND PART. L. M—Uxbridge. Sterling.
God's merciful dealings with his backsliding people.

" 1 GREAT God, how oft did Israel prove,
By turns thine anger and thy love!
There in a glass, our hearts may see How fickle and how false they be.

2 How soon the faithless Jews forgot
The dreadful wonders God had wrought!
Then they provok'd him to his face,
Nor fear'd his power, nor sought his grace.

cr 3 The Lord consum'd their years in pain,
And made their travels long and vain;
A tedious march through unknown ways,
Wore out their strength, and spent their days.

aff 4 Oft when they saw their brethren slain,
They mourn'd, and sought the Lord again;
Call'd him the Rock of their abode,
Their great Redeemer, and their God.

di 5 Their prayers and vows, too oft would rise
As flattering words or solemn lies;
And their rebellious tempers prove False to his cov'nant and his love.

cr 6 Yet did his sovereign grace forgive
The men deserving not to live;
His anger oft away he turn'd,
Or else with gentle flame it burn'd.

7 He saw their flesh was weak and frail,
He saw temptations still prevail;
The God of Abraham spar'd them still,
And led them to his holy hill.

79.

C. M.—Moreland.

Complaint of the church against her enemies.

ex 1 ATTEND, O Lord, while hosts of foes
Thy heritage invade;
Thy Salem has become a heap,
Thy house a ruin made.

2 Behold us, Lord, a remnant sad,
Of peace and hope forlorn!
Of every mouth the vile reproach,
Of every eye the scorn.

3 How long shall thy fierce anger burn?
How long delay thy grace?
How long thy hapless children mourn
The hidings of thy face.

cr 4 Help, Lord of Hosts, for Jesus' sake,
The glory of thy name!
Cleanse us from guilt, our hearts renew,
And wipe away our shame.

f 5 Arise, O God! and let thy hand
In awful glory shine:
Then shall our haughty raging foes
Confess thy name divine.

L. M.—Derby.

The church's prayer in time of desertion.

aff 1 GREAT Shepherd of thine Israel,
Who didst between the cherubs dwell,
And lead the tribes, thy chosen sheep,
Safe through the desert and the deep:

2 Thy church is in the desert now;
Shine from on high, and guide us through;
Turn us to thee, thy love restore:
We shall be sav'd, and sigh no more.

m 3 Great God, whom heav'nly hosts obey
How long shall we lament and pray,
And wait in vain thy kind return?
How long shall thy fierce anger burn?

p 4 Instead of cheerful wine and bread,
The saints with their own tears are fed:
cr Turn us to thee, thy love restore;
We shall be sav'd, and sigh no more.

PAUSE.

5 Hast thou not planted with thy hand,
This lovely vine within thy land?
Did not thy power defend it round,
And heavenly dews enrich the ground?

6 How did the spreading branches shoot,
Filling the land with precious fruit!
di But now, O Lord, look down and see Thy mourning vine in sad decay.

p 7 Why is its beauty thus defac'd?
Why are its fences thus laid waste?
Strangers and foes against it join,
And beasts of prey devour the vine.

cr 8 Return, Almighty God, return!
Nor longer let thy vineyard mourn:
Turn us to thee, thy love restore;
We shall be sav'd, and sigh no more.

S. M.—Clapton.

God's warning to his people.

f 1 SING to the Lord aloud,
And make a joyful noise;
God is our strength, our Saviour God,
Let Israel hear his voice.

2 "From idols false and vain,
Preserve my worship clean;
I am the Lord, who broke thy chain
Of slavery and sin.

3 "Stretch thy desires abroad,
And I'll supply them well;
But if ye will refuse your God,
If Israel will rebel;

4 "I'll leave them," saith the Lord,
"To their own lusts a prey;
And let them run the dang'rous road;
'Tis their own chosen way.

aff 5 "Yet O, that all my saints,
Would hearken to my voice;
Soon I would ease their sore complaints,
And bid their hearts rejoice.

6 "While dealing with their foes,
I'd richly feed my flock,
ei And bid them taste the stream that flows
From their eternal Rock."

L. M.—Sterling.
God the supreme ruler of rulers.

ff 1 AMONG th' assemblies of the great,
Jehovah takes his loftier seat;
The God of heav'n, as Judge, surveys
Those gods on earth, and all their ways.

2 Why should they then frame wicked laws?
Or why support th' unrighteous cause?
Why should they still oppress the poor;
And vex thy children more and more?

3 Thy ways, O God! they will not know,
Dark are the paths in which they go:
Their name of earthly "gods" is vain,
For they shall fall and die like men.

ff 4 Arise, O God, and let thy Son Possess his universal throne,
And rule the nations with his rod;
He is our Judge, and he our God.

83.

S. M.—Watchman. Clapton.
Complaint against persecutors.

aff 1 AND will the God of grace
Perpetual silence keep?
The God of justice hold his peace,
And bid his children weep?

2 Behold what cruel snares
The men of mischief spread;
The men that hate thy saints and thee,
Lift up their threat'ning head.

3 Against thy hidden ones,
Their counsels they employ:
While malice, with her watchful eye,
Pursues them to destroy.

f 4 Awake, Almighty God,
And call to mind thy power:
di Cause them to bow before thy will,
p To tremble and adore.

cr 5 Subdue their madness, Lord,
And make them seek thy name,
ag Or else their impious rage confound,
And turn their pride to shame.

f. m 6 Then shall the nations know,
That glorious, dreadful word;
JEHOVAH is thy name alone,
And thou, the sovereign Lord.

84.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Repose. Seasons.
The pleasure of public worship.

1 HOW pleasant, how divinely fair,
O Lord of Hosts! thy dwellings are:
With long desire my spirit faints,
To meet th' assemblies of thy saints.

2 My flesh would rest in thine abode;
cx My panting heart cries out for God:
My God, my King! why should I be
So far from all my joys and thee?

vi 3 Blest are the saints who sit on high,
Around thy throne of majesty;
Thy brightest glories shine above;
And all their work is praise and love.

4 Blest are the saints who find a place
Within the temples of thy grace:
There they behold thy gentler rays,
And seek thy face, and learn thy praise.

[5 Blest are the men whose hearts are set
To find the way to Zion's gate;
God is their strength, and through the road,
They lean upon their helper, God.]

6 Cheerful they walk with glowing strength
Till all shall meet in heav'n at length;
Till all before thy face appear,
And join in nobler worship there.

84. SECOND PART. L. M.—Rothwell.

Public worship; or, grace and glory.

1 GREAT God, attend while Zion sings
The joy that from thy presence springs:
To spend one day with thee on earth,
Exceeds a thousand days of mirth.

di 2 Might I enjoy the meanest place Within thy house, O God of grace;
Not tents of ease, nor thrones of power,
Should tempt my feet to leave thy door.

cr 3 God is our sun, he makes our day;
God is our shield, he guards our way
From all th' assaults of hell and sin,
From foes without and foes within.

4 All needful grace will God bestow,
And crown that grace with glory too;
" He gives us all things, and withholds
No real good from upright souls.

m. f 5 O God, our King, thy sovereign sway
The glorious hosts of heav'n obey;
While rebels at thy presence flee:
Blest is the man who trusts in thee.

84. THIRD PART. C. M.—Colchester. Chester.

[PARAPHRASED.]

Delight in the ordinances of worship.

1 MY soul, how lovely is the place,
To which thy God resorts;
'Tis heav'n to see his smiling face,
Though in his earthly courts.

mæ 2 There the great Monarch of the skies
His saving power displays:
cr And light breaks in upon our eyes,
With kind and quick'ning rays.

3 With his rich gifts the heavenly Dove di Descends and fills the place;
While Christ reveals his wondrous love,
And sends abroad his grace.

cr 4 There, mighty God, thy words declare
The secrets of thy will:
And still we seek thy mercy there,
And sing thy praises still.

PAUSE.

aff 5 My heart and flesh cry out for thee,
While far from thy abode;
When shall I tread thy courts, and see
My Saviour and my God?

p 6 To sit one day beneath thine eye,
And hear thy gracious voice,
cr Exceeds a whole eternity,
Employ'd in carnal joys.

7 Lord, at thy threshold I would wait,
While Jesus is within,
Rather than fill a throne of state,
Or live in tents of sin.

f 8 Could I command the spacious land,
And the more boundless sea;
di For one blest hour at thy right hand,
I'd give them both away.

84. FOURTH PART. H. M.—Bethesda. Weymouth.

Longing for the house of God.

1 LORD, of the worlds above,
How pleasant and how fair,
The dwellings of thy love,
Thine earthly temples are:
cr To thine abode
My heart aspires,
With warm desires,
To see my God.

[2 The sparrow for her young,
With pleasure seeks a nest,
And wand'ring swallows long
To find their wonted rest;
My spirit faints
With equal zeal,
To rise and dwell
Among thy saints.]

f 3 O happy souls, that pray
Where God appoints to hear!
O happy men that pay
Their constant service there!
They praise thee still;
And happy they
That love the way
To Zion's hill.

4 They go from strength to strength,
Through this dark vale of tears;
Till each arrives at length,
Till each in heav'n appears:
f O glorious seat,
When God, our King,
Shall thither bring
Our willing feet.

PAUSE.

f 5 To spend one sacred day
Where God and saints abide,
Affords diviner joy
Than thousand days beside;
Where God resorts,
I love it more
To keep the door,
Than shine in courts.

6 God is our sun and shield,
Our light and our defence;
With gifts his hands are fill'd,
We draw our blessings thence:
He shall bestow,
On Jacob's race,
Peculiar grace,
And glory too.

di 7 The Lord his people loves;
His hand no good withholds,
From those his heart approves;
From pure and pious souls:
cr Thrice happy he,
O God of hosts!
Whose spirit trusts
Alone in thee.

84.

FIFTH PART. H. M.—Hartford.
Longing for God's house.

1 HOW lovely and how fair,
O Lord of hosts, to me
Thy tabernacles are!
My flesh cries out for thee:
ff My heart and soul, with heav'nward fire,
To thee, the living God, aspire.

f 2 Lord God of hosts, give ear,
A gracious answer yield;
O God of Jacob, hear:
Behold, O God, our shield;
Look on thine own anointed One,
And save through thy beloved Son.

p 3 Lord, I would rather stand
A keeper at thy gate,
Than on the king's right hand,
In tents of worldly state:
To live within thy courts one day,
Is worth a thousand cast away.

cr 4 God is a sun of light,
Glory and grace to shed;
f God is a shield of might,
To guard the faithful head:
vi O Lord of hosts, how happy he,
The man who puts his trust in thee.

Montgomery.

85.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Repose. Seasons.
Deliverance begun and completed.

1 LORD thou hast call'd thy grace to mind,
Thou hast revers'd our heavy doom;
So God forgave when Israel sinn'd,
And brought his wand'ring captives home

2 Thou hast begun to set us free,
And made thy fiercest wrath abate;
Now let our hearts be turn'd to thee,
And thy salvation be complete,

3 Revive our dying graces, Lord, cr And let thy saints in thee rejoice;
Make known thy truth, fulfil thy word,
f And to thy praise attune our voice.

di.m 4 We wait to hear what God will say;
p He'll speak, and give his people peace;
cr But let them run no more astray,
Lest his returning wrath increase.

85.

SECOND PART. L. M.—Luton.
Salvation by Christ.

1 SALVATION is for ever nigh
The souls that fear and trust the Lord;
And grace descending from on high,
Fresh hopes of glory shall afford.

2 Mercy and truth on earth are met,
Since Christ the Lord came down from heav'n
By his obedience, so complete,
Justice is pleas'd, and peace is given.

cr 3 Now truth and honor shall abound,
Religion dwell on earth again;
And heav'nly influence bless the ground,
di In our Redeemer's gentle reign.

4 His righteousness is gone before
To give us free access to God;
vi Our wand'ring feet shall stray no more,
But mark his steps, and keep the road.

86.

C. M.—Arlington.
A general song of praise.

ii 1 AMONG the princes, earthly gods,
There's none hath pow'r divine;
Nor is their nature, mighty Lord,
Nor are their works, like thine.

2 The nations thou hast made, shall bring
Their off'rings round thy throne;
For thou alone dost wond'rous things,
And thou art God alone.

di 3 Lord, I would walk with holy feet,
Teach me thy heav'nly ways,
And all my wand'ring thoughts unite
In God my Father's praise.

cr 4 Great is thy mercy, and my tongue
ex Thy wondrous love shall tell;
How through thy grace my sinking soul
Rose from the depths of hell.

87.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Park-street
Rising glories of the church.

vi ii 1 GOD in his earthly temple lays Foundations for his heav'nly praise;
He likes the tents of Jacob well,
But still in Zion loves to dwell.

di 2 His mercy visits every house
That pays its night and morning vows;
But makes a more delightful stay
Where churches meet to praise and pray

cr 3 What glories were describ'd of old,
What wonders are of Zion told!
Thou city of our God below,
Thy fame shall Tyre and Egypt know di 4 Egypt and Tyre, and Greek and Jew, Shall there begin their lives anew;

cr Angels and men shall join to sing,
The hill where living waters spring.

5 When God makes up his last account
Of natives in his holy mount;
vi 'T will be an honor to appear
As one new-born or nourish'd there.

87. SECOND PART. 8's and 7's.—Ch. Hymn. Aberdeen.
Same subject.

f!! 1 GLORIOUS things of thee are spoken
Zion, city of our God;
He whose word can ne'er be broken,
Chose thee for his own abode.
On the Rock of Ages founded,
Who can shake her sure repose?
With salvation's wall surrounded,
She can smile at all her foes.

di 2 See the streams of living waters,
Springing from eternal love,
Well supply her sons and daughters,
And the fear of want remove:
Who can faint while such a river,
Onward flows her thirst t' assuage—
Grace, which like the Lord, the giver,
Never fails from age to age?

3 Round each habitation hov'ring,
See the cloud and fire appear cr For a glory and a cov'ring, di Showing that the Lord is near!
f Glorious things of thee are spoken,
Zion, city of our God;
He whose word can ne'er be broken,
Forms thee for his own abode.

Newton.

88. FIRST PART. L. M.—Vernon. Luton
Death not the end of our being.

aff 1 SHALL man, O God of light and life,
For ever moulder in the grave?
Canst thou forget thy glorious work,
Thy promise and thy power to save?

2 In those lone, silent realms of night,
Shall peace and hope no more arise?
No future morning light the tomb,
Nor day-star gild the darksome skies?

[3 Shall spring the faded world revive?
Shall waning moons their light renew?
Again shall setting suns ascend
And chase the darkness from our view?]

[4 Shall life revisit dying worms,
And spread the joyful insects' wing?
And oh, shall man awake no more,
To see thy face, thy name to sing?]

di 5 Cease, cease, ye vain desponding fears:
When Christ our Lord from darkness sprang, ex Death, the last foe, was captive led,
f And heav'n with praise and wonder rang.

vi 6 Faith sees the bright eternal doors,
Unfold to make her children way;
They shall be cloth'd with endless life,
And shine in everlasting day.

ag 7 The trump shall sound, the dead shall wake
From the cold tomb the slumb'rers spring;
ff Through heav'n with joy their myriads rise,
And hail their Saviour and their King.
Dwight.

88. SECOND PART. L. M.—Vernon.
Life the only accepted time.

aff 1 WHILE life prolongs its precious light, Mercy is found, and peace is giv'n;
cr But soon, ah, soon! approaching night,
Shall blot out every hope of heav'n.

di 2 While God invites, how blest the day!
How sweet the gospel's charming sound!
—cr Come sinners haste, oh haste away,
While yet a pard'ning God is found.

3 Soon borne on time's most rapid wing,
Shall death command you to the grave
Before God's bar your spirits bring,
And none be found to hear and save.

dr 4 In that lone land of deep despair,
No Sabbath's heav'nly light shall rise;
No God accept your sinful prayer,
Nor Saviour call you to the skies.

p 5 No wonders of redeeming love Shall to the hopeless dead be shown;
cr Nor shall they hear those songs above,
That echo round th' eternal throne.

pp 6 Silence, and solitude, and gloom,
In those forgetful realms appear;
e.x Deep sorrows fill the dismal tomb,
And hope shall never enter there.

Dwight.

88. THIRD PART. S. M.—Aylesbury.

Deliverance in time of dangerous sickness.

1 STRETCH'D on the bed of grief,
In silence long I lay;
For sore disease and wasting pain
Had worn my strength away.

2 Then to the Lord I prayed,
e.x And rais'd a bitter cry:
"Hear me, O God, and save my soul, Lest I for ever die."

p 3 He heard my humble prayer,
He sav'd my soul from death;
cr To him I'll give my heart and hands,
And consecrate my breath.

f!! 4 Ye sinners, fear the Lord,
While yet 'tis called to-day;
Soon will the awful voice of death
Command your souls away.

Dwight.

89. FIRST PART. L. M.—Duke-street.

The covenant faithfulness of God.

1 FOR ever shall my song record
The truth and mercy of the Lord;
Mercy and truth for ever stand,
Like heav'n established by his hand.

ff 2 Thus to his Son he sware and said—
"With thee my cov'nant sure is made;
In thee shall dying sinners live;
Glory and grace are thine to give.

3 "Be thou my Prophet, thou my Priest;
Thy children shall be ever blest:
Thou art my chosen King; thy throne Shall stand eternal like my own."

vi. f 4 Now let the church rejoice, and sing
Jesus her Saviour and her King:
Angels above his wonders show,
And saints declare his works below.

89.

SECOND PART. L. M.—Darwen.
For a funeral.

aff 1 REMEMBER, Lord, our mortal state,
How frail our life, how short the date!
Where is the man that draws his breath,
Safe from disease, secure from death.

2 Lord, while we see whole nations die,
Distress'd with gloomy fears we cry—
"Must death for ever rage and reign?
Or hast thou made mankind in vain?

3 "Where is thy promise to the just?
Are not thy servants turn'd to dust?"—
vi But faith forbids these mournful sighs,
And sees the sleeping dust arise.

cr 4 That glorious hour, that dreadful day,
Wipes the reproach of saints away,
And magnifies thy gracious word:
f Awake, our souls, and bless the Lord.

89.

THIRD PART. C. M.—St. Ann's.
Reverential worship.

1 WITH rev'rence let the saints appear,
And bow before the Lord;
His high commands devoutly hear di And tremble at his word.

mæ 2 Great God, how high thy glories rise!
How bright thine armies shine!
Where is the power with thee that vies,
Or truth, compar'd with thine?

[3 The northern pole and southern rest
On thy supporting hand:
Darkness and day, from east to west,
Move round at thy command.]

vi 4 Thy words the raging wind control,
And rule the boist'rous deep;
—cr Thou mak'st the sleeping billows roll.
—di The rolling billows sleep.

mæ 5 Justice and judgment are thy throne,
Yet wondrous is thy grace;
While truth and mercy join'd in one,
di Invite us near thy face.

89. FOURTH PART. C. M.—Colchester. Coventry.
A blessed gospel.

f 1 BLEST are the souls that hear and know
The gospel's joyful sound;
Peace shall attend the path they go
And light their steps surround.

vi 2 Their joy shall bear their spirits up,
Through their Redeemer's name;
His righteousness exalts their hope,
And fills their foes with shame.

3 The Lord, our glory and defence,
Strength and salvation gives;
Israel, thy King for ever reigns,
Thy God for ever lives.

89. FIFTH PART. C. M.—Remembrance.
Faithfulness of God.

vi 1 MY never-ceasing song shall show
The mercy of the Lord;
And make succeeding ages know
How faithful is his word.

2 The sacred truths his lips pronounce cr Shall firm as heav'n endure;
And if he speaks a promise once,
Th' eternal grace is sure.

l l 3 How long the race of David held
The promis'd Jewish throne!
But there's a nobler cov'nant seal'd
To David's greater Son.

4 His seed for ever shall possess
A throne above the skies;
The meanest subject of his grace
Shall to that glory rise.

f. m 5 Lord God of hosts! thy wondrous ways,
Are sung by saints above;
And saints on earth their honors raise
To thy unchanging love.

89.

SIXTH PART. L. P. M.—St. Helen's. ex.
Death and the resurrection.

aff 1 THINK, mighty God, on feeble man,
How few his hours, how short his span!
Short from the cradle to the grave;
Who can secure his vital breath
Against the bold demand of death,
With skill to fly, or pow'r to save?

2 Lord, shall it be for ever said—
"The race of man was only made For sickness, sorrow, and the dust?"
Are not thy servants, day by day,
Sent to their graves, and turn'd to clay?—
Lord, where's thy kindness to the just?

3 Hast thou not promis'd to thy Son,
And all his seed, a heav'nly crown?
di But flesh and sense indulge despair:
cr For ever blessed be the Lord,
That faith can read his holy word,
And find a resurrection there.

ri 4 For ever blessed be the Lord,
Who gives his saints a long reward,
For all their toil, reproach, and pain:
f Let all below, and all above,
Join to proclaim thy wondrous love,
And each repeat the loud Amen.

90.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Darwen.
Mortality of man.

aff 1 THROUGH every age, eternal God,
Thou art our rest, our safe abode;
High was thy throne ere heaven was made
Or earth thy humble footstool, laid.

2 Long hadst thou reign'd ere time began,
Or dust was fashion'd into man!
And long thy kingdom shall endure,
When earth and time shall be no more.

p 3 But man, weak man, is born to die,
Made up of guilt and vanity;
Thy dreadful sentence, Lord, was just,
"Return, ye sinners, to your dust!"

4 Death, like an overflowing stream,
Sweeps us away; our life's a dream,
di An empty tale, a morning flower,
—p Cut down and wither'd in an hour.

cr 5 Teach us, O Lord, how frail is man,
And kindly lengthen out our span,
Till sav'd from sin, we all may be,
Prepar'd to die and dwell with thee.

90.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Dundee. Barby. ex.
Same subject.

aff 1 O GOD, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home.

2 Beneath the shadow of thy throne
Thy saints have dwelt secure;
Sufficient is thine arm alone,
And our defence is sure.

cr 3 Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth receiv'd her frame;
From everlasting thou art God,
To endless years the same.

di 4 Thy word commands our flesh to dust—
"Return, ye sons of men;"
All nations rose from earth at first,
And turn to earth again.

[5 A thousand ages in thy sight
Are like an evening gone,
Short as the watch that ends the night
Before the rising dawn.]

cr. 6 O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Be thou our guard while troubles last,
And our eternal home.

90. THIRD PART. C. M.—Windsor.
Death the consequence of original transgression.

aff 1 LORD, if thine eyes survey our faults,
And justice grows severe,
Thy dreadful wrath exceeds our thoughts,
And burns beyond our fear.

2 Thine anger turns our frame to dust;
By one offence to thee,
Adam and all his offspring lost
Their immortality.

3 Few are the men whose days amount
To threescore years and ten;
And all beyond that short account
Is sorrow, toil, and pain.

cr vi 4 Almighty God, reveal thy love,
And not thy wrath alone;
O let our sweet experience prove
The mercies of thy throne.

5 Teach us, O Lord, the heav'nly art
T' improve the hours we have;
To serve thee with a fervent heart,
And live beyond the grave.

90. FOURTH PART. C. M.—Barby. ex. Dundee.
Breathing after heaven.

1 RETURN, O God of love, return,
Earth is a tiresome place;
How long shall we, thy children, mourn
Our absence from thy face?

2 Let heav'n succeed our painful years,
Let sin and sorrow cease;
And in proportion to our tears,
So make our joys increase.

3 Thy wonders to thy servants show,
Make thy own work complete;
cr Then shall our souls thy glory know,
And own thy love was great.

vi 4 Then shall we shine before thy throne,
In all thy beauty, Lord;
And the poor service we have done,
Meet a divine reward.

90.

FIFTH PART. S. M.—St. Giles.
Fleeting time must be improved.

aff 1 LORD, what a feeble piece
Is this our mortal frame!
Our life,—how poor a trifle 'tis,
That scarce deserves the name.

2 Alas, the brittle clay,
That built our bodies first!
And every month, and every day,
'Tis mould'ring back to dust.

3 Our moments fly apace,
Our feeble powers decay;
Swift as a flood our hasty days
Are sweeping us away.

di 4 But if our days must fly,
We'll keep their end in sight,
We'll spend them all in wisdom's ways,
cr And let them speed their flight.

vi 5 They'll waft us sooner o'er
This life's tempestuous sea
Soon we shall reach the peaceful shore
Of blest eternity.

91.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Luton.
Divine protection amid dangers.

d 1 HE that hath made his refuge God,
Shall find a most secure abode;
Shall walk all day beneath his shade,
And there at night shall rest his head.

2 Then will I say, "My God, thy power
Shall be my fortress and my tower;
I that am form'd of feeble dust,
Make thine Almighty arm my trust."

vi 3 Thrice happy man! thy Maker's care
Shall keep thee from the fowler's snare;
God is thy life, his wings are spread
To shield thee with a healthful shade.

di 4 Though vapors with malignant breath Rise thick, and scatter midnight death;
cr Still thou art safe; the poison'd air
Grows pure, if Israel's God be there.

f 5 What though a thousand prostrate lie,
Around thy path ten thousand die;
cr Thy God his chosen people saves,
Among the dead, amid the graves.

6 Yet if the plague, or fire, or sword,
Receive commission from the Lord,
To strike the saints; 't will set them free,
And bring thy children, Lord, to thee.

91. SECOND PART. C. M.—Moreland.

Same subject.

aff 1 YE sons of men, a feeble race,
Expos'd to ev'ry snare;
Come, make the Lord your dwelling place,
And trust his gracious care.

" " 2 No ill shall enter where you dwell,
Or if the plague come nigh,
And sweep the wicked down to hell,
'Twill raise the saints on high.

di 3 He'll give his angels charge to keep Your feet in all your ways;
To watch your pillow while you sleep,
And guard your happy days.

cr 4 "Because on me they set their love, I'll save them," saith the Lord;
vi "I'll bear their joyful souls above
Destruction and the sword.

5 "My grace shall answer when they call,
In trouble I'll be nigh;
My power shall help them when they fall,
And raise them when they die.

6 "Those that on earth my name have known,
I'll honor them in heav'n;
There my salvation shall be shown,
And endless life be giv'n."

91. THIRD PART. 8's and 7's.—Aberdeen.

Same subject.

" " 1 CALL Jehovah thy salvation,
Rest beneath th' Almighty's shade;
In his secret habitation
Dwell, and never be dismay'd

There no tumult can alarm thee,
Thou shalt dread no hidden snare;
Guile nor violence can harm thee,
In eternal safeguard there.

2 From the sword at noonday wasting,
From the noisome pestilence,
In the depth of midnight blasting,
God shall be thy sure defence:
Fear not thou the deadly quiver,
When a thousand feel the blow,
cr Mercy shall thy soul deliver,
di Though a thousand be laid low.

3 Since with pure and firm affection
Thou on God hast set thy love;
With the wings of his protection,
He will shield thee from above:
Thou shalt call on Him in trouble,
cr He will hearken, He will save;
Here for grief reward thee double,
Crown with life beyond the grave.

Montgomery.

92.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Rothwell. Luton.

A Psalm for the Lord's day.

1 SWEET is the work, my God, my King,
To praise thy name, give thanks and sing;
To show thy love by morning light,
And talk of all thy truth at night.

2 Sweet is the day of sacred rest,
No mortal care shall seize my breast;
O let my heart in tune be found,
Like David's harp of solemn sound.

cr 3 My heart shall triumph in my Lord,
And bless his works, and bless his word;
Thy works of grace, how bright they shine!
How deep thy counsels! how divine!

di [4 Fools never raise their thoughts so high,
Like brutes they live, like brutes they die;
Like grass they flourish, till thy breath ag Blasts them in everlasting death.]

cr 5 But I shall share a glorious part,
When grace hath well refin'd my heart,
And fresh supplies of joy are shed,
Like holy oil, to cheer my head.

6 Sin, my worst enemy before,
Shall never vex my spirit more:
My inward foes shall all be slain,
Nor Satan break my peace again.]

f 7 Then shall I see, and hear, and know
All I desir'd or wish'd below;
And every power find sweet employ
In that eternal world of joy.

92. SECOND PART. L. M.—Sterling. Uxbridge.
The church is the garden of God.

1 LORD, 'tis a pleasant thing to stand
In gardens planted by thine hand;
Let me within thy courts be seen,
Like a young cedar, fresh and green.

2 There grow thy saints in faith and love,
Blest with thine influ'nce from above;
Not Lebanon, with all its trees,
Yields such a comely sight as these.

3 The plants of grace shall ever live;
Nature decays, but grace must thrive;
Time, that doth all things else impair,
Still makes them flourish, strong and fair.

4 Laden with fruits of age, they show
The Lord is holy, just, and true;
None that attend his gates shall find
A God unfaithful or unkind.

92. THIRD PART. S. M.—Watchman.
The worship of the Sabbath.

1 SWEET is the work, O Lord,
Thy glorious name to sing;
To praise and pray—to hear thy word,
And grateful off'rings bring.

2 Sweet on this day of rest,
To join in heart and voice,
With those who love and serve thee best,
And in thy name rejoice.

3 To songs of praise and joy,
Be every Sabbath giv'n,
That such may be our blest employ,
Eternally in heav'n.

Spirit of the Psalms.

93.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Winchester.
The eternal and sovereign God.

mæ 1 JEHOVAH reigns, he dwells in light,
Girded with majesty and might;
The world, created by his hands,
Still on its first foundation stands.

p 2 But ere this spacious world was made,
Or had its first foundation laid,
cr Thy throne eternal ages stood,
Thyself, the ever-living God.

f 3 Like floods the angry nations rise,
And aim their rage against the skies;
di Vain floods that aim their rage so high,
—p At thy rebuke the billows die.

cr 4 For ever shall thy throne endure,
Thy promise stands for ever sure;
And everlasting holiness,
Becomes the dwellings of thy grace.

93.

SECOND PART. S. P. M.—Dalton.
Same subject.

f 1 THE Lord Jehovah reigns,
And royal state maintains,
His head with awful glories crown'd;
Array'd in robes of light,
Begirt with sov'reign might,
And rays of majesty around.

2 Upheld by thy commands,
The world securely stands,
And skies and stars obey the word;
Thy throne was fix'd on high,
Before the starry sks:
Eternal is thy kingdom, Lord.

ff 3 Let floods and nations rage,
And all their pow'r engage;
Let swelling tides assault the sky;
ag The terrors of thy frown
Shall beat their madness down;
Thy throne for ever stands on high di. 4 Thy promises are true,

Thy grace is ever new;

There fix'd thy church shall ne'er remove;
Thy saints with holy fear
Shall in thy courts appear,
And sing thine everlasting love.

93.

THIRD PART. 11's and 12's.—Walworth
The eternal, sovereign God.

mæ 1 THE Lord of glory reigns, he reigns on high,
His robes of state are strength and majesty;
This wide creation rose at his command,
Built by his word, and 'stablish'd by his hand:
Long stood his throne ere he began creation,
And his own Godhead is the firm foundation.

2 God is th' eternal King: thy foes in vain
Raise their rebellions to confound thy reign,
In vain the storms, in vain the floods arise,
And roar, and toss their waves against the skies:
Foaming at heav'n they rage with wild commotion,
ex But heav'n's high arches scorn the swelling ocean.

di 3 Ye tempests, rage no more; ye floods, be still,
And thou, mad world, submissive to his will;
Built on his truth his church must ever stand;
cr Firm are his promises, and strong his hand:
vi See his own sons when they appear before him,
p Bow at his footstool, and with fear adore him.

94.

C. M.—Barby. ex.
Help in God.

[1 WHO will arise and plead my right
Against my num'rous foes?
While earth and hell their powers unite,
And all my hopes oppose?]

2 Had not the Lord, my Rock, my help, Sustain'd my fainting head;
li My life had now in silence dwelt,
p My soul among the dead.

ex 3 "Alas, my sliding feet," I cried,
"Thy promise was my hope;
Thy grace stood constant at my side,
Thy spirit bore me up."

ff 4 While multitudes of mournful thoughts,
Within my bosom roll;
Thy boundless love forgives my faults,
Thy comforts cheer my soul.

5 The powers of earth may proudly rise,
And frame oppressive laws;
vi But God, my refuge, rules the skies,
He will defend my cause.

95.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Channing. Barby.
Before prayer.

mv 1 SING to the Lord Jehovah's name,
And in his strength rejoice;
When his salvation is our theme,
Exalted be our voice.

2 With thanks approach his awful sight,
And psalms of honor sing;
The Lord's a God of boundless might,
The whole creation's King.

3 Earth, with its caverns dark and deep,
Lies in his spacious hand:
He fix'd the seas what bounds to keep,
And where the hills must stand.]

ar 4 Come and with humble souls adore,
Come kneel before his face;
O, may the creatures of his pow'r
Be children of his grace.

p 5 Now is the time; he bends his ear
And waits for your request:
f. ag Come, lest he rouse his wrath and swear—
"Ye shall not see my rest!"

95.

SECOND PART. S. M.—Clapton.
Before sermon.

1 COME sound his praise abroad,
And hymns of glory sing;
Jehovah is the sovereign God,
The universal King.

2 He form'd the deeps unknown;
He gave the seas their bound,
The wat'ry worlds are all his own,
And all the solid ground.

p 3 Come worship at his throne,
Come bow before the Lord;
We are his works, and not our own,
He formed us by his word.

cr 4 To-day attend his voice,
Nor dare provoke his rod:
Come, like the people of his choice,
And own your gracious God.

f.ex 5 But if your ears refuse
The language of his grace,
And hearts grow hard, like stubborn Jews,
That unbelieving race:

ag 6 The Lord, in vengeance drest,
Will lift his hand and swear,
"You that despise my promis'd rest Shall have no portion there."

95.

THIRD PART. L. M.—Luton. Quito.
Warning to delaying sinners.

1 COME, let our voices join to raise
A sacred song of solemn praise;
God is a sovereign King: rehearse
His honors in exalted verse.

2 Come, let our souls address the Lord,
Who fram'd our natures with his word:
He is our Shepherd, we the sheep
His mercy chose, his pastures keep.

3 Come, let us hear his voice to-day,
The counsels of his love obey;
Nor let our harden'd hearts renew,
The sins and plagues that Israel knew.

[4 Israel, that saw his works of grace,
Tempted their Maker to his face;
Abus'd the patience of their God,
And felt the anger of his rod.]

p 5 Look back, my soul, with holy dread.
And view those ancient rebels dead;
cr Attend the offer'd grace to-day,
Nor lose the blessings by delay.

vi 6 Seize the kind promise while it waits,
And march to Zion's heav'nly gates:
f Believe, and take the promis'd rest;
Obey, and be for ever blest.

95.

FOURTH PART. 8's.—Birmingham.
Public worship.

f 1 O COME, let us sing to the Lord,
In God our salvation rejoice;
In psalms of thanksgiving record
His praise, with one spirit and voice:
Jehovah is God, and he reigns
The God of all gods, on his throne;
The strength of the hills he maintains;
The ends of the earth are his own.

di 2 O come, let us worship and kneel
Before our Creator, our God,
The people who serve him with zeal,
The sheep who his pastures have trod:
To him, let us hearken to-day,—
The voice that yet speaks from above,—
And all his commandments obey,
For he that ordain'd them is love.
Montgomery.

96.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Colchester. Tolland.
Christ's first and second advent.

mæ 1 SING to the Lord, ye distant lands,
Ye tribes of every tongue;
His new-discovered grace demands
A new and nobler song.

2 Say to the nations, Jesus reigns,
God's own Almighty Son;
His power the sinking world sustains,
And grace surrounds his throne.

3 Let heav'n proclaim the joyful day;
Joy through the earth be seen;
Let cities shine in bright array,
And fields in cheerful green.

4 The joyous earth, the bending skies,
His glorious train display;
Ye mountains sink, ye valleys rise,
Prepare the Lord his way.

5 Behold he comes, he comes to bless
The nations as their God;
To show the world his righteousness,
And send his truth abroad.

ex 6 But when his voice shall raise the dead,
And bid the world draw near,
ag How will the guilty nations dread
To see their Judge appear.

96.

SECOND PART. L. P. M.—St. Helen's.
The God of the Gentiles.

vi. f 1 LET all the earth their voices raise,
To sing the choicest psalm of praise,
To sing and bless Jehovah's name:
His glory let the heathen know,
His wonders to the nations show,
And all his saving works proclaim.

2 He fram'd the globe, he built the sky,
He made the shining worlds on high,
And reigns complete in glory there:
He dwells in majesty and might,
His beauties how divinely bright;
His temple how divinely fair.

m. f 3 Come the great day, the glorious hour,
When earth shall feel his saving power,
And barb'rous nations fear his name:
vi Then shall the race of men confess
The beauty of his holiness,
And in his courts his grace proclaim.

97.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Luther's Hymn.
Rejoicing in Christ as the sovereign Judge.

mæ 1 HE reigns, the Lord, the Saviour reigns!
Praise him in pure exalted strains:
Let all the earth in songs rejoice,
And raise on high their cheerful voice

di 2 Deep are his counsels, and unknown;
But grace and truth support his throne;
p Though gloomy clouds his ways surround.
cr Justice is their eternal ground.

fag 3 In robes of judgment, lo! he comes;
Shakes the wide earth, and cleaves the tombs·
Before him burns devouring fire,
—di The mountains melt, the seas retire.

ex 4 His enemies with sore dismay, di—p Fly from the sight and shun the day:
cr Then lift your heads, ye saints, on high,
ff And shout, for your redemption's nigh.

97. SECOND PART. L. M.—Luton.

Christ's incarnation.

vi. f 1 THE Lord is come; the heav'ns proclaim
His birth; the nations learn his name:
di An unknown star directs the road
Of eastern sages, to their God.

cr 2 All ye bright armies of the skies,
Go worship where the Saviour lies;
Angels and kings before him bow,
Those gods on high, and gods below.

mæ 3 Let idols totter to the ground,
And their own worshippers confound:
f Let Judah shout, let Zion sing,
And earth confess her sovereign King.

97. THIRD PART. L. M.—Luther's Hymn.

Grace and glory.

mæ 1 TH' Almighty reigns, exalted high,
O'er all the earth, o'er all the sky;
di Though clouds and darkness veil his feet,
His dwelling is the mercy seat.

aff 2 O ye that love his holy name,
Hate every work of sin and shame;
He guards the souls of all his friends,
And from the snares of hell defends.

cr 3 Immortal light, and joys unknown,
—di Are for the saints in darkness sown:
—cr Those glorious seeds shall spring and rise,
And the bright harvest bless our eyes.

vi 4 Rejoice, ye righteous, and record
The sacred honors of the Lord;
None but the soul that feels his grace,
Can triumph in his holiness.

97. FOURTH PART. C. M.—St. Ann's.

The incarnation and the last judgment.

mæ 1 LET earth with every isle and sea,
Rejoice, the Saviour reigns;
His word, like fire, prepares his way,
And mountains melt to plains.

2 His presence sinks the proudest hills,
And makes the valleys rise;
p The humble soul enjoys his smiles,
cr—p The haughty sinner dies.

cr 3 Adoring angels at his birth,
Made the Redeemer known:
Thus shall he come to judge the earth,
And angels guard his throne.

ag 4 His foes shall tremble at his sight,
—p And hills and seas retire;
vi His children take their upward flight,
And leave the world on fire.

p 5 The seeds of joy and glory sown,
For saints in darkness here;
f Shall rise and spring in worlds unknown,
And a rich harvest bear.

98.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Peterborough.
Praise for the gospel.

vi 1 TO our Almighty Maker, God,
New honors be address'd:
His great salvation shines abroad
And makes the nations blest.

2 He spake the word to Abra'm first,
His truth fulfils the grace;
The Gentiles make his name their trust,
And learn his righteousness.

f 3 Let the whole earth his love proclaim
With all her diff'rent tongues;
And spread the honors of his name,
In rich melodious songs.

98.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Channing.
The Messiah's coming and kingdom.

vi.f 1 JOY to the world, the Lord is come,
Let earth receive her King;
Let every heart prepare him room,
And heav'n and nature sing.

2 Joy to the earth, the Saviour reigns,
Let men their songs employ;
While fields, and floods, rocks, hills, and plains
Repeat the sounding joy.

3 No more let sins and sorrows grow,
Nor thorns infest the ground;
He comes to make his blessings flow,
Far as the curse is found.

4 He rules the world with truth and grace,
And makes the nations prove
The glories of his righteousness,
And wonders of his love.

98.

THIRD PART. C. M.—Tolland.
Victorious sovereignty.

mæ 1 TO God address the joyful psalm,
Who wondrous things hath done;
Whose own right hand and holy arm,
The victory have won.

2 He to the Gentile nations round, di Hath made his mercy known;
cr And to the world's remotest bound,
His justice shall be shown.

di 3 The promis'd Saviour meekly came,
And man's full ransom paid;
cr Again he comes his own to claim,
In awful pomp array'd.

f 4 He comes with pow'r, he quits the skies,
To punish and reward;
cr Oh! let one gen'ral chorus rise,
To praise the sovereign Lord.

Spirit of the Psalms.

99.

FIRST PART. S. M.—Clapton. ex.
Christ's kingdom and majesty.

mæ 1 THE Lord Jehovah reigns,
Let all the nations fear;
di Let sinners tremble at his throne,
And saints be humbled there.

2 Jesus the Saviour reigns,
Let earth adore its Lord,
cr Bright cherubs his attendants stand,
Swift to fulfil his word.

3 In Zion stands his throne,
His honors are divine;
His church shall make his wonders known,
For there his glories shine.

mæ 4 How holy is his name!
How fearful is his praise!
Justice, and truth, and judgment join,
In all his works of grace.

99. SECOND PART. S. M.—Watchman.

A holy God worshipped with reverence

vi 1 EXALT the Lord our God,
And worship at his feet:
His ways are wisdom, pow'r, and truth;
And mercy is his seat.

" 2 When Israel was his church,
When Aaron was his priest,
When Moses cried, when Samuel pray'd,
He gave his people rest.

aff 3 Oft he forgave their sins,
Nor would destroy their race;
And oft he made his vengeance known,
When they abus'd his grace.

f 4 Exalt the Lord our God,
His grace is still the same;
Still he's a God of holiness,
And jealous for his name.

100. FIRST PART. L. M.—Park-street. Rothwell.

Praise to our Creator.

f. " 1 YE nations round the earth, rejoice
Before the Lord, your sovereign King:
Serve him with cheerful heart and voice;
With all your tongues his glory sing.

di 2 The Lord is God; 'tis he alone
Doth life, and breath, and being give:
We are his work, and not our own.
The sheep that on his pasture live.

vi. f 3 Enter his gates with songs of joy,
With praises to his courts repair;
And make it your divine employ,
To pay your thanks and honors there.

di 4 The Lord is good, the Lord is kind;
Great is his grace, his mercy sure;
cr And the whole race of man shall find
His truth from age to age endure.

100. SECOND PART. L. M.—Winchester. Rothwell.

[A PARAPHRASE.]

mæ 1 BEFORE Jehovah's awful throne,
Ye nations, bow with sacred joy;
Know that the Lord is God alone;
He can create and he destroy.

2 His sovereign power, without our aid, di Made us of clay, and form'd us men;
And when like wand'ring sheep we stray'd,
He brought us to his fold again.

" 3 We are his people, we his care,
Our souls and all our mortal frame:
cr What lasting honors shall we rear,
Almighty Maker, to thy name?

f 4 We'll crowd thy gates with thankful songs,
High as the heav'ns our voices raise:
And earth, with her ten thousand tongues,
Shall fill thy courts with sounding praise.

mæ 5 Wide as the world is thy command,
Vast as eternity thy love;
Firm as a rock thy truth shall stand,
When rolling years shall cease to move.

100.

THIRD PART. 11's and 8's.—Palestine.
Same subject.

f. " 1 BE joyful in God, all ye lands of the earth,
O serve him with gladness and fear;
Exult in his presence with holiest mirth,
With love and devotion draw near.

mæ 2 Jehovah is God, and Jehovah alone, Creator and ruler o'er all:
p And we are his people, his sceptre we own;
cr His sheep, and we follow his call.

3 O, enter his gates with thanksgiving and song,
Your vows in his temple proclaim;
His praise in melodious accordance prolong,
And bless his adorable name.

4 For good is the Lord, inexpressibly good,
And we are the work of his hand;
p His mercy and truth from eternity stood,
f And shall to eternity stand.

Montgomery.

101.

L. M.—Luton.
The magistrate's psalm.

1 MERCY and judgment are my song,
And since they both to thee belong,
My gracious God, my righteous King,
To thee my songs and vows I bring.

2 If I am rais'd to bear the sword,
I'll take my counsels from thy word;
Thy justice and thy heav'nly grace
Shall be the pattern of my ways.

3 Let wisdom all my actions guide,
And let my God with me reside;
No wicked thing shall dwell with me,
Which may provoke thy jealousy.

4 I'll seek to elevate the just,
To posts of honor and of trust;
The men that do thy holy will,
Shall be my friends and fav'rites still.

ex 5 Scoffers in vain shall hope to rise,
By flattering or malicious lies:
And while the innocent I guard,
The guilty never shall be spared.

102.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Burford.
A prayer of the afflicted.

aff 1 HEAR me, O God, nor hide thy face,
But answer, lest I die;
Hast thou not built a throne of grace
To hear when sinners cry?

[2 My days are wasted like the smoke
Dissolving in the air;
My strength is dried, my heart is broke,
And sinking in despair.]

3 As on some lonely building's top
The sparrow tells her moan;
Far from the tents of joy and hope,
I sit and grieve alone.

[4 Dark, dismal thoughts, and boding fears Dwell in my troubled breast;
While sharp reproaches wound my ears,
Nor give my spirit rest.]

5 Earth can afford no real joy,
To souls that feel thy frown:
cr-di Thou canst restore me or destroy,
cr-di Canst raise, or cast me down.

cr.vi 6 But thou for ever art the same,
O my eternal God;
Ages to come shall know thy name,
And spread thy works abroad.

7 Thou wilt arise and show thy face;
Nor will my Lord delay
Beyond th' appointed hour of grace,
That long expected day.

102. SECOND PART. C. M.—Barby. Colchester.

Prayer heard, and Zion restored.

1 LET Zion and her sons rejoice,
Behold the promis'd hour:
Her God hath heard her mourning voice,
And comes t' exalt his power.

di 2 Her dust and ruins that remain,
Are precious in our eyes:
cr Those ruins shall be built again;
And all that dust shall rise.

f 3 The Lord will raise Jerusalem,
And stand in glory there;
Nations shall bow before his name,
And kings attend with fear.

m 4 He sits a Sovereign on his throne,
aff With pity in his eyes;
He hears the dying pris'ners' groan,
p And sees their sighs arise.

cr 5 He frees the souls condemn'd to death;
Nor, while his saints complain,
Shall it be said, that praying breath
Was ever spent in vain.

[6 This shall be known, when we are dead,
And left on long record;
That ages yet unborn, may read,
And trust, and praise the Lord.]

102. THIRD PART. C. M.—Retirement.

God unchangeable amid changes of creation.

1 THROUGH endless years thou art the same
O thou eternal God!
Ages to come shall know thy name,
And tell thy works abroad.

2 The strong foundations of the earth,
Of old by thee were laid;
By thee the beauteous arch of heav'n
With matchless skill was made.

3 Soon shall this goodly frame of things,
Form'd by thy pow'rful hand,
p Be like a vesture laid aside,
And chang'd at thy command.

cr 4 But thy perfections all divine,
Eternal as thy days,
Through everlasting ages shine,
With undiminish'd rays.

T. & B.

102. FOURTH PART. L. M.—Darwen.
The church shall live, though the saints must die.

aff 1 IT is the Lord our Saviour's hand,
Weakens our strength amid the race:
Disease and death, at his command,
Arrest us, and cut short our days.

ex 2 Spare us, O Lord, aloud we pray,
Nor let our sun go down at noon:
Thy years are one eternal day;
And must thy children die so soon!

3 Yet, in the midst of death and grief,
This thought our sorrow shall assuage—
cr "Our Father and our Saviour live;
Christ is the same through ev'ry age"

4 The starry curtains of the sky,
Like garments, shall be laid aside;
f But still thy throne stands firm on high,
Thy church for ever must abide.

5 Before thy face, thy church shall live,
And near thy throne, thy children reign.
di This fading world shall they survive,
f Wake from the dust, and live again.

102. FIFTH PART. 7's.—German Hymn. ex.
Prayer in tribulation.

aff 1 HEAR my prayer, Jehovah, hear,
Listen to my humble cries;
See the day of trouble near;
Heavy on my soul it lies.

2 Hide not thou thy gracious face,
When the storm around me falls;
Hear me, O thou God of grace,
In the time thy servant calls!

cr 3 Earth and hell their censures pour,
Madly rage against my soul:
When my God appears no more,
Who their fury can control?

4 Hide not thou thy gracious face.
When the storm around me falls;
Hear me, O thou God of grace,
Hear me when thy servant calls.

Prate's Coll.

103. FIRST PART. L. M.—Chatham. Park-street.

Praise for Divine goodness.

1 BLESS, O my soul, the living God,
Call home thy thoughts that rove abroad;
Let all the pow'rs within me join,
In work and worship so divine.

2 Bless, O my soul, the God of grace,
Whose favors claim the highest praise;
Why should the wonders he hath wrought
Be lost in silence, and forgot!

di 3 'Tis he, my soul, that sent his Son,
To die for crimes which thou hast done;
He owns the ransom, and forgives
The hourly follies of our lives.

f 4 Let the whole earth his pow'r confess,
Let the whole earth adore his grace;
Let every living creature join,
In work and worship so divine.

103. SECOND PART. L. M.—Seasons. Luton.

Forgiveness—gentle chastisement.

1 THE Lord, how wondrous are his ways!
How firm his word, how large his grace!
Mercy and truth surround his throne;
And thence he makes his glories known.

2 Not half so high his power hath spread
The starry heav'ns above our head,
As his rich love exceeds our praise—
Exceeds the highest hopes we raise.

3 Not half so far hath nature plac'd
The eastern regions from the west, di As his forgiving grace removes,
The daily guilt of those he loves.

m. p 4 How slowly doth his wrath arise!
vi On swifter wings salvation flies;
cr And if he lets his anger burn,
—p How soon his frowns to pity turn!

cr 5 His loving kindness still is sure;
To all the saints it shall endure:
From age to age, his truth shall reign,
Nor children's children hope in vain.

103. THIRD PART. S. M.—Watchman.

Praise for mercies, spiritual and temporal.

f 1 OH, bless the Lord, my soul;
Let all within me join,
To bless his great and holy name,
Whose favors are divine.

2 Oh, bless the Lord, my soul,
Nor let his mercies lie
Forgotten in unthankfulness,
And without praises die.

p 3 'Tis he forgives thy sins,
'Tis he relieves thy pain;
'Tis he that heals thy sicknesses,
And makes thee young again.

cr 4 He crowns thy life with love,
When ransom'd from the grave:
He that redeem'd my soul from hell,
Hath sovereign pow'r to save.

5 He fills the poor with good,
p He gives the suff'rers rest:
f The Lord hath judgments for the proud
And justice for th' oppress'd.

6 Oh, bless the Lord, my soul,
Let all within me join,
To bless his great and holy name,
Whose favors are divine.

103. FOURTH PART. S. M.—Watchman.

God's compassion; or, mercy in the midst of judgment.

1 MY soul, repeat his praise,
Whose mercies are so great;
Whose anger is so slow to rise,
di So ready to abate.

cr 2 High as the heav'ns are rais'd
Above the ground we tread;
So far the riches of his grace
Our highest thoughts exceed.

3 His power subdues our sins;
And his forgiving love,
Far as the east is from the west,
Doth all our guilt remove.

aff 4 The pity of the Lord,
To those that fear his name,
Is such as tender parents feel;
He knows our feeble frame.

p 5 He knows we are but dust,
Scatter'd by every breath;
cr His anger, like a rising wind,
Can send us swift to death.

di 6 Our days are as the grass,
Or like the morning flower:
cr If one sharp blast sweep o'er the field,
p It withers in an hour.

cr 7 But thy compassions, Lord,
To endless years endure;
And children's children ever find
Thy words of promise sure.

103. FIFTH PART. S. M.—Clapton.

Angels praise the Lord.

mæ 1 THE Lord, the sovereign King,
Has fix'd his throne on high;
O'er all the heav'nly world he rules,
And all beneath the sky.

2 Ye angels, great in might,
And swift to do his will,
Bless ye the Lord, whose voice ye hear,
Whose pleasure ye fulfil.

3 Let the bright hosts who wait
The orders of their King,
And guard his churches when they praise,
Join in the praise they sing.

4 While all his wondrous works
Through his vast kingdom show
Their Maker's glory, thou, my soul,
Shalt sing his praises too.

L. M.—Park-street.

God's majesty as the Creator and sovereign King.

vi 1 MY soul, thy great Creator praise;
When cloth'd in his celestial rays,
He in full majesty appears,
And like a robe his glory wears.

2 The heav'ns are for his curtains spread;
Th' unfathom'd deep he makes his bed;
Clouds are his chariot, when he flies
On winged storms across the skies.

[3 The world's foundation by his hand
Was laid, and must for ever stand:
Thy wisdom and thy love we see;
The spacious earth is full of thee.]

4 Vast are thy works, Almighty Lord!
All nature rests upon thy word;
And the whole race of creatures stand,
di Waiting their portion from thy hand.

p [5 But when thy face is hid, they mourn,
And trembling, to their dust return;
Both man and beast their souls resign,
Life, breath, and spirit, all are thine.]

ag 6 The earth stands trembling at thy stroke,
And at thy touch the mountains smoke;
di Yet humble souls may see thy face,
And tell their wants to sovereign grace.

7 In thee, my hopes and wishes meet,
And make my meditation sweet;
cr Thy praises shall my breath employ
Till it expire in endless joy.

105.

C. M.—Coventry. Arlington.

God's covenant mercy.

vi GIVE thanks to God, invoke his name,
And tell the world his grace;
Sound through the earth his deeds of fame,
That all may seek his face.

2 The cov'nant which he kept in mind,
Through ages that have gone;
Ages to come shall ever find,
As lasting as his throne.

ll 3 He swore to Abram and his seed,
And made the blessing sure,
Gentiles the ancient promise read,
And find his truth endure.

di 4 Like pilgrims through the desert ground,
The tribes securely mov'd;
And haughty kings that on them frown'd,
Severely he reprov'd.

[5 The Lord himself chose out their way,
And led their steps aright:
Gave them a shadowing cloud by day,
A fiery lamp by night.]

[6 He gave them water from the rock,
Fed them with bread from heav'n;
And while his blessed laws they broke,
How oft were they forgiv'n!]

7 He gave them Canaan for their rest,
The type of heav'nly joys;
Through them, the nations shall be blest,
And in thy name rejoice.

cr 8 Then let the world forbear its rage,
The saints renounce their fear:
The church shall live from age to age,
And be th' Almighty's care.

106.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Park-street. Vanhall's.
God's goodness and mercy are wonderful.

vi 1 OH! render thanks to God above,
The fountain of eternal love;
Whose mercy firm, through ages past,
Hath stood, and shall for ever last.

2 Who can his mighty deeds express,
So wise, so vast and numberless?
What human eloquence can raise
His tribute of immortal praise?

m 3 Extend to us that favor, Lord,
Thou to thy chosen dost afford;
When thou return'st to set them free,
Oh let us thy salvation see.

T. & B.

106. SECOND PART. L. M.—Park-street. Rothwell.

Same subject.

vi 1 TO God, the great, the ever blest,
Let songs of honor be address'd:
His mercy firm for ever stands;
Give him the thanks his love demands.

2 Who knows the wonders of thy ways?
Who shall fulfil thy boundless praise?
Blest are the souls that fear thee still,
And seek to learn and do thy will.

di 3 Remember what thy mercy did
For Jacob's race thy chosen seed;
And with the same salvation bless
The meanest suppliant of thy grace.

f 4 O may I see thy tribes rejoice,
And aid their triumphs with my voice.
This is my glory, Lord, to be Join'd to thy saints, and near to thee.

106. THIRD PART. S. M.—Dunbar. St. Giles.

God's discipline of ancient Israel.

aff 1 GOD of eternal love,
How fickle are our ways!
And yet how oft did Israel prove
Thy constancy of grace!

2 They saw thy wonders wrought, cr And then thy praise they sung:
—di But soon thy works of power forgot,
And murmur'd with their tongue.

cr 3 Now they believe his word,
While rocks with rivers flow!
di Now with their lusts provoke the Lord,
And he reduc'd them low.

ex 4 Yet when they mourn'd their guilt,
He harken'd to their groans,
Thought of his covenant, and felt
That they were still his sons.

cr 5 Their names were in his book,
He sav'd them from their foes;
Oft he chastis'd, but ne'er forsook
The people that he chose.

vi 6 We bless thy goodness, Lord,
To Israel's ancient race;
To Christian nations still afford,
The riches of thy grace.

107. FIRST PART. L. M.—Chatham.

Israel led to Canaan, and Christians to heaven.

vi [1 GIVE thanks to God, he reigns above,
Kind are his thoughts, his name is love;
His mercy ages past have known,
And ages long to come shall own.]

2 Let the redeemed of the Lord,
The wonders of his grace record;
Israel, the nation whom he chose,
And rescu'd from their mighty foes.

m 3 They trac'd the desert, wand'ring round
A wild and solitary ground;
Nor food, nor fountain, to assuage
Their burning thirst, or hunger's rage.

4 In their distress, to God they cried, cr God was their Saviour and their guide;
He fed and cloth'd them with his hand,
And brought their tribes to Canaan's land.

5 So when our first release we gain,
From thraldom worse than Egypt's chain,
We have a wilderness to pass;
—di This world's a tiresome, desert place.

" 6 He feeds and clothes us by the way,
He guides our footsteps lest we stray;
He guards us with a powerful hand,
And brings us to the heav'nly land.

vi. f 7 O, let the saints with joy record,
The truth and goodness of the Lord!
How great his works! how kind his ways!
Let every tongue pronounce his praise.

107. SECOND PART. L. M.—Luther's Hymn. ex.

Correction for sin, and release by prayer.

vi 1 FROM age to age exalt his name,
God and his grace are still the same;
He fills the hungry souls with food,
And calls them to his blest abode.

di 2 But if their sinful murm'rings rise
Against the God that rules the skies:
If they neglect his heav'nly word,
And slight the counsels of the Lord:

ag 3 He'll bring their spirits to the ground,
Where no deliv'rer shall be found;
Laden with grief, to waste their brea.n,
p In darkness and the shades of death.

cr 4 Yet if to him, they raise their cries,
Mingled with penitential sighs,
He'll scatter all the dismal shade,
That hangs so heavy round their head.

f. 5 He'll break the bars of brass in twain;
No more as pris'ners they'll remain,
Take off the load of guilt and grief,
And give the lab'ring soul relief.

m 6 O may the sons of men record,
The wondrous goodness of the Lord:
How great his works! how kind his ways!
Let every tongue pronounce his praise.

107.

THIRD PART. L. M.—Vanhall's.
Mariners' psalm.

1 WOULD you behold the works of God,
His wonders in the world abroad,
With the bold mariners survey
The boundless regions of the sea.

2 They leave their native shores behind,
And seize the favor of the wind,
—cr Till God command and tempests rise,
f That heave the ocean to the skies.

ag 3 When helpers fail, and death is nigh,
Lost to all hope, to God they cry;
cr His mercy hears their loud address,
And sends salvation in distress.

4 He bids the winds their wrath assuage;
—p The furious waves then cease to rage:
cr The gladsome train their fears give o'er,
And hail with joy their destin'd shore.

f 5 O, may the sons of men record
The wondrous goodness of the Lord!
Their vows and off'rings, grateful bring,
And in the church his praises sing.

107. FOURTH PART. C. M.—Barby. ex

Same subject.

1 THY works of glory, mighty Lord,
Who rul'st the boist'rous sea;
The sons of courage shall record,
Who tempt the dang'rous way.

cr 2 At thy command the winds arise,
And swell the tow'ring waves:
f The men, astonish'd, mount the skies,
—p And plunge in gaping caves.

ag 3 They hear the dreadful tempest roar,
And pant with flutt'ring breath;
Till hopeless of the distant shore,
They look for instant death.

ex. 4 Then to the Lord they raise their cries,
He hears the loud request;
di—p The winds are hush'd, the tempest dies;
—pp The billows sink to rest.

vi. f 5 Soon to their joy the port appears:
Grateful their vows they pay
To him who sav'd them from their fears,
Whom winds and waves obey.

6 O that the sons of men would praise
The goodness of the Lord!
Let those that see thy wondrous ways,
Thy wondrous love record.

107. FIFTH PART. C. M.—Dunchurch.

God's protection to mariners.

1 HOW are thy servants bless'd, O Lord,
How sure is their defence!
Eternal wisdom is their guide,
Their help, Omnipotence.

2 In foreign realms and lands remote,
Supported by thy care,
Through burning climes they pass unhurt,
And breathe in tainted air.

f 3 When by the dreadful tempest borne High on the broken wave,
They know thou art not slow to hear,
Nor impotent to save.

di 4 The storm is laid; the winds retire Obedient to thy will;
cr The sea, that roars at thy command,
p At thy command is still.

cr 5 In midst of dangers, fear, and death,
Thy goodness we'll adore;
We'll praise thee for thy mercies past,
And humbly hope for more.

Addison.

SIXTH PART. 7's.—Benevento.
Same subject.

1 THEY that toil upon the deep
And in vessels light and frail,
O'er the mighty waters sweep,
With the billow and the gale;
Mark what wonders God performs,
When he speaks, and, unconfin'd,
f Rush to battle all his storms,
In the chariots of the wind.

ff 2 Up to heav'n their bark is whirl'd,
On the mountain of the wave;
di Downward suddenly 'tis hurl'd,
p To th' abysses of the grave;
cr Mid the tempest now they roll,
As intoxicate with wine;
ag Terrors paralyze their soul,
—p Helm they quit and hope resign.

aff 3 Then unto the Lord they cry:
He inclines a gracious ear;
Sends deliv'rance from on high,
Rescues them from all their fear:
f O, that men would praise the Lord,
For his goodness to their race;
For the wonders of his word,
And the riches of his grace.

Montgomery.

C. M.—Tolland. Colchester
Exalted praise.

vi 1 AWAKE, my soul, to sound his praise,
Awake, my harp, to sing,
Join all my pow'rs the song to raise,
And morning incense bring.

2 Among the people of his care,
And through the nations round,
Glad songs of praise let saints prepare
And there his name resound.

cr 3 Be thou exalted, O my God,
Above the starry frame;
Diffuse thy heav'nly grace abroad,
And teach the world thy name.

4 So shall thy chosen sons rejoice,
And throng thy courts above;
While sinners hear thy pard'ning voice,
And taste redeeming love.

Anon.

109. C. M.—Dunchurch.

Love to enemies, from the example of Christ.

1 GOD of my mercy and my praise,
Thy glory is my song;
Though sinners speak against thy grace,
With a blaspheming tongue.

di 2 When in the form of mortal man,
Thy Son on earth was found,
With cruel slanders, false and vain,
They compass'd him around.

aff 3 Yet would his kind compassion move:
Their peace he still pursu'd;
Receiving hatred for his love,
And evil for his good.

f 4 Their malice rag'd without a cause:
p Yet with his dying breath,
He pray'd for murd'rers on his cross,
And bless'd his foes in death.

cr 5 Lord, shall thy bright example shine
In vain before my eyes?
Give me a soul akin to thine,
To love my enemies.

vi 6 The Lord shall on my side engage;
And in my Saviour's name,
I shall defeat their pride and rage,
Who slander and condemn.

110. FIRST PART. L. M.—Park-street.

Exaltation of Christ, and success of his Gospel.

m 1 THUS God, th' eternal Father, spake
To Christ the Son: "Ascend and sit
At my right hand, till I shall make Thy foes submissive at thy feet.

2 "From Zion shall thy word proceed;
Thy word the sceptre in thy hand,
—di Shall make the hearts of rebels bleed,
And bow their wills to thy command.

vi 3 "That day shall show thy power is great,
When saints shall flock with willing minds;
And sinners crowd thy temple gate,
Where holiness in beauty shines."

f. m 4 O blessed power! O glorious day!
How large a vict'ry shall ensue!
And converts, who thy grace obey,
Exceed the drops of morning dew

110. SECOND PART. C. M.—Colchester. Coventry.

Christ's kingdom and priesthood.

1 JESUS, our Lord, ascend thy throne,
And near thy Father sit;
In Zion shall thy power be known,
And make thy foes submit.

2 What wonders shall thy gospel do!
Thy converts shall surpass
The num'rous drops of morning dew.
And own thy sovereign grace.

f. 3 God hath pronounc'd a firm decree,
Nor changes what he swore;
"Eternal shall thy priesthood be, di While Aaron's is no more."

cr 4 Jesus our priest, for ever lives,
To plead for us above;
f Jesus our King, for ever gives
The blessings of his love.

5 God shall exalt his glorious head,
His lofty throne maintain;
ag Shall strike the powers and princes dead
Who dare oppose his reign.

111. FIRST PART. C. M.—Colchester.

God's wisdom and grace.

vi.f SONGS of immortal praise belong
To my Almighty God;
He has my heart, and he my tongue,
To spread his name abroad.

2 How great the works his hand hathwrought!
How glorious in our sight!
And men in every age have sought
His wonders with delight.

3 How fair and glorious nature's frame,
How wise th' Eternal mind!
His counsels never change the scheme
His thoughts at first design'd.

4 When he redeem'd his chosen sons,
He fix'd his cov'nant sure:
The orders that his lips pronounce
To endless years endure.

[5 Nature and time, and earth and skies,
Thy heav'nly skill proclaim;
What shall we do to make us wise,
But learn and fear thy name?]

di 6 To fear thy power, to trust thy grace
Is our divinest skill;
He is the wisest of our race
Who best obeys thy will.

111. SECOND PART. C. M.—Dunchurch.

The perfections of God.

1 GREAT is the Lord; his works of might Demand our noblest songs;
O let th' assembled saints unite
Their harmony of tongues.

2 Great is the mercy of the Lord,
He gives his children food;
And ever mindful of his word,
He makes his promise good.

3 His Son, the great Redeemer, came
To seal his cov'nant sure;
mæ Holy and rev'rend is his name,
His ways are just and pure.

[4 They that would grow divinely wise
Must with his fear begin;
Our fairest proof of knowledge lies
In hating every sin.]

f 5 Great is the Lord: his works of might Demand our highest praise;
Mercy and truth are his delight,
And justice marks his ways.

112. FIRST PART. L. P. M.—Newcourt.

Blessings of the liberal man.

tr 1 THAT man is blest who stands in awe
Of God, and loves his sacred law;
His seed on earth shall be renown'd:
His house the seat of wealth shall be,
An unexhausted treasury,
And with successive honors crown'd.

2 His lib'ral favors he extends;
To some he gives, to others lends;
A generous pity fills his mind:
Yet what his charity impairs,
He saves by prudence in affairs,
And thus he's just to all mankind.

3 His hands, while they his alms bestow'd,
His glory's future harvest sow'd;
The sweet remembrance of the just,
Like a green root, revives and bears
A train of blessings for his heirs, p When dying nature sleeps in dust.

f 4 Beset with threat'ning dangers round,
Unmov'd shall he maintain his ground;
His conscience holds his courage up:
The soul that's filled with virtue's light,
Shines brightest in affliction's night,
And sees in darkness beams of hope.

112. SECOND PART. L. M.—Luton.

Blessings of the pious and charitable.

vi 1 THRICE happy man, who fears the Lord,
Loves his commands and trusts his word;
Honor and peace his days attend,
And blessings on his seed descend.

di 2 Compassion dwells upon his mind,
To works of mercy still inclin'd;
He lends the poor his cheerful aid,
Or gives them not to be repaid.

p 3 When times grow dark and tidings spread,
That fill th' unguarded soul with dread;
cr His heart is arm'd against the fear,
For God with all his power is there.

f 4 His soul thus fix'd upon the Lord,
Draws heav'nly courage from his word;
Sees mid the darkness, light arise,
To cheer his heart and bless his eyes.

112. THIRD PART. C. M.—New Cambridge.

Reward of liberality.

1 HAPPY is he that fears the Lord
And follows his commands;
Who lends the poor without reward,
Or gives with lib'ral hands.

di 2 As pity dwells within his breast
To all the sons of need;
cr So God shall answer his request,
With blessings on his seed.

[3 No evil tidings shall surprise
His well establish'd mind;
His soul to God his refuge flies,
Leaving his fears behind.]

4 In times of danger and distress,
Some beams of light shall shine;
For God, his strength and righteousness
Shall give him peace divine.

5 His works of piety and love,
Remain before the Lord;
Honor on earth, and joys above,
Shall be his sure reward.

113. FIRST PART. L. P. M.—St. Helen's.

Majesty and condescension of God.

vi 1 YE that delight to serve the Lord,
The honors of his name record,
His sacred name for ever bless:
Where'er the circling sun displays
His rising beams or setting rays,
Let lands and seas his power confess.

2 Not time, nor nature's narrow rounds,
Can give his vast dominion bounds;
The heav'ns are far below his height.
mæ Let no created greatness dare
With our eternal God compare, Arm'd with his uncreated might.

di 3 He bows his glorious head to view
What the bright hosts of angels do,
And bends his care to mortal things:
His sovereign hand exalts the poor;
He takes the needy from the door,
And fits them for the thrones of kings.

113. SECOND PART. L. M.—Park-street.

God sovereign and gracious.

vi 1 YE servants of th' Almighty King,
In every age his praises sing:
Where'er the sun shall rise and set,
The nations shall his praise repeat.

2 Above the earth, beyond the sky,
Stands his high throne of majesty;
Nor time, nor place, his power restrain,
Nor bound his universal reign.

p 3 Which of the sons of Adam dare,
Or angels, with our God compare?
cr His glories how divinely bright,
Who dwells in uncreated light!

di m 4 Behold his love! he stoops to view
What saints above, and angels do:
p And condescends yet more to know
The mean affairs of men below.

cr 5 From dust and cottages obscure,
His grace exalts the humble poor,
Gives them the honor of his sons,
f And fits them for their heav'nly thrones.

114. L. M.—Sterling.

Miracles attending Israel's journey.

ti 1 WHEN Israel, freed from Pharaoh's hand,
Left the proud tyrant and his land;
The tribes their cheerful homage paid,
To their supreme, exalted Head.

2 Across the deep their journey lay;
It was the Lord's appointed way:
Jordan beheld their march, and fled
With backward current to its head.

di 3 What pow'r could make that deep divide,
And Jordan backward roll its tide?
vi Why did ye leap, ye little hills?
ag And whence the fright that Sinai feels?

mæ 4 Let every nation, every flood Retire, and know th' approaching God!
The King of Israel triumphs here;
Tremble, thou earth, thy Maker fear.

115. FIRST PART. L. M.—Sterling.

Glory due not to the creature, but to the Creator.

1 NOT to ourselves, who are but dust,
Not to ourselves is glory due,
But to thy name, thou only just,
Thou only gracious, wise, and true.

cr 2 The God we serve maintains his throne
Above the clouds, beyond the skies;
And may his will on earth be done,
Supreme, till time and nature dies.

" 3 Vain are the idols men adore,
Made by themselves of stone or wood;
Senseless the mass of glitt'ring ore,
The silver saint or golden god.

f 4 O Israel! make the Lord thy hope,
Thy help, thy refuge, and thy rest;
The Lord shall build thy ruins up,
And thou shalt be for ever blest.

115. SECOND PART. 10's.—6 lines.—Walworth.

God alone to be worshipped.

" 1 NOT to our names, thou only just and true,
Not to our worthless names is glory due;
Thy pow'r and grace, thy truth and justice claim Immortal honors to thy sovereign name:
cr Shine through the earth, from heav'n thy blest abode,
Nor let the heathen say, "And where's your God?"

2 Heav'n is thy higher court; there stands thy throne,
And through the lower worlds thy will is done;
Our God fram'd all this earth, these heav'ns he spread;
di But fools adore the gods their hands have made:
The moving crowd with looks devout behold
Their silver saviours, and their saints of gold.

3 O Israel! trust the Lord; he hears and sees;
He knows thy sorrows, and restores thy peace;
His worship does a thousand comforts yield;
He is thy help, and he thy heav'nly shield.
O Israel, trust the Lord; let songs arise,
Let Zion bless the God that built the skies.

116. FIRST PART. C. M.—Chester. Retirement.

Praise for recovery from sickness.

d 1 I LOVE the Lord; he heard my cries,
And pitied every groan;
Long as I live, when troubles rise,
I'll hasten to his throne.

2 I love the Lord; he bow'd his ear
And chased my griefs away:
O let my heart no more despair,
While I have breath to pray.

p 3 My flesh declin'd, my spirits fell,
And I drew near the dead;
ag While inward pangs, and fears of hell,
Perplex'd my wakeful head.

ex 4 "My God," I cried, "thy servant save,
Thou ever good and just;
Thy power can rescue from the grave,
Thy power is all my trust."

5 The Lord beheld me sore distress'd,
He bid my pains remove:
er Return, my soul, to God thy rest,
For thou hast known his love.

6 My God hath sav'd my soul from death,
And dried my falling tears;
f Now, in his praise I'll spend my breath,
And my remaining years.

116. SECOND PART. C. M.—New Cambridge.

Public thanks for private deliverance.

vi 1 WHAT shall I render to my God
For all his kindness shown?
My feet shall visit thine abode,
My songs address thy throne.

2 Among the saints that fill thy house,
My off'rings shall be paid;
There shall my zeal perform the vows
My soul in anguish made.

di 3 How much is mercy thy delight,
Thou ever-blessed God!
How dear thy servants in thy sight!
How precious is their blood!

cr 4 How happy all thy servants are!
How great thy grace to me!
My life, which thou hast made thy care,
Lord, I devote to thee.

f 5 Now I am thine, for ever thine,
Nor shall my purpose move;
Thy hand hath loos'd my bonds of pain,
And bound me with thy love.

6 Here in thy courts I leave my vow,
And thy rich grace record:
Witness, ye saints, that hear me now,
If I forsake the Lord.

116. THIRD PART. C. L. M.—The Adieu.

A song of deliverance.

1 I LOVE the Lord, whose gracious ear
Was open to my cry;
He bade me, in the time of fear,
Upon his grace rely:
Long as I live, I'll trust his care,
To him address my fervent prayer.

aff 2 Death's sorrows had encompass'd me,
I felt the pains of hell;
On every side was misery,
My woes no tongue could tell:
Then I broke forth without control,
ex "Lord, I beseech thee, save my soul!"

di 3 Tender and gracious is his name;
Our God is ever kind;
The meek shall his protection claim,
The humble, mercy find:
Unto thy rest, my soul return,
The bounties of thy God discern.

cr 4 The Lord hath kept my soul from death, Preserv'd my eyes from tears;
di My feet from falling, where beneath,
Were spread the fowler's snares:
f Living, I'll walk before the Lord;
His name for ever be ador'd.

M. S.

117. FIRST PART. C. M.—Colchester. Coventry.

Praise to God from all nations.

1 O ALL ye nations, praise the Lord,
Each with a diff'rent tongue;
In every language learn his word,
And let his name be sung.

2 His mercy reigns through every land,
Proclaim his grace abroad;
For ever firm his truth shall stand,
Praise ye the faithful God.

117. SECOND PART. L. M.—Old Hundred.

Same subject.

1 FROM all that dwell below the skies,
Let the Creator's praise arise:
Let the Redeemer's name be sung,
Through every land, by every tongue.

p 2 Eternal are thy mercies, Lord, cr Eternal truth attends thy word;
f Thy praise shall sound from shore to shore,
—di Till suns shall rise and set no more.

117. THIRD PART. S. M.—Clapton.

Same subject.

f 1 THY name, Almighty Lord,
Shall sound through distant lands;
Great is thy grace and sure thy word,
Thy truth for ever stands.

2 Far be thine honors spread,
And long thy praise endure;
—di Till morning light and evening shade,
—p Shall be exchang'd no more.

117 FOURTH PART. 7's.—German Air.

Same subject.

vi 1 ALL ye nations praise the Lord
All ye lands your voices raise;
Heav'n and earth, with loud accord
Praise the Lord, for ever praise.

2 For his truth and mercy stand,
Past and present and to be,
Like the years of his right hand,
Like his own eternity.

f 3 Praise him, ye who know his love,
Praise him from the depths beneath
Praise him in the heights above;
Praise your Maker all that breathe.

Montgomery

118. FIRST PART. C. M.—Colchester. Peterborough.

Deliverance from a tumult.

1 THE Lord appears my helper now;
My soul is not afraid
Of what the sons of earth can do,
Since heav'n affords its aid.

di 2 'Tis safer, Lord, to hope in thee,
And have my God my friend,
Than trust in men of high degree,
And on their truth depend.

cr 3 'Tis through the Lord my heart is strong;
In him my lips rejoice:
f While his salvation is my song,
How cheerful is my voice!

ff 4 Though angry foes beset me round,
di When God appears they fly;
cr So burning thorns, with crackling sound
Will blaze and quickly die.

vi 5 Joy to the saints and peace belong
The Lord directs their ways;
f Let Israel tune th' immortal song,
To his immortal grace.

118. SECOND PART. C. M.—New Cambridge.

Public praise for deliverance from death.

1 LORD, thou hast heard thy servant cry,
And rescu'd from the grave;
Now shall he live, for none can die
If God resolve to save.

2 Thy praise more constant than before,
Shall fill his daily breath;
Thy hand that hath chastis'd him sore,
Defends him still from death.

vi 3 Open the gates of Zion now,
That we may worship there:
To thine own house with joy we'll go,
Thy mercy to declare.

4 Among th' assemblies of thy saints,
Our thankful voice we'll raise:
di There we have told thee our complaints,
cr And there we'll speak thy praise.

118. THIRD PART. C. M.—Remembrance.

Christ the foundation of his church.

1 BEHOLD the sure foundation stone,
Which God in Zion lays,
To build our heav'nly hopes upon,
And his eternal praise.

d 2 Chosen of God, for ever dear,
The saints adore his name;
They trust their whole salvation here,
Nor shall they suffer shame.

l l 3 The foolish builders, scribe and priest, Reject it with disdain;
cr Yet on this Rock the church shall rest,
And envy rage in vain.

ag 4 What though the gates of hell withstood!
Yet must this building rise:
f 'Tis thine own work, Almighty God!
And wondrous in our eyes.

118. FOURTH PART. C. M.—Channing.

For the Lord's day.

1 THIS is the day the Lord hath made;
He calls the hours his own:
vi Let heav'n rejoice, let earth be glad,
And praise surround the throne.

2 To-day he rose and left the dead,
And Satan's empire fell:
To-day the saints his triumph spread,
And all his wonders tell.

f 3 Hosanna to th' anointed King!
To David's holy Son!
di Help us, O Lord; descend and bring Salvation from thy throne.

[4 Blest be the Lord, who comes to men
With messages of grace!
Who comes in God his Father's name,
To save our sinful race.]

ff 5 Hosanna in the highest strains
The church on earth can raise;
The highest heav'ns in which he reigns,
Shall give him nobler praise.

118. FIFTH PART. S. M.—Shirland.

Same subject.

!! 1 SEE what a living stone
The builders did refuse;
cr Yet God hath built his church thereon,
In spite of envious Jews.

di 2 The scribe and angry priest Reject thine only Son;
cr Yet on this Rock shall Zion rest,
As the chief corner-stone.

f 3 The work, O Lord, is thine,
And wondrous in our eyes;
This day declares it all divine,
This day did Jesus rise.

di 4 This is the glorious day
That our Redeemer made;
cr Let us rejoice, and sing, and pray;
Let all the church be glad.

f 5 Hosanna to the King
Of David's royal blood;
Bless him, ye saints; he comes to bring Salvation from your God.

6 We bless thy holy word,
Which all this grace displays:
And offer on thine altar, Lord,
Our sacrifice of praise.

118. SIXTH PART. L. M.—Rothwell. Chatham.

Same subject.

1 LO! what a glorious corner-stone
The Jewish builders did refuse!
Yet God hath built his church thereon,
Spite of the rage of envious Jews.

2 Great God, the work is all divine,
The joy and wonder of our eyes:
This is the day that proves it thine,
The day that saw our Saviour rise.

vi 3 Sinners, rejoice, ye saints, be glad;
f Hosanna, let his name be blest:
A thousand honors on his head,
With peace, and light, and glory rest.

m 4 In God's own name he comes to bring Salvation to our dying race;
ff Let the whole church address their King
With hearts of joy and songs of praise.

[Watts collects and arranges what he considers the most useful verses of the 119th Psalm, into various heads, forming a distinct poem upon each of them. By such transpositions of the text, he aims at closer connexions of thought, in accordance with the style of modern song.]

119. FIRST PART. C. M.—Remembrance.

Blessedness of saints.

1 BLEST are the undefiled in heart,
Whose ways are right and clean;
Who never from thy law depart,
But flee from every sin.

2 Blest are the men that keep thy word,
And practise thy commands;
With their whole heart they seek the Lord,
And serve thee with their hands.

3 Great is their peace who love thy law,
How firm their souls abide!
Nor can a bold temptation draw
Their steady feet aside.

4 Then shall my heart have inward joy,
And keep my face from shame,
When all thy statutes I obey,
And glorify thy name.

119. SECOND PART. C. M.—Dunchurch.

Constant communion with God.

1 TO thee, before the dawning light,
My gracious God, I pray;
I meditate thy name by night,
And keep thy law by day.

di 2 My spirit faints to see thy grace,
Thy promise bears me up;
And while salvation long delays,
Thy word supports my hope.

cr 3 Seven times a day I lift my hands,
And pay my thanks to thee;
Thy bounteous providence demands
Continual praise from me.

di 4 When midnight darkness veils the skies,
I call thy works to mind;
cr My thoughts in warm devotions rise,
And sweet acceptance find.

119. THIRD PART. C. M.—Colchester.

God is our portion.

1 THOU art my portion, O my God!
Soon as I know thy way,
My heart makes haste t' obey thy word,
And suffers no delay.

2 I choose the path of heav'nly truth,
And glory in my choice;
Not all the riches of the earth
Could make me so rejoice.

3 The testimonies of thy grace
I set before my eyes;
Thence I derive my daily strength,
And there my comfort lies.

di 4 If once I wander from thy path,
I think upon my ways;
Then turn my feet to thy commands,
And trust thy pard'ning grace.

5 Thou hast induc'd this heart of mine
Thy statutes to fulfil;
And thus, till mortal life shall end,
Would I perform thy will.

cr 6 Now I am thine, for ever thine,
O save thy servant, Lord;
Thou art my shield, my hiding place,
My hope is in thy word.

119. FOURTH PART. C. M.—Remembrance.
Instruction from the Scriptures.

1 HOW shall the young secure their hearts,
And guard their lives from sin?
Thy word the choicest rules imparts
To keep the conscience clean.

2 When once it enters to the mind,
It spreads such light abroad,
The meanest souls instruction find,
And raise their thoughts to God.

cr 3 'Tis like the sun, a heav'nly light,
That guides us all the day;
di And through the dangers of the night,
A lamp to lead our way.

4 The men that keep thy law with care,
And meditate thy word,
Grow wiser than their teachers are,
And better know the Lord.

cr 5 Thy precepts make me truly wise,
I hate the sinners' road;
I hate my own vain thoughts that rise;
But love thy law, my God.

[6 The starry heav'ns thy rule obey,
The earth maintains her place;
And these thy servants, night and day,
Thy skill and pow'r express.

7 But still thy law and gospel, Lord,
Have lessons more divine;
Not earth stands firmer than thy word,
Nor stars so nobly shine.]

8 Thy word is everlasting truth,
How pure is every page!
That holy book shall guide our youth,
And well support our age.

119. FIFTH PART. C. M.—Barby
Delight in the Scriptures.

a 1 O HOW I love thy holy law!
'Tis daily my delight;
And thence my meditations draw
Divine advice by night.

2 My waking eyes prevent the day
To meditate thy word;
—di My soul with longing melts away,
To hear thy gospel, Lord.

cr 3 Thy heav'nly truths my heart engage,
And well employ my tongue;
And in my tiresome pilgrimage
Yield me a cheerful song.

4 No treasures so enrich the mind;
Nor shall thy word be sold
For loads of silver well refin'd,
Nor heaps of choicest gold.

p 5 When nature sinks and spirits droop,
Thy promises of grace
cr Are pillars to support my hope,
And there I write thy praise.

119. SIXTH PART. C. M.—Peterborough. Moravian.
Conflict with sin, and comfort from the word.

1 LORD, I esteem thy judgments right
And all thy statutes just;
Thence I maintain a constant fight
With every flatt'ring lust.

2 Thy precepts often I survey;
I keep thy law in sight
Through all the business of the day,
To form my actions right.

d 3 My heart in midnight silence cries,
"How sweet thy comforts are!"
My thoughts in holy wonder rise,
My heart in praise and prayer.

4 And when my spirit drinks her fill
At some good word of thine;
f Not mighty men, that share the spoil,
Have joys compar'd to mine.

119. SEVENTH PART. C. M.—Peterborough.

The scripture morality surpasses every other system.

" 1 LET all the heathen writers join
To form one perfect book:
Great God, if once compar'd with thine,
How mean their writings look!

2 Not the most perfect rules they gave Could show one sin forgiv'n;
Or lead a step beyond the grave:
But thine conduct to heav'n.

3 I've seen an end to what we call Perfection here below:
How short the pow'rs of nature fall,
And can no farther go.

4 Yet men would fain be just with God,
By works their hands have wrought;
But thy commands, exceeding broad,
Extend to every thought.

di 5 In vain we boast perfection here,
While sin defiles our frame,
And sinks our virtues down so far,
They scarce deserve the name.

6 Our faith and love, and every grace,
Fall far below thy word;
cr While perfect truth and righteousness
Dwell only with the Lord.

119. EIGHTH PART. C. M.—Retirement.

Richness and variety of the Scriptures.

1 LORD, I have made thy word my choice;
My lasting heritage;
There shall my noblest powers rejoice,
My warmest thoughts engage.

2 I'll read the hist'ries of thy love,
And keep thy laws in sight;
vi While through the promises I rove,
With ever new delight.

3 'Tis a broad land of wealth unknown,
Where springs of life arise;
Seeds of immortal bliss are sown,
And hidden glory lies.

di 4 The best relief that mourners have;
It makes our sorrows blest:
cr Our fairest hope beyond the grave,
And our eternal rest.

119. NINTH PART. C. M.—Barby.
The Spirit teaches by the word.

1 THY mercies fill the earth, O Lord,
How good thy works appear!
Open mine eyes to read thy word,
And see thy wonders there.

2 My heart was fashion'd by thy hand,
My service is thy due:
O make thy servant understand
The duties he must do.

di 3 Since I'm a stranger here below,
Let not thy path be hid;
cr But mark the road my feet should go,
And be my constant guide.

p 4 When I confess'd my wand'ring ways,
Thou heard'st my soul complain:
cr Grant me the teachings of thy grace,
Or I shall stray again.

5 If God to me his statutes show,
And heav'nly truth impart;
His work for ever I'll pursue,
His law shall rule my heart.

[6 When I have learn'd my Father's will,
I'll tell the world his ways;
My thankful lips, inspir'd with zeal,
Shall loud pronounce his praise.]

119. TENTH PART. C. M.—Dunchurch.
Pleading the promises.

1 BEHOLD thy waiting servant, Lord,
Devoted to thy fear;
Remember and confirm thy word,
For all my hopes are there.

2 Hast thou not sent salvation down,
And promis'd quick'ning grace?
Doth not my heart address thy throne?
And yet thy love delays.

aff 3 Mine eyes for thy salvation fail;
O bear thy servant up;
Nor let the scoffing lips prevail
That dare reproach my hope.

4 Didst thou not raise my faith, O Lord?
Then let thy truth appear;
vi Saints shall rejoice in my reward,
And trust as well as fear.

119. ELEVENTH PART. C. M.—Rochester.
Breathing after holiness.

aff 1 OH that the Lord would guide my ways
To keep his statutes still!
Oh that my God would grant me grace
To know and do his will!

2 Oh send thy Spirit down to write
Thy law upon my heart!
Nor let my tongue indulge deceit,
Or act the liars' part.

3 From vanity turn off my eyes,
Let no corrupt design,
Nor covetous desires, arise
Within this soul of mine.

4 Order my footsteps by thy word,
And make my heart sincere;
Let sin have no dominion, Lord,
But keep my conscience clear.

di 5 My soul hath gone too far astray,
My feet too often slip;
Yet since I keep in mind thy way,
Restore thy wand'ring sheep.

6 Make me to walk in thy commands,
vi 'Tis a delightful road;
Nor let my head, nor heart, nor hands
Offend against my God,

119. TWELFTH PART. C. M.—Burford.
Prayer for comfort and deliverance.

1 MY God, consider my distress,
Let mercy plead my cause;
Though I have sinn'd against thy grace,
I love thy holy laws.

aff 2 Forbid, forbid the sharp reproach,
Which I so justly fear;
Uphold my life, sustain my hopes,
Nor let my shame appear.

3 Be thou a surety, Lord, for me,
Nor let the proud oppress;
But make thy waiting servant see
The shinings of thy face.

4 My eyes with expectation fail,
My heart within me cries,
ex "When will the Lord his word fulfil,
And make my comforts rise?"

5 Look down upon my sorrows, Lord,
And show thy grace the same:
Thy tender mercies still afford,
To those that fear thy name.

119. THIRTEENTH PART. C. M.—Rochester.

Holy fear, and tenderness of conscience.

aff 1 WITH my whole heart I've sought thy face;
O let me never stray
From thy commands, O God of grace,
Nor tread the sinner's way.

2 Thy word I've hid within my heart,
To keep my conscience clean,
And be an everlasting guard
From every rising sin.

3 I'm a companion of the saints,
Who fear and love the Lord;
My sorrows rise, my nature faints,
When men transgress thy word.

4 While sinners do thy gospel wrong,
My spirit stands in awe;
My soul abhors a lying tongue,
But loves thy righteous law.

5 My heart with sacred rev'rence hears
The threat'nings of thy word;
My flesh with holy trembling fears
The judgments of the Lord.

m 6 My God, I long, I hope, I wait
For thy salvation still;
Thy holy law is my delight,
And I obey thy will.

119. FOURTEENTH PART. C. M.—Burford.
Benefit of affliction.

aff 1 CONSIDER all my sorrows, Lord,
And thy deliv'rance send;
My soul for thy salvation faints:
When will my troubles end?

2 Yet I have found 'tis good for me
To bear my Father's rod;
Afflictions make me learn thy law,
And live upon my God.

3 Had not thy word been my delight
When earthly joys were fled,
My soul, oppress'd with sorrow's weight
Had sunk among the dead.

4 I know thy judgments, Lord, are right.
Though they may seem severe;
The sharpest suff'rings I endure
Flow from thy faithful care.

5 Before I knew thy chast'ning rod,
My feet were apt to stray;
But now I learn to keep thy word,
Nor wander from thy way.

119. FIFTEENTH PART. C. M.—Barby.
Holy resolutions.

d 1 O THAT thy statutes every hour
Might dwell upon my mind!
Thence I derive a quick'ning power,
And daily peace I find.

2 To meditate thy precepts, Lord,
Shall be my sweet employ;
My soul shall ne'er forget thy word,
Thy word is all my joy.

vi 3 How would I run in thy commands,
Shouldst thou my heart discharge
From sin and Satan's hateful chains,
And set my feet at large!

cr 4 My lips with courage shall declare Thy statutes and thy name;
f I'll speak thy word though kings may hear
Nor yield to sinful shame.

119. SIXTEENTH PART. C. M.—Moreland.

Prayer for quickening grace.

aff 1 MY soul lies cleaving to the dust:
Lord, give me life divine;
From vain desires and every lust
Turn off these eyes of mine.

2 I need the influence of thy grace
To speed me in thy way,
Lest I should loiter in my race,
Or turn my feet astray.

[3 When sore afflictions press me down,
I need thy quick'ning powers;
The word that I have rested on,
Shall help my heaviest hours.]

4 Are not thy mercies sovereign still,
And thou a faithful God?
Wilt thou not grant me warmer zeal
To run the heav'nly road?

5 Does not my heart thy precepts love,
And long to see thy face?
And yet how slow my spirits move
Without enlivening grace!

vi 6 Then shall I love thy gospel more,
And ne'er forget thy word;
When I have felt its quick'ning power
To draw me near the Lord.

119. SEVENTEENTH PART. L. M.—Uxbridge. Luton.

Sanctified affliction.

d 1 FATHER, I bless thy gentle hand;
How kind was thy chastising rod,
That brought my conscience to a stand,
And led my wand'ring soul to God!

2 Foolish and vain, I went astray,
Ere I had felt thy scourges, Lord,
I left my guide and lost my way,
But now I love and keep thy word.

ff 3 'Tis good for me to wear the yoke,
That pride no more may dare to rise,
'Tis good to bear my Father's stroke,
His grace can make me truly wise.

4 The law that issues from thy mouth,
Shall raise my cheerful passions more
Than all the treasures of the south,
Than richest hills of golden ore.

5 Thy hands have made my mortal frame,
Thy spirit form'd my soul within:
Teach me to know thy wondrous name,
And guard me safe from death and sin.

f 6 Then all that love and fear the Lord,
At my salvation will rejoice,
That I have trusted in thy word,
And made thy grace my only choice.

120.

C. M.—Moreland.
Trials from bitter contentions.

aff 1 THOU God of love, thou ever blest,
Pity my suff'ring state;
When wilt thou set my soul at rest,
From lips that love deceit?

2 My weary days, O Lord, are cast
Among the sons of strife,
Whose loud contentions ever waste
My golden hours of life.

vi 3 O might I fly to change my place;
How gladly would I roam
In some wide lonesome wilderness,
To find a peaceful home.

di 4 Peace is the blessing I would seek:
How lovely are its charms!
cr Yet if for this I dare to speak,
They still declare for arms.

f!! 5 What shall be done to curb thy rage, d O thou devouring tongue!
p Let heav'nly love my heart engage,
Patient to suffer wrong.

121.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Luton. Repose.
Divine protection.

vi 1 UP to the hills I lift mine eyes,
Th' eternal hills beyond the skies;
Thence all her help my soul derives,
There my Almighty Refuge lives.

cr 2 He lives, the everlasting God,
Who built the world, who spread the flood
The heav'ns with all their host he made,
And the dark regions of the dead.

di 3 He guides our feet, he guards our way,
His morning smiles bless all the day;
He spreads the evening veil, and keeps
The silent hours, while Israel sleeps.

4 Israel, a name divinely blest,
May rise secure, securely rest!
Thy Holy Guardian's wakeful eyes
Admit no slumber, nor surprise.

5 No sun shall smite thy head by day,
Nor moon at night with sickly ray:
Thy Saviour, with a shepherd's care,
Defends thy life from every snare.

cr 6 On thee, foul spirits have no power;
And, in thy last departing hour,
Angels that trace the airy road,
Shall bear thee homeward, to thy God.

121.

SECOND PART. C. M.—Barby.
Preservation by day and night.

1 TO heav'n I lift my waking eyes,
There all my hopes are laid;
The Lord that built the earth and skies,
Is my perpetual aid.

2 Their steadfast feet shall never fall,
Whom he designs to keep;
His ear attends their humble call,
His eyes can never sleep.

vi 3 Israel, rejoice, and rest secure,
Thy keeper is the Lord;
His watchful eye, his boundless power,
Are thine eternal guard.

4 Nor scorching sun, nor sickly moon,
Shall have his leave to smite;
He shields thy head from burning noon,
From blasting damps at night.

5 He guards thy soul, he keeps thy breath,
Where thickest dangers come;
Go and return secure from death,
Till God commands thee home.

121. THIRD PART. C. M.—Colchester.
Help in God.

1 ENCOMPASS'D by ten thousand ills,
And prest by angry foes;
I lift mine eyes unto the hills,
From whence salvation flows.

2 My help is from the Lord, who made
And governs earth and sky;
I look to his Almighty aid,
And ever watching eye.

3 He who thy soul in safety keeps,
Shall drive destruction hence;
The Lord, thy keeper, never sleeps,
The Lord is thy defence.

Montgomery.

121. FOURTH PART. H. M.—Hartford.
God our preserver.

ti 1 UPWARD I lift mine eyes,
From God is all my aid;
The God that built the skies,
And earth and nature made:
cr God is the tower
To which I fly;
His grace is nigh
In every hour.

di 2 My feet shall never slide,
Nor fall in fatal snares;
Since God, my guard and guide,
Defends me from my fears:
Those wakeful eyes
That never sleep,
Shall Israel keep
When dangers rise.

cr 3 No burning heats by day,
Nor blasts of evening air,
Shall take my health away.
If God be with me there:
Thou art my sun,
And thou my shade,
To guard my head
By night or noon.

4 Hast thou not giv'n thy word,
To save my soul from death?
And I can trust my Lord,
To keep my mortal breath;
I'll go and come,
Nor fear to die,
Till from on high
Thou call me home.

122. FIRST PART. C. M.—Colchester.
Going to church.

vi 1 HOW did my heart rejoice to hear
My friends devoutly say—
"In Zion let us all appear,
And keep the solemn day."

2 I love her gates, I love the road:
The church, adorn'd with grace,
Stands like a palace built for God,
To show his milder face.

3 Up to her courts, with joy unknown,
The holy tribes repair;
The Son of David holds his throne,
And sits in judgment there.

4 He hears our praises and complaints
mæ And while his awful voice Divides the sinners from the saints, ag We tremble and rejoice.

p 5 Peace be within this sacred place,
And joy a constant guest!
cr With holy gifts and heav'nly grace
Be her attendants blest.

di 6 My soul shall pray for Zion still,
While life or breath remains;
cr There my best friends and kindred dwell,
f There God my Saviour reigns.

122. SECOND PART. C. M.—New Cambridge.
Joyful worship at church on the Sabbath.

vi 1 WITH joy we hail the sacred day,
Which God has called his own;
With joy the summons we obey
To worship at his throne.

2 Thy chosen temple, Lord, how fair!
Where willing vot'ries throng,
To breathe the humble fervent prayer,
And pour the choral song.

di 3 Spirit of grace, O deign to dwell
Within thy church below:
Make her in holiness excel—
With pure devotion glow.

p 4 Let peace within her walls be found;
Let all her sons unite
To spread with grateful zeal around,
Her clear and shining light.

cr 5 Great God, we hail the sacred day
Which thou hast call'd thine own;
f With joy the summons we obey,
To worship at thy throne.

Spirit of the Psalms

122.

THIRD PART. S. P. M.—Dalston.
Going to church.

ff 1 HOW pleas'd and blest was I,
To hear the people cry,
"Come, let us seek our Lord to-day!"
vi Yes, with a cheerful zeal
We haste to Zion's hill,
And there our vows and honors pay.

2 Zion, thrice happy place,
Adorn'd with wondrous grace,
And walls of strength embrace thee round;
In thee our tribes appear
To pray, and praise, and hear
The sacred Gospel's joyful sound.

3 There David's greater Son
Has fix'd his royal throne;
He sits for grace and judgment there:
He bids the saints be glad,
He makes the sinners sad,
And humble souls rejoice with fear.

p 4 May peace attend thy gate,
And joy within thee wait,
To bless the soul of every guest!
cr The man that seeks thy peace,
And wishes thine increase,
f A thousand blessings on him rest!

5 My tongue repeats her vows, di "Peace to this sacred house!"
For here my friends and kindred dwell:
cr And since my glorious God
Makes thee his blest abode,
My soul shall ever love thee well.

123. FIRST PART. C. M.—Burford.

Pleading with submission.

aff 1 O THOU, whose grace and justice reign
Enthron'd above the skies,
To thee our hearts would tell their pain,
To thee lift up our eyes.

" 2 As servants watch their master's hand,
And fear the angry stroke;
Or maids before their mistress stand,
Waiting a peaceful look:

3 So, for our sins, we justly feel
Thy discipline, O God;
Yet wait the gracious moment still
Till thou remove thy rod.

4 Those that in wealth and pleasure live,
Our daily groans deride;
While thy delays of mercy give
Fresh courage to their pride.

5 Our foes insult us, but our hope
In thy compassion lies;
cr This thought shall bear our spirits up,
That God will not despise.

123. SECOND PART. 7's.—Norwich.

Supplication against spiritual enemies.

aff 1 NOW before thy throne we bend,
Now to thee our prayers ascend,
Servants at the Master's feet,
Lord, for mercy here we wait.

2 Leave us not beneath the power
Of temptation's darkest hour;
Helpless to thy throne we fly,
Abba, Father, hear our cry.

3 Sore distress'd, yet patient still,
Here we wait thy holy will,
Prone to earth and fill'd with fear,
Till our Saviour, God, appear.

ex 4 See our foes insulting come,
Swift to read their captives' doom;
Jesus, Saviour, yet be nigh,
Lord of life and victory.

Pratt's Coll.

L. M.—6 lines.—Wesley Chapel.
Deliverance from a military invasion.

1 HAD not the Lord, may Israel say,
Had not the Lord maintain'd our side;
When men to make our lives a prey,
Rose like the swelling of the tide:
We had been whelm'd in instant death;
The swelling tide had stopp'd our breath

vi 2 As flies the bird with cheerful wing,
When first the fowler's snare is broke;
So we, with joy, thy praises sing,
O Shepherd of thy chosen flock!
Thou hast despis'd the fowler's snare,
And made our lives thy constant care.

cr 3 For ever blessed be the Lord,
Who form'd the earth and built the skie
He sav'd us from the threat'ning sword;
To him shall our thanksgivings rise:
Our help is in Jehovah's name,
Whose hand upholds creation's frame.

125.

FIRST PART. C. M.—Coventry.
The saint's trial and safety.

f 1 UNSHAKEN as the sacred hills,
And firm as mountains stand;
Firm as a rock the soul shall rest,
That trusts th' Almighty hand.

2 Not walls nor hills could guard so well
Fair Salem's hallow'd ground,
As those eternal arms of love,
That every saint surround.

di 3 Divine compassion, when they stray,
Applies the chast'ning rod;
Afflictions, through a Father's love,
Shall draw them near to God.

p 4 Deal gently, Lord, with souls sincere And lead them safely on,
cr To the bright gates of paradise,
Where Christ their Lord is gone.

125. SECOND PART. C. M.—Remembrance.

God the reward of his people.

1 AS round about Jerusalem
The guardian mountains stand,
So shall the Lord encompass them,
Who hold by his right hand.

2 The rod of wickedness shall ne'er
Against the just prevail;
Lest innocence should find a snare
And tempted virtue fail.

3 Do good, O Lord, do good to those Who cleave to thee in heart,
Who on thy truth alone repose,
Nor from thy law depart.

di 4 While rebel souls, who turn aside, Thine anger shall destroy;
cr Do thou in peace thy people guide
To their eternal joy.

Montgomery.

125. THIRD PART. S. M.—Clapton.

The saint's safety in trials.

f 1 FIRM and unmov'd are they
Who rest their souls on God;
Firm as the mount where David stood,
Or where the ark abode.

2 As mountains stood to guard
The city's sacred ground,
So God, and his Almighty love,
Embrace his saints around.

p 3 What though the Father's rod,
Drop a chastising stroke;
Yet, by the hand of tenderness,
cr Its terrors shall be broke.

p 4 Deal gently, Lord, with those Whose faith and pious fear,
Whose hope, and love, and every grace,
Proclaim their hearts sincere.

cr 5 Nor shall affliction's rage,
Too long oppress the saint;
The God of Israel will support
His children lest they faint.

ex 6 But if our slavish fear
Will choose the road to hell,
We must expect our portion there,
Where bolder sinners dwell.

126. FIRST PART. L. M.—Park-street.

Surprising deliverance of the church.

vi 1 WHEN God restor'd our captive state,
Joy was our song, and grace our theme:
The grace beyond our hopes so great,
That rapture seem'd a pleasing dream.

2 The scoffer owns thy hand, and pays
Unwilling honors to thy name;
While we with transport shout thy praise,
In loftiest notes thy love proclaim.

p 3 When we indulg'd our dismal fears,
Who could believe they'd vanish so!
With God we left our flowing tears,
He made our joys like rivers flow.

4 The man that in his furrow'd field,
His scatter'd seed with sadness leaves,
f Will shout to see the harvest yield
The welcome loads of joyful sheaves.

126. SECOND PART. L. M.—Park-street.

Joyful change.

1 WHEN God from sin's captivity,
Sets his afflicted people free;
Lost in amaze, their mercies seem Like transient raptures of a dream.

vi 2 But soon their ransom'd souls rejoice,
And mirth and music swell their voice,
Till foes confess, nor dare condemn,
"The Lord hath done great things for them."

3 They catch the strain and answer thus—
"The Lord hath done great things for us,
Whence gladness fills our hearts, and songs,
Sweet and spontaneous, fill our tongues."

m 4 Turn our captivity, O Lord,
As southern rivers, at thy word,
Bound from their channels and restore
Plenty where all was waste before.

5 Who sow in tears shall reap in joy:
Naught shall the precious seed destroy;
vi Not long the weeping exiles roam,
But bring their sheaves rejoicing home.
Montgomery.

126. THIRD PART. C. M.—Remembrance.
A remarkable conversion.

d 1 WHEN God reveal'd his gracious name
And chang'd my mournful state:
vi My rapture seem'd a pleasing dream,
The grace appear'd so great.

2 The world beheld the glorious change:
And did thy hand confess:
f My tongue broke forth in unknown strains,
And sung surprising grace.

‖ 3 "Great is the work," my neighbors cried,
And own'd thy power divine:
"Great is the work," my heart replied,
And be the glory thine.

di 4 The Lord can clear the darkest skies,
Can give us day for night:
Make drops of sacred sorrow rise
cr To rivers of delight.

[5 Let those that sow in sadness, wait
Till the fair harvest come:
They shall confess their sheaves are great,
And shout the blessing home.

6 Though seed lie buried long in dust,
It sha'n't deceive their hope:
Such precious grain will ne'er be lost,
For grace ensures the crop.]

127. FIRST PART. L. M.—Sterling.
The blessing of God necessary to success in the pursuits of life.

‖ 1 IF God succeed not, all the cost
And pains to build the house are lost;
If God the city will not keep,
The watchful guards as well may sleep.

2 What though we rise before the sun,
And work and toil when day is done
Careful and sparing eat our bread,
To shun the poverty we dread·

3 'Tis all in vain, till God hath blest;
He can make rich, can give us rest:
On God, our Sovereign, still depends
Our joy in children or in friends.

vi 4 Happy the man whom he will bless,
With riches of his saving grace:
How sweet our daily comforts prove Flowing from his paternal love!

127. SECOND PART. C. M.—Arlington.

Same subject.

1 1 IF God to build the house deny,
The builders toil in vain;
And towns without his wakeful eye
A useless watch maintain.

2 Before the morning beams arise
Your painful work renew,
And till the stars ascend the skies
Your tiresome task pursue;

3 Short be your sleep, and coarse your fare,
In vain, till God has blest:
But if his smiles attend your care,
You shall have food and rest.

4 Nor children, relatives, nor friends,
Shall real blessings prove;
Nor all the earthly joys he sends,
If sent without his love.

127. THIRD PART. 8's and 7's.—Aberdeen. Dismission.

Same subject.

1 THOUGH the watch their guard are keeping,
To protect us from alarm;
Foes that wake while we are sleeping,
Yield but to th' Almighty arm.

2 Vain were all our toil and labor,
Did not God that labor bless:
Vain, without his grace and favor,
Every talent we possess.

3 Vainer still the hope of heaven
That on human strength relies;
But to him shall help be given
Who in humble faith applies.

4 Seek we then the Lord's Anointed,
He shall grant us peace and rest:
Ne'er was suppliant disappointed,
Who through Christ his prayer address'd.
Spirit of the Psalms.

128.

C. M.—Coventry.
Family blessings promised.

1 O HAPPY man, whose soul is fill'd
With zeal and reverend awe;
Whose lips to God their honor yield,
Whose life adorns thy law.

2 A watchful Providence shall stand,
Ever to guard his head:
Shall on the labors of his hand,
Its kindly blessings shed.

3 The Lord shall his best hopes fulfil,
For months and years to come;
And bless him from Mount Zion's hill,
In heav'n beyond the tomb.

4 This is the man whose happy eyes
Shall see his house increase,
Shall see the mourning church arise;
Then leave the world in peace.

129.

C. M.—Moreland.
Persecutors punished.

aff 1 UP from my youth, may Israel say,
Have I been nursed in tears;
My griefs were constant as the day,
And tedious as the years.

2 Up from my youth, I bore the rage
Of all the sons of strife;
Oft they assail'd my riper age,
But God preserv'd my life.

3 The Lord beheld them from his throne,
With an impartial eye;
Measur'd the mischiefs they had done,
And bid th' oppressors die.

ag 4 How were the rebel hosts surpris'd
To hear his thunders roll!
How were the foes of Zion seiz'd
With horror to the soul!

5 So will the men that hate thy Son,
Soon perish by thy breath:
They must repent before thy throne,
p Or meet the second death.

130. FIRST PART. C. M.—Burford.

Pardoning grace.

aff 1 OUT of the deeps of long distress,
The borders of despair;
I've sent my cries to seek thy grace,
My groans to move thine ear.

2 Great God, should thy severer eye,
And thine impartial hand,
Mark and revenge iniquity,
No mortal flesh could stand.

di 3 But there are pardons with my God,
For crimes of high degree;
Thy Son has bought them with his blood,
To draw us near to thee.

4 I wait for thy salvation, Lord,
With strong desires I wait;
My soul, invited by thy word,
Stands watching at thy gate.

vi 5 Now in the Lord let Zion trust,
Ye sinners, seek his face;
The Lord is good, the Lord is just,
And plenteous is his grace.

[6 There's full redemption at his throne
For sinners long enslav'd;
Those that believe in Christ the Son,
Through grace shall all be sav'd.]

130. SECOND PART. L. M.—Vernon. Darwen.

Same subject.

aff 1 FROM deep distress and troubled thoughts,
To thee, O Lord, I rais'd my cry;
If thou severely mark our faults,
Oh who can stand before thine eye!

2 But thou hast built thy throne of grace,
Free to dispense thy pardons there,
That sinners may approach thy face,
And hope, and love, as well as fear.

3 As the benighted pilgrims wait,
And long and wish for break of day,
So waits my soul before thy gate;
When will my God his face display?

cr 4 My trust is fix'd upon his word,
Nor shall I trust his word in vain;
Let mourning souls address the Lord,
And find relief from all their pain.

5 Great is his love, and large his grace,
Through the redemption of his Son;
He turns our feet from sinful ways,
And pardons what our hands have done.

130. THIRD PART. S. M.—Bridgeport.

Same subject.

aff 1 FROM lowest depths of wo
To God I send my cry;
Lord, hear my supplicating voice,
And graciously reply.

ag 2 Shouldst thou severely judge,
Who could the trial bear?
p Forgive us, for thy mercy's sake,
And save us from our fear.

cr 3 My soul with patience waits
For thee, the living Lord;
My hopes are on thy promise built,
Thy never failing word.

4 My longing eyes look out
For thine enlivening ray,
More than the nightly watch that wait
To hail the dawning day.

vi 5 Let Zion trust in God,
His word can never fail:
There's full redemption bought with blood,
Which shall with heav'n prevail.

130. FOURTH PART. S. M.—St. Giles.

Mourning in spiritual darkness.

aff 1 OUT of the depths of wo,
To thee, O Lord, I cry:
Darkness surrounds me, but I know
That thou art ever nigh.

2 Then hearken to my voice,
Give ear to my complaint;
Thou bidst the mourning soul rejoice,
Thou comfortest the faint.

3 I cast my hope on thee,
Thou canst, thou wilt forgive,
Wert thou to mark iniquity,
Who in thy sight could live?

4 Humbly on thee I wait,
Confessing all my sin,
Lord, I am knocking at thy gate;
Open and let me in.

cr 5 Though storms thy face obscure,
And dangers threaten loud,
di Jehovah's covenant is sure,
His bow is in the cloud.

Montgomery.

131. FIRST PART. C. M.—Barby.

Humility and submission.

" 1 IS there ambition in my heart?
Search, gracious God, and see:
Or do I act a haughty part?
Lord, I appeal to thee.

p. 2 I charge my thoughts, be humble still,
And all my carriage mild;
Content, my Father, with thy will,
And quiet as a child.

3 The patient soul, the lowly mind,
cr Shall have a large reward;
Let saints in sorrow lie resign'd,
And trust a faithful Lord.

131. SECOND PART. 7's.—Benevento.

An acquiescent temper.

" 1 LORD, for ever at thy side,
Let my place and portion be;
Strip me of the robe of pride;
Clothe me with humility.

2 Meekly may my soul receive
All thy spirit hath reveal'd;
Thou hast spoken: I believe,
Though the prophecy were seal'd di 3 Quiet as a weaned child,

Weaned from the mother's breast,
By no subtlety beguil'd,
On thy faithful word I rest.

cr 4 Saints rejoicing evermore,
In the Lord Jehovah trust;
Him in all his ways adore,
Wise, and wonderful, and just.

132. FIRST PART. L. M.—Sterling. Duke-street.
God dwells with his church.

tt 1 WHERE shall we go to seek, and find
A habitation for our God,
A dwelling for the Eternal mind,
Among the sons of flesh and blood?

2 The God of Jacob chose the hill
Of Zion, for his ancient rest;
And Zion is his dwelling still,
His church is with his presence blest.

3 Here will I fix my gracious throne,
And reign for ever, saith the Lord;
Here shall my power and love be known.
And blessings shall attend my word.

4 Here will I meet the hungry poor,
And fill their souls with living bread;
di All that will stand at mercy's door,
With sweet provision shall be fed.

cr 5 Girded with truth, and clothed with grace,
My ministers shall rise and shine;
Not Aaron, in his costly dress,
Appear'd with tidings so divine.

6 The saints, unable to contain
—f Their inward joy, shall shout and sing;
The Son of David here shall reign,
And Zion triumph in her King.

7 Jesus shall see a num'rous seed
Born here t' uphold his glorious name;
Heav'n's brightest glories crown his head,
While all his foes are clothed with shame.

132. SECOND PART. C. M.—St. Ann's.

For the dedication of a house of worship.

mæ 1 ARISE, O King of grace, arise,
And enter to thy rest!
—di Lo, thy church waits with longing eyes,
Thus to be own'd and blest;

vi. f 2 Enter with all thy glorious train,
Thy spirit and thy word;
All that the ark did once contain
Could no such grace afford.

m. di 3 Here, mighty God! accept our vows,
Here let thy praise be spread;
Bless the provisions of thy house,
And fill the poor with bread.

vi. f 4 Here let the Son of David reign,
Let God's Anointed shine;
Justice and truth his courts maintain,
With love and power divine.

mæ 5 Here let him hold a lasting throne;
And as his kingdom grows,
Fresh honors shall adorn his crown,
And shame confound his foes.

132. THIRD PART. C. M.—Luton. Repose.

Promise of the reign of Christ as the Son of David.

1 LORD, for thy servant David's sake,
Perform thine oath to David's Son:
Thy truth thou never wilt forsake;
Look on thine own Anointed one.

2 The Lord in faithfulness hath sworn
His throne for ever to maintain;
From realm to realm, the sceptre borne,
Shall stretch o'er earth, Messiah's reign.

3 Zion, my chosen hill of old,
My rest, my dwelling, my delight,
With loving kindness I uphold;
Her walls are ever in my sight.

vi 4 I satisfy her poor with bread,
Her table in abundance bless,
cr Joy on her sons and daughters shed,
And clothe her priests with righteousness.

f 5 Arise into thy resting place,
Thou and thy ark of strength, O Lord;
Shine through the veil, we seek thy face,
Speak, for we hearken to thy word.
Montgomery.

133. FIRST PART. C. M.—Retirement. Coventry.
Brotherly love.

1 LO! what an entertaining sight
Those friendly brethren prove,
Whose cheerful hearts in bands unite
Of piety and love!

2 Where streams of bliss, from Christ the spring,
Descend to every soul;
And heav'nly peace, with balmy wing,
Shades and bedews the whole.

[3 'Tis like the oil, divinely sweet,
On Aaron's rev'rend head:
The trickling drops perfum'd his feet,
And o'er his garments spread.]

4 'Tis pleasant as the morning dews,
That fall on Zion's hill,
di Where God his milder glory shows,
And makes his grace distil.

133. SECOND PART. C. M.—Chester. Tunbridge.
Same subject.

d 1 SPIRIT of peace! celestial Dove!
How excellent thy praise!
How rich the gift of Christian love,
Thy gracious power displays!

2 Sweet as the dew on hill and flower
That silently distils,
At evening's soft and balmy hour,
On Zion's fruitful hills.

3 So with mild influence from above,
Shall promis'd grace descend;
Till universal peace and love
O'er all the earth extend.
Spirit of the Psalms

133. THIRD PART. S. M.—Watchman.
Christian love, as seen in a family.

d 1 BLEST are the sons of peace,
Whose hearts and hopes are one;
Whose kind designs to serve and please,
Through all their actions run.

2 Blest is the pious house,
Where zeal and friendship meet;
Their songs of praise, their mingled vows,
Make their communion sweet.

dt 3 As when on Aaron's head
They pour'd the rich purfume,
So shall the incense rise and spread,
To fill the cheerful room.

cr 4 Thus on the heavenly hills
The saints are blest above;
Where joy like morning dew distils,
d And all the air is love.

133. FOURTH PART. S. P. M.—Dalston.
Blessing of Christian friendship.

tt 1 HOW pleasant 'tis to see Kindred and friends agree,
Each in his proper station move:
And each fulfil his part,
With sympathizing heart,
In all the cares of life and love.

dt 2 'Tis like the ointment shed
On Aaron's sacred head,
Divinely rich, divinely sweet:
The oil through all the room
Diffus'd a rich perfume,
Ran through his robes, and bless'd his feet.

cr 3 Like fruitful show'rs of rain
That water all the plain,
Descending from the neighb'ring hills:
Such streams of pleasure roll,
To every friendly soul,
—p Where love, like heav'nly dew, distils.

133. FIFTH PART. H. M.—Bethesda. Stafford.

Same subject.

vi.d 1 HOW beautiful the sight
Of brethren who agree
In friendship to unite,
And bands of charity!
'Tis like the precious ointment shed,
In sacred rite, on Aaron's head.

2 'Tis like the dews that fill
The cups of Hermon's flow'rs;
Or Zion's fruitful hill,
cr Bright with the drops of show'rs:
di Where mingling odors breathe around,
—f And notes of grateful joy resound.

di 3 For there the Lord commands Blessings in boundless store,
From his unsparing hands—
E'en life forevermore:
—f Thrice happy they who meet above,
To spend eternity in love.

134. FIRST PART. C. M.—Remembrance. Coventry.

Daily and nightly devotion.

f 1 YE that obey th' immortal King,
Attend his holy place;
Bow to the glories of his name,
And sing his wondrous grace.

cr 2 Lift up your hands by morning light,
And raise your thanks on high;
di Send your admiring thoughts by night
Above the starry sky.

—cr 3 The God of Zion cheer your hearts
With rays of quick'ning grace:
f 'Tis he that spreads the heav'ns abroad,
di Whose presence fills the place.

134. SECOND PART. C. M.—New Cambridge.

Constant devotion.

d 1 BLESS ye the Lord in solemn rite,
With pure devotion's flame;
Praise ye the Lord, with songs by night,
By day rehearse his name.

2 Lift up your hands amid the place
Where God reveals his love;
And seals the trophies of his grace,
For brighter realms above.

cr 3 From Zion, from his holy hill,
The Lord our Maker send
The saving knowledge of his will,
—di To earth's remotest end.

Montgomery.

135. FIRST PART. L. M.—Rothwell. Park-street.
General praise.

1 PRAISE ye the Lord: exalt his name,
While in his earthly courts we wait,
Ye saints that to his house belong,
Or stand attending at his gate.

2 Praise ye the Lord: the Lord is good;
To praise his name is sweet employ·
Israel he chose of old; and still
His church is his peculiar joy.

3 The Lord himself will judge his saints;
He treats his servants as his friends;
p And when he hears their sore complaints,
Repents the sorrows that he sends.

cr 4 Through every age the Lord declares
His name, and breaks th' oppressor's rod;
He gives his suff'ring servants rest,
And will be known th' Almighty God!

5 Praise ye the Lord, who taste his love,
And learn the wonders of his name:
Among his saints he ever dwells;
His church is his Jerusalem.

135. SECOND PART. C. M.—Colchester. Barby.
Praise due to Jehovah.

d 1 AWAKE, ye saints, to praise your King,
Your sweetest passions raise:
Your pious pleasure, while ye sing,
Increasing with the praise.

2 Great is the Lord; and works unknown
Are his divine employ;
But still his saints are near his throne,
His treasure and his joy.

3 Heav'n, earth, and sea, confess his hand,
He bids the vapors rise;
f Lightning and storm, at his command,
Sweep through the sounding skies.

4 All pow'r that gods or kings have claim'd
Is found with him alone;
di The heathen gods should ne'er be nam'd
Where our Jehovah's known.

mæ 5 O Zion! trust the living God,
Serve him with holy fear;
He makes thy courts his blest abode,
And claims thine honors there.

136. FIRST PART. C. M.—*St. Ann's.

Thanks to God for his works of creation, providence, and redemption.

vi 1 GIVE thanks to God, the Sovereign Lord,
His mercies still endure;
And be the King of kings ador'd:
His truth is ever sure.

2 What wonders hath his wisdom done!
How mighty is his hand!
Heav'n, earth, and sea he fram'd alone,
How wide is his command!

[3 He cleft the swelling sea in two:
His arm is great in might;
And gave the tribes a passage through:
His pow'r and grace unite.]

[4 Great monarchs fell beneath his hand,
Victorious is his sword;
While Israel took the promis'd land:
How faithful is his word!]

aff 5 He saw the nations dead in sin;
He felt his pity move:
How sad the state the world was in!
How boundless was his love!

6 He sent to save us from our wo,
His goodness never fails;
From death, and hell, and every foe,
And still his grace prevails.

---

* This version seems intended for responsive singing. The short lines are for the chorus, and the long ones for a single voice. The last verse, however, should be sung in full chorus.

f 7 Give thanks to God, the heav'nly King,
His mercies still endure;
Let all the earth his praises sing;
His truth is ever sure.

136. SECOND PART. H. M.—Stafford. Bethesda.

Same subject.

vi 1 GIVE thanks to God most high,
The universal Lord,
The Sovereign King of kings;
And be his name ador'd:
di Thy mercy, Lord,
Shall still endure;
cr And ever sure
Abides thy word.

2 How mighty is his hand!
What wonders he hath done!
He form'd the earth and seas,
And spread the heav'ns alone:
His pow'r and grace
Are still the same;
And let his name
Have endless praise.

di 3 He saw the nations lie
All perishing in sin;
aff And pitied the sad state
The ruin'd world was in:
p Thy mercy, Lord,
Shall still endure;
cr And ever sure
Abides thy word.

di 4 He sent his only Son
To save us from our wo,
From Satan, sin, and death,
And ev'ry hurtful foe:
cr His pow'r and grace
Are still the same;
And let his name
Have endless praise.

f 5 Give thanks aloud to God,
To God the heav'nly King.
And let the spacious earth
His boundless glories sing:

ai Thy mercy, Lord,
Shall still endure;
f And ever sure
Abides thy word.

136. THIRD PART. L. M.—Park-street. Rothwell.

Same subject.

f'' 1 GIVE to our God immortal praise,
Mercy and truth are all his ways;
Wonders of grace to God belong,
Repeat his mercies in your song.

2 Give to the Lord of lords renown,
The King of kings with glory crown:
di His mercies ever shall endure,
—p When lords and kings are known no more.

cr 3 He built the earth, he spread the sky,
And fix'd the starry gems on high:
Wonders of grace to God belong,
Repeat his mercies in your song.

4 He fills the sun with morning light,
And bids the moon direct the night:
His mercies ever shall endure,
When suns and moons shall shine no more.

di 5 He form'd our race of humble clay,
And bade us his command obey:
cr Wonders of grace to God belong,
Repeat his mercies in your song.

aff 6 He saw us perishing in sin,
And felt his pity move within:
His mercies ever shall endure,
When death and sin shall reign no more.

7 He sent his Son with power to save di From guilt and darkness and the grave:
f Wonders of grace to God belong,
Repeat his mercies in your song.

m 8 Through this vain world he guides our feet,
And leads us to his heav'nly seat:
His mercies ever shall endure
When this vain world shall be no more.

136. FOURTH PART. 7's.—German II. German Air.

Same subject.

vi 1 LET us with a joyful mind
Praise the Lord, for he is kind:
di For his mercies shall endure,
cr Ever faithful, ever sure.

2 He hath form'd us by his word,
He is the creation's Lord:
For his mercies shall endure,
Ever faithful, ever sure.

aff 3 He beheld, with pitying eye,
Sinful man condemn'd to die:
For his mercies shall endure,
Ever faithful, ever sure.

di 4 He his life a ransom gave,
vi Quick to love and strong to save:
For his mercies shall endure,
Ever faithful, ever sure.

f 5 He arose; he reigns on high:
Grave, where is thy victory?
For his mercies shall endure,
Ever faithful, ever sure.

di 6 He will lead his chosen race
Through the world's dark wilderness:
For his mercy shall endure,
Ever faithful, ever sure.

7 He will bring them, by his love,
cr To the courts of heav'n above:
For his mercies shall endure,
Ever faithful, ever sure.

f 8 Let us then with heart and voice
In Jehovah's name rejoice:
For his mercy shall endure,
Ever faithful, ever sure.

137. FIRST PART. S. M.—Clapton. ex.

Love to the church.

d 1 I LOVE thy kingdom, Lord,
The house of thine abode,
The church our blest Redeemer sav'd
With his own precious blood.

[2 I love thy church, O God,
Her walls before thee stand
Dear as the apple of thine eye,
And graven on thy hand.]

3 If e'er to bless thy sons di My voice or hands deny,
p These hands let useful skill forsake,
This voice in silence die.

4 If e'er my heart forget
Her welfare or her wo;
ex Let every joy this heart forsake,
And every grief o'erflow.

p 5 For her my tears shall fall,
For her my prayers ascend;
cr To her my cares and toils be giv'n,
Till toils and cares shall end.

f 6 Beyond my highest joy,
I prize her heav'nly ways;
di Her sweet communion, solemn vows
Her hymns of love and praise.

d~ 7 Jesus, thou friend divine,
Our Saviour and our King;
cr Thy hand, from every snare and foe,
Shall great deliv'rance bring.

[8 Sure as thy truth shall last,
To Zion shall be giv'n,
The brightest glories earth can yield,
And brighter bliss of heav'n.]

Dwight.

137. SECOND PART. L. M.—Repose. ex.

Israel exhorted to hail the Messiah.

p 1 WHY on the bending willows hung,
O Israel, sleeps thy tuneful lyre?
Why still refrain thy nobler tongue?
Can no high theme thy soul inspire?

f 2 Awake! thy sweetest raptures raise,
Let harp and voice unite their strains;
Thy promis'd King his sceptre sways;
Jesus thine own Messiah reigns!

di 3 No taunting foes the song require:
No strangers mock thy captive chain:
But friends provoke the silent lyre;
And brethren ask the holy strain.

4 Nor fear thy Salem suffers wrong,
If other hands thy triumph share:
f A heav'nly city claims thy song,
A brighter Salem rises there.

di 5 By foreign streams no longer roam;
Nor weeping, think of Jordan's flood:
cr In every clime behold a home,
In every temple see thy God!

THIRD PART. 11's.—Louville.
The Babylonian captivity.

aff. 1 ALONG the banks where Babel's current flows,
The captive bands in deep despondence stray'd;
While Zion's fall in sad remembrance rose,
di Her friends, her children, mingled with the dead.

cr 2 The tuneful harp that once with joy they strung,
When praise employ'd and mirth inspir'd the lay,
di Was now in silence on the willows hung,
While growing grief prolong'd the tedious day.

cr 3 Their proud oppressors, to increase their wo,
With taunting smiles a song of Zion claim;
Bid sacred praise in strains melodious flow,
—p While they blaspheme the great Jehovah's name.

4 But how, in heathen chains, and lands unknown, Shall Israel's bands the sacred anthems raise?
cx "O hapless Salem! God's terrestrial throne,
Thou land of glory, sacred mount of praise!

5 "If e'er my memory lose thy lovely name,
If my cold heart neglect my kindred race,
Let dire destruction seize this guilty frame,
ag My hand shall perish and my voice shall cease.

mæ 6 "Yet shall the Lord who hears when Zion calls,
O'ertake her foes with terror and dismay;
His arm avenge her desolated walls,
And raise her children to eternal day."

L. M.—Luton. Rothwell.
Restoring and preserving grace.

vi 1 WITH all my pow'r of heart and tongue
I'll praise my Maker in my song;
Angels shall hear the notes I raise,
Approve the song, and join the praise.

2 The God of heav'n maintains his state,
Frowns on the proud and scorns the great;
di But from his throne descends to bless,
The humble souls that seek his grace.

p 5 To God I cried, when troubles rose;
cr He heard me and subdued my foes,
He did my rising fears control,
And strength diffuse through all my soul.

m 4 Amid a thousand snares I stand,
Upheld and guarded by thy hand:
Thy promises my soul revive,
And keep my dying faith alive.

5 Grace will complete what grace begins,
To save from sorrows or from sins;
The work that wisdom undertakes,
Eternal mercy ne'er forsakes.

vi 6 I'll sing thy truth and mercy, Lord:
I'll sing the treasures of thy word:
Not all thy works of might below,
So much thy pow'r and glory show.

139. FIRST PART. L. M.—Winchester.

Omniscience of God.

m. 1 LORD, thou hast search'd and seen me through;
Thine eye commands, with piercing view
My rising and my resting hours,
My heart and flesh, with all their powers

p 2 My thoughts before they are my own,
Are to my God distinctly known;
He knows the words I mean to speak
Ere from my opening lips they break.

cr 3 Within thy circling power I stand,
On every side I find thy hand:
" Awake, asleep, at home, abroad,
I am surrounded still with God.

mæ 4 Amazing knowledge, vast and great!
What large extent! what lofty height!
My soul, with all the powers I boast,
—p Is in the boundless prospect lost.

cr.⌒ 5 O may these thoughts possess my breast,
Where'er I rove, where'er I rest;
di Nor let my weaker passions dare
—pp Consent to sin, for God is there.

PAUSE.—Uxbridge.

" 6 Could I so false, so faithless prove,
To quit thy service and thy love;
Where, Lord, could I thy presence shun,
Or from thy dreadful glory run!

7 Should I to heav'n pursue my flight,
'Tis there thou dwell'st enthron'd in light
ex Or plunge to hell, where darkness reigns,
There justice fills the burning plains.

vi 8 Or should the wings of morn convey
Me o'er the distant land and sea;
Thy swifter hand would first arrive,
And there arrest thy fugitive.

di 9 Or should I try to shun thy sight,
—pp Beneath the spreading vale of night;
cr—f One glance of thine, one piercing ray,
Would kindle darkness into day.

ag 10 O may these thoughts possess my breast
Where'er I rove, where'er I rest;
Nor let my weaker passions dare
—pp Consent to sin, for God is there.

139. SECOND PART. L. M.—Sterling.
God our Creator and kind preserver.

' ' 1 'TWAS from thy hand, my God, I came,
A work of such a curious frame;
In me thy fearful wonders shine;
And each proclaims thy skill divine.

2 Great God, our feeble nature pays
Immortal tribute to thy praise:
Thy thoughts of love to me, surmount
The power of numbers to recount.

cr 3 I could survey the ocean o'er,
And count the sands upon the shore,
Before my utmost thoughts could trace
The matchless wonders of thy grace.

di 4 These on my heart are still imprest:
p With these I give my eyes to rest;
cr And at my waking hour I find
God and his love possess my mind.

139. THIRD PART. L. M.—Derby. Vernon.
Appeal to the heart-searching God.

aff 1 MY God, what inward grief I feel,
When impious men transgress thy will;
I mourn to hear their lips profane ag Take thy tremendous name in vain.

' ' 2 Does not my soul detest and hate
The works of malice and deceit?
Those that oppose thy laws and thee—
Are they not enemies to me?

m⁀ 3 Lord, search my heart, try every thought Though my own heart accuse me not
Of walking in a false disguise,
I beg the trial of thine eyes.

p 4 Doth secret mischief lurk within?
Do I indulge some unknown sin?
cr O turn my feet whene'er I stray,
—p And lead me in thy perfect way.

139. FOURTH PART. C. M.—St. Ann's.

God everywhere.

mæ 1 IN all my vast concerns with thee,
In vain my soul would try
To shun thy presence, Lord, or flee
The notice of thine eye.

2 Thine all-surrounding sight surveys
My rising and my rest;
My public walks, my private ways,
And secrets of my breast.

p 3 My thoughts lie open to the Lord,
Before they're form'd within;
And ere my lips pronounce the word,
He knows the sense I mean.

cr 4 O wondrous knowledge, deep and high!
Where can a creature hide?
Within thy circling arms I lie,
Enclosed on every side.

di 5 So let thy grace surround me still,
And like a bulwark prove,
To guard my soul from every ill,
Secur'd by sovereign love.

PAUSE.—Burford. Moreland.

aff 6 Lord, where shall guilty souls retire,
Forgotten and unknown?
In hell they meet thy dreadful ire,
In heav'n thy glorious throne.

ag 7 Should I suppress my vital breath,
T' escape the wrath divine;
Thy voice would break the bars of death,
And bid the grave resign.

8 Should I with beams of morning light,
Fly to the distant west;
The hand which would support my flight,
Would soon betray my rest.

p 9 Should I o'er sin presume to draw
The curtains of the night;
cr Those flaming eyes that guard thy law,
Would turn the shades to light.

10 The beams of noon, the midnight hour,
Are both alike to thee:
Oh, may I ne'er provoke that pow'r
From which I cannot flee!

139. FIFTH PART. C. M.—Chester. Fabius.

God our Creator and preserver.

1 WHEN I with pleasing wonder stand,
And all my frame survey;
I see thy work, and own the hand
That built my humble clay.

2 And when I count thy mercies o'er,
They fill me with surprise;
cr Not sands upon the ocean's shore
To equal numbers rise.

di 3 These on my heart by night I keep,
My Lord, how dear to me!
O may the hour that ends my sleep,
Still find my thoughts with thee.

139. SIXTH PART. L. M.—Wesley Chapel.

God our Maker, the searcher of hearts.

1 IN God's own workmanship display'd,
A miracle of power, I stand:
How wonderfully was I made,
And wrought in secret by thy hand!
I liv'd ere into being brought,
Through thy eternity of thought.

d 2 How precious are thy thoughts of peace,
O God, to me! how great the sum!
New every morn, they never cease;
They were, they are, and yet shall come,
In number and in compass more,
Than ocean's sand, or ocean's shore.

3 Search me, O God, and know my heart;
Try me, my secret soul survey:
And warn thy servant to depart
From every false and evil way:
So shall thy truth my guidance be,
In life and immortality.

140. FIRST PART. L. M.—Derby. Quito.

A prayer against public enemies.

aff 1 O LORD, the God of heaven and earth,
From men of violence defend;
Whose ranks are daily marching forth,
Against our well-beloved land.

2 In fields of blood their souls delight;
They seek for plunder mid the slain;
Against the church and thee unite,
Alike the foes of God and man.

di 3 By night they form some foul design,
And lie in wait against our peace;
cr By day their bands in war combine,
To waste, to slaughter, and oppress.

m 4 Oh thou Preserver of mankind!
Our hope, our shield, our strength, our God!
Thou hast an ear to prayer inclin'd,
Our cries have reach'd thy dread abode.

Dwight.

140. SECOND PART. S. M.—Bridgeport.

Complaint against personal enemies.

aff 1 MY God, while impious men,
With malice in their heart,
My peace destroy, my life defame,
Thy guardian grace impart.

p 2 Daily they lie in wait
My footsteps to betray,
Full many a snare for me they set,
Beside my peaceful way.

ex 3 Oh, hear my humble cry,
Their cherish'd hopes destroy:
Their arts confound, their plots disclose,
And blast their envious joy.

4 Thou wilt sustain the poor,
And bid th' afflicted sing;
Before thee shall thy children dwell,
Their Father and their King.

Dwight.

141. FIRST PART. L. M.—Luton.

Christian watchfulness and reproof—A morning psalm.

d 1 MY God, accept my early vows,
Like morning incense in thine house;
And let my nightly worship rise,
Sweet as the evening sacrifice.

di 2 Watch o'er my lips, and guard them, Lord,
From every rash and heedless word;
Nor let my feet incline to tread
The guilty path where sinners lead.

cr 3 O, may the righteous, when I stray,
Smite and reprove my wand'ring way!
Their gentle words like ointment shed,
Shall never bruise, but cheer my head.

4 When I behold them press'd with grief,
I'll cry to heav'n for their relief:
And by my warm petitions prove,
How much I prize their faithful love.

141. SECOND PART. L. M.—Repose. Seasons.
Christian watchfulness and reproof.

d 1 LORD, let my prayer like incense rise:
And when I lift my hands to thee,
As in the evening sacrifice,
Look down from heav'n well pleas'd on me.

2 Set thou a watch to keep my tongue,
Let not my heart to sin incline;
Save me from men who practice wrong:
Let me not share their mirth and wine.

3 But let the righteous, when I stray,
Smite me in love; his strokes are kind:
His mild reproofs, like oil, allay
The wounds they make, and heal the mind.

aff 4 But O, redeem me from the snares
With which the world surrounds my feet,
Its riches, vanities, and cares,
Its love, its hatred, and deceit!

Montgomery.

142. C. M.—Bangor.
God is the hope of the helpless.

aff 1 TO God I'll make my sorrows known;
From God I'll seek relief;
In long complaints before his throne
I'll pour out all my grief.

2 On every side I cast mine eye,
And find my helper s gone;
My friends and strangers pass me by,
Neglected and alone.

vi 3 But I will raise my prayer to thee;
Now let thine ear attend;
And make the foes who vex me see,
That God is still my friend.

cr 4 From depths of sorrow set me free,
Then shall I praise thy name;
And holy men shall join with me
Thy kindness to proclaim.

143.

FIRST PART. L. M.—Darwen. Vernon.
Heavy affliction in body and mind.

aff 1 MY righteous Judge, my gracious God,
Hear when I spread my hands abroad;
I cry for succor from thy throne;
O, make thy truth and mercy known.

ag 2 Destroy me not in judgment, Lord;
Thy pard'ning mercy still afford;
Should justice call us to thy bar,
No living man is guiltless there.

li 3 Look down in pity, Lord, and see
The mighty woes that burden me;
Down to the dust my life is brought,
—pp Like one long buried and forgot.

cr 4 My thoughts in musing silence trace
The ancient wonders of thy grace;
Thence I derive a gleam of hope,
To bear my sinking spirits up.

ex 5 For thee I thirst, I pray, I mourn;
When will thy smiling face return?
Shall all my joys on earth remove,
And God for ever hide his love?

PAUSE.—Repose. ex.

p. aff 6 The night is witness to my tears,
Distressing pains, distracting fears;
O might I hear thy morning voice,
How would my wearied powers rejoice!

7 In thee I trust, to thee I sigh,
And lift my trembling soul on high;
For thee sit waiting all the day,
And wear the painful hours away.

8 Teach me submission to thy will,
And lead me to thy holy hill;
Let the good Spirit, by thy love,
Prepare me for thy courts above.

f 9 There shall my soul no more complain;
The tempter then shall rage in vain:
And flesh and sin, my foes before,
Shall never vex my spirit more.

143. SECOND PART. L. M.—Derby.

Mental afflictions and trials.

aff 1 HEAR me, O Lord, in my distress,
Hear me in truth and righteousness;
For at thy bar of judgment tried,
None living can be justified.

ag 2 Lord, I have foes without, within,
The world, the flesh, indwelling sin,
Life's daily ills, temptation's pow'r,
And Satan, roaring to devour.

3 O let me not so hopeless lie,
Like one condemn'd at morn to die;
But with the morning may I see,
Thy loving kindness visit me.

4 Teach me thy will, subdue my own;
Thou art my God, and thou alone;
By thy good Spirit guide me still,
Safe from all foes, to Zion's hill.

5 Release my soul from trouble, Lord:
Quicken and keep me by thy word;
May all its promises be mine;
Be thou my portion—I am thine.

Montgomery.

144. FIRST PART. C. M.—Colchester.

Victory in spiritual warfare.

vi 1 FOR ever blessed be the Lord,
My Saviour and my shield;
He sends his Spirit with his word,
To arm me for the field.

2 When sin and hell their force unite,
He makes my soul his care;
Instructs me in the heav'nly fight,
And guards me through the war.

d 3 A friend and helper so divine,
Doth my weak courage raise;
He makes the glorious vict'ry mine,
And his shall be the praise.

144. SECOND PART. C. M.—Barby. ex.
Vanity of man, and condescension of God.

aff 1 LORD, what is man! poor feeble man,
Born of the earth at first!
His life, a shadow, light and vain,
p Still hastening to the dust.

cr 2 Oh what is feeble dying man,
Or all his sinful race,
That thou shouldst make it thy concern,
di To visit him with grace!

ag 3 That God, who darts his lightning down,
Who shakes the worlds above;
While mountains tremble at his frown,
d How wondrous is his love!

144. THIRD PART. L. M.—Seasons. Repose.
God's goodness and man's ingratitude.

d 1 THE Lord is gracious to forgive,
And slow to let his anger move;
The Lord is good to all that live,
And all his tender mercy prove.

mæ 2 Glorious in majesty art thou;
Thy throne for ever shall endure;
di Angels before thy footstool bow,
Yet dost thou not despise the poor.

3 The Lord upholds the men that fall;
He raises men of low degree:
O God, our health, the eyes of all,
Of all the living, wait on thee.

4 Thou op'nest thy exhaustless store,
And rainest food on every land:
The dumb creation, thee adore,
And eat their portion from thy hand.

aff 5 But, most indebted, most ingrate,
Man only is a rebel here:
Teach him to know thee, ere too late;
Teach him to love thee and to fear.

Montgomery.

145. FIRST PART. L. M.—Rothwell. Seasons

All praise due to God.

d 1 MY God, my King, thy various praise,
Shall fill the remnant of my days;
Thy grace employ my humble tongue,
Till death and glory raise the song.

vi 2 The wings of every hour shall bear
Some thankful tribute to thine ear:
di And every setting sun shall see
New works of duty done for thee.

mæ 3 Thy works with boundless glory shine,
And speak thy majesty divine;
Let every realm with joy proclaim,
The honors of thy holy name.

4 Let distant times and nations raise
The long succession of thy praise;
And unborn ages make my song
The joy and triumph of their tongue.

m 5 But who can speak thy wondrous deeds!
Thy greatness, all our thoughts exceeds;
Vast and unsearchable thy ways!
Vast and immortal be thy praise.

145. SECOND PART. C. M.—Colchester.

Same subject.

d 1 LONG as I live, I'll bless thy name,
My King, my God of love:
My work and joy shall be the same,
In the bright world above.

2 Great is the Lord, his power unknown,
And let his praise be great;
I'll sing the honors of thy throne,
Thy works of grace repeat.

3 Thy grace shall dwell upon my tongue;
And while my lips rejoice,
The men that hear my sacred song,
Shall join their cheerful voice.

4 Fathers to sons shall teach thy name,
And children learn thy ways;
Ages to come thy truth proclaim,
And nations sound thy praise.

5 The world is govern'd by thy hand,
Thy saints are rul'd by love:
For ever shall thy kingdom stand,
Though rocks and hills remove.

145. THIRD PART. C. M.—Tunbridge. Colchester.

Goodness of God.

d 1 SWEET is the mem'ry of thy grace,
My God, my heav'nly King!
Let age to age thy righteousness
In sounds of glory sing.

cr 2 God reigns on high, but not confines
His goodness to the skies;
Through the whole earth his bounty shines,
And every want supplies.

3 With longing eyes thy creatures wait
On thee for daily food:
Thy lib'ral hand provides their meat,
And fills their mouth with good.

di 4 How kind and gracious is the Lord,
How slow his anger moves!
How soon he sends his pard'ning word
To cheer the soul he loves!

cr 5 Creatures with all their endless race,
Thy power and praise proclaim;
But saints that taste thy richer grace,
Adore thy wondrous name.

145. FOURTH PART. C. M.—Barby.

God's mercy to the weak and helpless.

d 1 LET every tongue thy goodness speak,
Thou sovereign Lord of all;
Thy strength'ning hands uphold the weak,
And raise the poor that fall.

di 2 When sorrow bows the spirit down,
And virtue lies distress'd,
Beneath some proud oppressor's frown,
Thou giv'st the mourner rest.

3 God strengthens our declining days:
He guards the hours of youth;
mæ Holy and just are all his ways,
His word is heavenly truth.

p 4 He knows the pains his servants feel,
He hears his children cry:
And their best wishes to fulfill
His grace is ever nigh.

5 His mercy never shall remove,
From men of heart sincere:
He saves the soul where humble love
Is joined with holy fear.

ag 6 His foes unyielding he will slay,
Who dare oppose his reign:
d But none that serve the Lord shall say,
They sought his aid in vain.

146. FIRST PART. L. M.—Park-street.
God is to be praised for his perfections and providences.

1 PRAISE ye the Lord: my heart shall join
In work so pleasant, so divine;
The work of praise shall ne'er be past,
While life, and thought, and being last.

l l 2 Happy the man whose hopes rely
On Israel's God, who reigns on high;
The God of angels and of men,
None ever found his promise vain.

3 His truth for ever stands secure,
He saves the oppress'd, he feeds the poor
He helps the stranger in distress,
The widow and the fatherless.

4 He loves his saints, he knows them well;
ag But turns the wicked down to hell;
mæ Thy God, O Zion, ever reigns,
Praise him in everlasting strains.

146. SECOND PART. L. P. M.—St. Helen's.
Same subject.

vi.l l 1 I'LL praise my Maker with my breath,
And when my voice is lost in death,
Praise shall employ my nobler pow'rs:
My days of praise shall ne'er be past,
While life, and thought, and being last,
Or immortality endures.

2 Happy the man whose hopes rely
On Israel's God, who made the sky,

And earth and sea, with all their train;
His truth for ever stands secure,
He saves th' oppress'd, he feeds the poor,
And none shall find his promise vain.

3 He loves his saints, he knows them well,
—p But turns the wicked down to hell:
mæ Thy God, O Zion, ever reigns!
Let every tongue, let every age,
In this exalted work engage,
Praise him in everlasting strains.

PAUSE.

di 4 Why should I make a man my trust?
Why should I cleave to brittle dust,
Or look for help from flesh and blood?
Man's breath departs, his pomp and pow'r,
His thoughts all vanish in an hour;
p Nor can he make his promise good.

cr 5 The Lord supports the sinking mind;
The Lord gives eyesight to the blind;
He sends the lab'ring conscience peace,
He helps the stranger in distress,
The widow and the fatherless,
And grants the pris'ner sweet release.

f 6 I'll praise him while he lends me breath;
And when my voice is lost in death,
Praise shall employ my nobler pow'rs:
My days of praise shall ne'er be past,
While life, and thought, and being last,
Or immortality endures.

147. FIRST PART. C. M.—Rothwell. Luton.

Praise for divine grace.

vi 1 PRAISE ye the Lord; 'tis good to raise
Our hearts and voices in his praise;
His nature and his works invite
To make this duty our delight.

2 The Lord builds up Jerusalem,
And gathers nations to his name;
His mercy melts the stubborn soul,
And makes the broken spirit whole.

3 Great is our Lord, and great his might,
And all his glories infinite:
He crowns the meek, rewards the just,
And treads the wicked to the dust.

di 5 But saints are lovely in his sight;
He views his children with delight,
He sees their hope, he knows their fear,
And looks and loves his image there.

147. SECOND PART. C. M.—Colchester. Tolland.

Seasons of the year.

f.vi 1 WITH songs and honors sounding loud,
Address the Lord on high:
Over the heav'ns he spreads his cloud,
And waters veil the sky.

2 He sends his showers of blessing down,
To cheer the plains below;
He makes the grass the mountains crown
And corn in valleys grow.

3 His steady counsels change the face di Of the declining year;
He bids the sun cut short his race,
And wint'ry days appear.

4 His hoary frost, his fleecy snow,
Descend and clothe the ground;
m The liquid streams forbear to flow,
In icy fetters bound.

vi 5 He sends his word and melts the snow,
The fields no longer mourn;
He calls the warmer gales to blow,
And bids the spring return.

6 The changing wind, the flying cloud,
Obey his mighty word;
With songs and honors sounding loud,
Praise ye the sov'reign Lord.

148. FIRST PART. H. M.—Weymouth.

Universal praise.

vi 1 YE tribes of Adam join
With heav'n, and earth, and seas,
And offer notes divine
To your Creator's praise:
f Ye holy throng
Of angels bright,
In worlds of light,
Begin the song.

d 2 Thou sun with dazzling rays,
And moon that rul'st the night,
Shine to your Maker's praise.
With stars of twinkling light:
f His power declare,
Ye floods on high,
And clouds that fly
In empty air.

mæ 3 The shining worlds above
In glorious order stand,
Or in swift courses move,
By his supreme command:
di He spake the word,
And all their frame
From nothing came
To praise the Lord.

PAUSE.

mæ 4 Rulers of earth, adore
The Lord, the heav'nly King,
Obey him evermore,
And his high praises sing:
di Nor mid the dream
Of power and state,
cr Dare to forget
The great Supreme.

l l 5 Children and youths, engage
To sound his praise divine;
While men of riper age,
cr Their louder voices join:
f Wide as he reigns,
His name be sung
By every tongue,
In endless strains.

6 Let all the nations fear
The God that rules above; di He brings his people near p And makes them taste his love:
f While earth and sky
Attempt his praise,
His saints shall raise
His honors high.

148. SECOND PART. L. M.—Luther's Hymn.

Same subject.

vi. mæ 1 LOUD hallelujahs to the Lord,
From distant worlds where creatures dwell;
Let heav'n begin the solemn word,
ag And sound it dreadful down to hell.

mæ 2 The Lord! how absolute he reigns!
Let every angel bend the knee;
Sing of his love in heav'nly strains,
f. ag And speak how fierce his terrors be.

⌒ 3 High on the throne his glories dwell,
An awful throne of shining bliss;
vi Fly through the world, O sun, and tell
—p How dark thy beams compar'd with his.

FIRST PAUSE.

mæ 4 Awake, ye tempests, and his fame
In sounds of dreadful praise declare;
p Let the sweet whispers of his name
Fill every gentler breeze of air.

cr 5 Let clouds, and winds, and waves agree
To join their praise with blazing fire;
Let the firm earth and rolling sea
In this eternal song conspire.

d 6 Ye flow'ry plains, proclaim his skill,
p Valleys, lie low before his eye;
cr And let his praise from every hill,
f Rise tuneful to the neighb'ring sky.

SECOND PAUSE.—Park-street. ex.

vi 7 Mortals, can you refrain your tongue,
While all the wide creation sings!
f O, for a shout from old and young,
From humble swains, and lofty kings.

8 Wide as his vast dominion lies,
Make the Creator's name be known;
ff Loud as his thunders shout his praise.
And sound it lofty as his throne.

m. mæ 9 Jehovah! 'tis a glorious word!
O may it dwell on every tongue:
But saints who best have known the Lord,
Are bound to raise the noblest song.

ri 10 Speak of the wonders of that love
Which Gabriel plays on every chord:
cr From all below, and all above,
f Loud hallelujahs to the Lord.

148. THIRD PART. S. M.—Clapton.
Same subject.

f 1 LET every creature join
To praise th' eternal God:
Ye heav'nly hosts the song begin,
And sound his name abroad.

2 Thou sun with golden beams,
And moon with paler rays;
Ye starry lights, ye twink'ling flames,
Shine to your Maker's praise.

3 He built those worlds above,
And fix'd their wondrous frame:
By his command they stand or move,
And ever speak his name.

di 4 By all his works below,
His honors be express'd:
Saints, who his loving kindness know,
Should sing his praises best.

148. FOURTH PART. L. C. M.—Warning.
Same subject.

f 1 BEGIN, my soul, th' exalted lay,
Let each enraptur'd thought obey,
And praise the Almighty name:
Let heav'n and earth, and seas and skies,
In one melodious concert rise,
To swell th' inspiring theme.

2 Thou heav'n of heav'ns, his vast abode,
Ye clouds proclaim your Maker God,
Ye thunders speak his power;
mæ Lo! on the lightning's fiery wing,
In triumph walks th' eternal King:
Th' astonish'd worlds adore.

ex 3 Ye deeps with roaring billows rise,
To join the thunders of the skies,
Praise him who bids you roll:
di His praise in softer notes declare,
p Each whispering breeze of yielding air:
—pp And breathe it to the soul.

cr 4 Wake, all ye soaring throngs, and sing:
d Ye feather'd warblers of the spring,
Harmonious anthems raise
To him who shap'd your finer mould,
Who tipp'd your glitt'ring wings with gold,
And tun'd your voice to praise.

f 5 Let man, by nobler passions sway'd,
Let man, in God's own image made,
His breath in praise employ;
Spread wide his Maker's name around,
cr Till heav'n shall echo back the sound,
In songs of holy joy.

Ogilvie.

148. FIFTH PART. 8's and 7's.—Ch. Hymn.

Praise to God.

f 1 PRAISE the Lord, ye heav'ns adore him,
Praise him, angels in the height;
Sun and moon rejoice before him,
Praise him all ye stars of light.

2 Praise the Lord, for he hath spoken,
Worlds his mighty voice obey'd;
Laws which never can be broken,
For their guidance he hath made.

3 Praise the Lord, for he is glorious;
Never shall his promise fail;
God hath made his saints victorious,
Sin and death shall not prevail.

4 Praise the God of our salvation,
Hosts on high, his pow'r proclaim;
Heav'n and earth, and all creation,
Praise and magnify his name.

Doublin Coll.

148. SIXTH PART. 7's.—Nuremburgh.

Praise for the works of creation.

f'll 1 HERALDS of creation cry
Praise the Lord, the Lord most high!
Heav'n and earth obey the call,
Praise the Lord, the Lord of all.

2 For he spake, and forth from night,
Sprang the universe to light:
He commanded; nature heard,
And stood fast upon his word.

3 Praise him, all ye hosts above,
Spirits perfected in love;
Sun and moon your anthems raise,
Sing, ye stars, your Maker's praise.
Montgomery.

149. C. M.—Coventry.

Saints should praise God and rejoice in him.

vi 1 ALL ye that love the Lord, rejoice,
And let your songs be new:
Amid the church with cheerful voice
His later wonders shew.

2 The Lord takes pleasure in the just,
p Whom sinners treat with scorn:
The meek that lie despised in dust,
cr Salvation shall adorn.

3 Saints should be joyful in their King,
E'en on a dying bed;
f And like the souls in glory sing:
di For God shall raise the dead.

mæ 4 When Christ his judgment seat ascends,
And bids the world appear;
Thrones are prepared for all his friends,
Who lov'd, and serv'd him here.

150. FIRST PART. C. M.—New Cambridge.

A song of praise.

1 IN God's own house pronounce his praise
His grace he there reveals;
To heaven your joy and wonder raise,
For there his glory dwells.

2 Let all your sacred passions move,
While you rehearse his deeds;
But the great work of saving love,
Your highest praise exceeds.

f 3 All that have motion, life, and breath, Proclaim your Maker blest:
di Yet, when my voice expires in death,
cr My soul shall praise him best.

150. SECOND PART. H. M.—Weymouth.

Same subject.

vi 1 IN Zion's sacred gates,
Let hymns of praise begin—
Where acts of faith and love,
In ceaseless beauty shine:

di In mercy there
While God is known,
cr Before his throne
With songs appear.

f 2 The trumpet's martial voice,
The timbrel's softer sound,
The organ's solemn peal,
His praises shall resound:
ff To swell the song
With highest joy,
Let man employ
His tuneful tongue.

mæ 3 In heav'n, his house on high,
Ye angels lift your voice;
Let heav'nly harps resound,
And happy saints rejoice:
The glories sing,
That ever shine,
With pomp divine,
Around your King.

Dwight.

150. THIRD PART. 7's.—Song of Jubilee. Benevento.

Same subject.

f 1 PRAISE the Lord, his pow'r confess,
Praise him in his holiness,
Praise him as the theme inspires,
Praise him as his name requires.

ex 2 Let the trumpet's lofty sound,
Spread its loudest notes around;
Let the harp unite in praise,
With the sacred minstrel's lays.

3 Let the organ join to bless
God, the Lord of righteousness;
Tune your voice to spread the fame
Of the great Jehovah's name.

ff 4 All who dwell beneath his light,
In his praise your hearts unite;
While the stream of song is pour'd,
Praise and magnify the Lord.

Wrangham.

HYMNS.

THE HOLY SCRIPTURES.*

1. L. M.—Sterling. Uxbridge.
The Bible divinely inspired.

1 'TWAS by an order from the Lord,
The ancient prophets spake his word;
His Spirit did their tongues inspire,
And fill their hearts with heav'nly fire.

2 Great God! mine eyes with wonder look,
Upon the treasures of thy book:
There my Redeemer's face I see,
And read his name who died for me.

3 Let the false raptures of the mind
Be lost and vanish in the wind:
Here I can fix my hope secure,
The word is THINE, and must endure.

2. C. M.—Peterborough. Fabius.
The Bible a lamp.

1 HOW precious is the book divine,
By inspiration giv'n!
Bright as a lamp its doctrines shine,
To guide our souls to heav'n.

2 It sweetly cheers our drooping hearts,
In this dark vale of tears;
Life, light, and joy, it still imparts,
And quells our rising fears.

* See also GOSPEL, and PSALMS 19 and 119.

3 This lamp, through all the tedious night
Of life, shall guide our way,
Till we behold the clearer light,
Of heaven's eternal day.

3. C. M.—Retirement. Chester.
The Holy Scriptures.

aff 1 LADEN with guilt, and full of fears,
I fly to thee, my Lord;
And not a gleam of hope appears,
But in thy written word.

d 2 The volume of my Father's grace
Does all my grief assuage;
Here I behold my Saviour's face
Beaming in every page.

3 Here is the Judge that ends the strife
When human reas'nings fail:
Here is the guide to endless life
Through all this gloomy vale.

4 O may thy counsels, mighty God,
My roving feet command,
And keep me in the narrow road,
That leads to thy right hand.

4. C. M.—Fabius. Moravian.
The word of God.

d 1 FATHER of mercies, in thy word
What endless glory shines!
For ever be thy name ador'd,
For these celestial lines.

[2 Here may the wretched sons of want Exhaustless riches find;
Riches above what earth can grant,
And lasting as the mind.

3 Here the fair tree of knowledge grows,
And yields a free repast:
Sublimer sweets than nature knows,
Invite the longing taste.]

vi 4 Here the Redeemer's welcome voice Spreads heav'nly peace around;
cr And life and everlasting joys
Attend the blissful sound.

5 O, may these heav'nly pages be
My ever dear delight:
And still new beauties may I see,
And still increasing light.

6 Divine Instructor! gracious Lord,
Be thou for ever near;
Teach me to love thy sacred word,
And view my Saviour there.

Steele.

5 L. M.—Park-street. Vanhall's.
Excellence of the Scriptures.

vi 1 LET everlasting glories crown
Thy head, my Saviour and my Lord;
For thou hast brought salvation down,
And stor'd its blessings in thy word.

di 2 In vain the trembling conscience seeks
Some solid ground to rest upon;
ag With deep despair the spirit breaks,
Till we apply to Christ alone.

d 3 How well thy blessed truths agree!
How wise and holy thy commands!
Thy promises, how large and free!
Firm on this ground, our comfort stands.

cr 4 Should all the schemes that men devise,
Assault my faith with treacherous art;
I'd count them vanity and lies,
And bind the gospel to my heart.

GOD AND HIS ATTRIBUTES.*

6. L. M.—Luton. Park-street.
There is a God.

ll 1 NATURE, with solemn accent cries,
There is a God that built the skies,
That form'd the earth and spread the flood;
A self-existent, mighty God.

cr 2 Creation's wonders, vast and bright,
Proclaim their Maker infinite;
Her bounties show to every eye,
The goodness of the Deity.

3 But when we view each precious line,
Within the gospel all divine;
Justice and mercy, there we trace,
Eternal truth, transcendent grace.

vi 4 Thanks for the light of nature giv'n,
Thanks for the surer guide to heav'n;
For all the treasures of thy word,
We praise the great creation's Lord.

S. M.—Sicily. Oakland.
Praise to the Creator.

vi 1 ALMIGHTY Maker God,
How wondrous is thy name!
Thy glories, how diffus'd abroad
Through all creation's frame!

2 Nature in every dress,
Her humble homage pays;
And finds a thousand ways t' express,
Her undissembled praise.

3 My soul would rise and sing
Her great Creator too:
I would adore th' Eternal King,
And pay the homage due.

4 Let joy and worship spend
The remnant of my days;
And let my voice to God ascend
In grateful songs of praise.

8.

C. M.—St. Ann's.
Eternity of God.

mæ 1 GREAT God, how infinite art thou!
What worthless worms are we!
Let the whole race of creatures bow
And render praise to thee.

2 Thy throne eternal ages stood,
Ere seas or stars were made;
Thou art the everliving God,
Were all the nations dead.

3 Eternity with all its years
Stands present to thy view;
To thee there's nothing old appears,
Great God, there's nothing new.

4 Our lives through various scenes are drawn,
And vex'd with trifling cares:
But one eternal thought moves on Thy undisturb'd affairs.

5 Great God, how infinite art thou!
What worthless worms are we!
Let the whole race of creatures bow,
And render praise to thee.

9.

C. M.—Colchester. St. Ann's.
Creating wisdom.

vi 1 ETERNAL Wisdom, thee we praise;
Let the creation sing;
While with thy name, rocks, hills, and plains,
And heav'n's high arches ring.

2 How wide thy hand hath spread the sky
How glorious to behold!
Ting'd with a blue of heavenly dye,
And starr'd with sparkling gold.

mæ 3 Thy glories shine the earth around,
And strike the gazing sight:
Let lands and seas thy praise resound,
With rev'rence and delight.

4 Infinite strength and equal skill,
Shine through the worlds abroad:
f Our souls with vast amazement fill,
And speak the builder, God.

d 5 But, still the wonders of thy grace
Our softer passions move;
The heav'n that shines in Jesus' face
We see, adore, and love.

10.

C. M.—Moravian.
The glory of God in creation.

1 THE God of nature and of grace
In all his works appears;
His goodness through the earth we trace,
His grandeur in the spheres.

2 Lift to the arch of heav'n your eye;
Thither his path pursue;
mæ His glory boundless as the sky,
O'erwhelms the wond'ring view.

3 These lower worlds that swell thy praise,
High as our thoughts can tow'r,
Are but a portion of thy ways,
The hiding of thy pow'r.

ag 4 O shouldst thou rend aside the veil,
And show thy dwelling place;
The souls which thou hast made would fail,
'Twere death to see thy face!

5 None can behold that face and live!
d Yet sinners may draw near;
Jesus is ready to forgive,
His love shall cast out fear.

mæ 6 Millions amid his presence stand,
And feel while they adore,
Fulness of joy at God's right hand,
And pleasures evermore.

Praise for creation and Providence.

f'' 1 I SING th' Almighty pow'r of God
That made the mountains rise,
That spread the flowing seas abroad,
And built the lofty skies.

2 I sing the wisdom that ordain'd
The sun to rule by day;
The moon, that shines at his command,
While all the stars obey.

d₁ 3 I sing the goodness of the Lord,
That fill'd the earth with food;
He form'd the creatures by his word,
And then pronounc'd them good.

4 There's not a plant or flow'r below
But makes thy glories known;
cr And clouds arise and tempests blow
By orders from thy throne.

5 Creatures that borrow life from thee,
Are subject to thy care;
There's not a place where we can flee
But God is present there.

6 His hand is my perpetual guard:
He keeps me with his eye:
Why should I then forget the Lord,
Who is for ever nigh.

God's condescension to human affairs.

1 UP to the Lord, who reigns on high,

di 2 He overrules all mortal things,
And manages our mean affairs;
p On humble souls, the King of kings Bestows his counsels and his cares.

aff 3 Our sorrows and our tears we pour Into the bosom of our God;
d He hears us in the mournful hour,
And gives us strength to bear the load.

cr 4 O could our thankful hearts devise
A tribute equal to thy grace;
ff To the third heav'ns our songs should rise
And fill the golden harps with praise.

Goodness of God.

1 YE humble souls approach your God,
With songs of sacred praise;
For he is good, immensely good,
And kind are all his ways.

2 All nature owns his guardian care,
In him we live and move:
But nobler benefits declare
The wonders of his love.

3 He gave his Son, his only Son,
To ransom rebel worms;
'Tis here he makes his goodness known
In its diviner forms.

d 4 To this dear refuge, Lord, we come,
'Tis here our hope relies;
A safe defence, a peaceful home,
When storms of trouble rise.

5 Thine eye beholds with kind regard
The souls that trust in thee;
Their humble hope thou wilt reward,
Wilt bless divinely free.

cr 6 Great God, to thy Almighty love,
What honors shall we raise?
f Not all th' angelic songs above,
Can render equal praise.

The goodness of God.

1 GOD, in the high and holy place,
Looks down upon the spheres;
Yet, in his providence and grace,
To every eye appears.

mæ 2 He bows the heav'ns! the mountains stand
A highway for our God:
He walks amid the desert land;
'Tis Eden where he trod.

ri 3 In every stream his bounty flows,
Diffusing joy and wealth;
In every breeze his spirit blows,
The breath of life and health.

4 His blessings fall in plenteous showers
Upon the lap of earth,
That teems with foliage, fruits and flow'rs,
And rings with infant mirth.

How beautiful, beyond compare,

Thy wounding and thy healing word,
A world undone, a world restor'd:

Lord of men as well as angels,

Lord of every land and nation!
Ancient of eternal days!
Sounded through the wide creation,
Be thy just exalted praise.

2 For the grandeur of thy nature,
Grand beyond a seraph's thought;
For the wonders of creation,
Works with skill and kindness wrought;
For thy Providence that governs,
Through thine empire's wide domain,
Wings an angel, guides a sparrow;
Blessed be thy gentle reign.

3 For thy rich, thy free redemption,
Bright though veil'd in darkness long;—
p Thought is poor, and poor expression,

cr Brightness of the Father's glory,

4 From the highest throne of glory,
To the cross of deepest wo,
Came to ransom guilty captives!—
Flow, my praise, for ever flow:
ff Re-ascend, immortal Saviour,
Leave thy footstool, take thy throne,

King of saints.

vi 1 COME, ye that love the Saviour's name,
And joy to make it known;
The sovereign of your hearts proclaim,
And bow before his throne.

mæ 2 Behold your King, your Saviour, crown'd,
With glories all divine;
And tell the wond'ring nations round,
How bright those glories shine.

3 Infinite pow'r and boundless grace,
In him unite their rays;
You that have e'er beheld his face,
Can you forbear his praise?

di 4 When in his earthly courts we view
The glories of our King,
We long to love as angels do,
And wish like them to sing.

cr 5 And shall we long and wish in vain?
Lord, teach our songs to rise!
Thy love can animate the strain,
And bid it reach the skies.

Rejoice aloud, ye saints, rejoice!

The example of Christ.

d 1 MY dear Redeemer and my Lord,
I read my duty in thy word;
But in thy life, thy law appears
Drawn out in living characters.

2 Such was thy truth, and such thy zeal,
Such def'rence to thy Father's will,
Such love, and meekness so divine,
I would transcribe and make them mine.

aff 3 Cold mountains and the midnight air,
Witness'd the fervor of thy prayer;
The desert thy temptation knew,
Thy conflict and thy vict'ry too.

d 4 Be thou my pattern; make me bear
More of thy gracious image here;
Then God the Judge shall own my name
Among the followers of the Lamb.

And urge us in the toils of strife:
d To Jesus let us lift our eyes,
Bright pattern of the Christian life.

cx 2 O how benevolent and kind!
How mild! how ready to forgive!
!! Be this the temper of our mind,
And these the rules by which we live.

3 To do the heav'nly Father's will
Was his employment and delight;
Humility and holy zeal
Shone through his life divinely bright.

How frail, how prone to turn aside!
Lord, all our help must come from thee;

Christ an example of experimental piety.

aff 1 CHRIST had his sorrows: when he shed
His tears, Jerusalem, for thee!
And when his trembling followers fled,
In his dark hour of agony.
Christ had his sorrows: so must thou.
Who tread'st the path that Jesus trod;
Oh, then, like him submissive bow,
Adore the sovereignty of God.

l 2 Christ had his joys: but they were not
The joys the son of pleasure boasts;
Ah no! 'twas when his spirit sought
Thy will, thy glory, God of hosts!
Christ had his joys: and so hath he Who feels the Spirit in his heart—cr Who yields, O God, his all to thee,
And loves thy name for what thou art.

f l 3 Christ had his foes: the prince of hell
With all his legions sought his death!
See! human hearts with malice swell,
And murder feign affection's breath!
Christ had his foes: and so, if thou
Shalt with him walk and near him live,
The cruel world will hate thee now,
And thou shalt suffer—and forgive!

d 4 Christ had his friends: his eye could trace,
Through the long train of coming years,
The chosen children of his grace,
The full reward of all his tears!
di Christ had his friends: and his are thine,
If thou to him hast bow'd the knee:
cr And where those ransom'd millions shine
Shall thy eternal mansion be.

Was thy indulgent care;

How weak her brightest ray!
How little of my God I knew,
How prone from thee to stray!

No pow'r could guard me from my foes,

What is prayer?

[1 PRAYER is the soul's sincere desire,
Utter'd or unexpress'd;
The motion of a hidden fire
That trembles in the breast.]

2 Prayer is the burden of a sigh,
The falling of a tear;
The upward glancing of an eye,
When none but God is near.

[3 Prayer is the simplest form of speech
That infant lips can try:
Prayer, the sublimest strains that reach
The Majesty on high.]

4 Prayer is the Christian's vital breath,
The Christian's native air:
His watchword at the gates of death;
He enters heav'n with prayer.

5 Prayer is the contrite sinner's voice

Before you farther go;
Will you sport upon the brink

On the verge of ruin stop;—
Now the friendly warning take;
Stay your footsteps, ere you drop

CONVICTION AND CONVERSION.*

L. M.—Derby. Darwen.
What shall the sinner do?

aff 1 WHAT shall the dying sinner do,
That seeks relief from all his wo?
Where shall the guilty conscience find Ease for the torment of the mind?

---

* See CHRIST, HOLY SPIRIT, GOSPEL, DOCTRINAL, EXPERIMENTAL, &c. A few of the hymns under this head, expressing the feelings of a convicted sinner, may occasionally be sung, perhaps, by the Christian, as recollections of his own former state, with prayer for the conversion of others.

2 How shall he get his sins forgiv'n,
Or form his nature fit for heav'n?
Can souls impure, defil'd with sin,
Make their own thoughts and passions clean?

3 In vain they search, in vain they try,
Till Jesus brings his gospel nigh:
cr 'Tis there, that pow'r and glory dwell,
Which saves rebellious souls from hell.

4 This is the pillar of our hope,
That bears our fainting spirits up:
vi We read the grace, we trust the word,
And find salvation in the Lord.

"What shall I do?"

ag 1 MY former hopes are fled,

My guilty soul, alas, is dead
In trespasses and sins:

2 Ah, whither shall I fly,
Or seek for mercy's door?
The law proclaims destruction nigh,
And justice arm'd with pow'r.

3 When I review my ways,
I dread th' impending doom,
While yet some friendly whisper says,
"Flee from the wrath to come!"

aff 4 O that I now might see,
Some glimm'ring from afar,
Some beam of hope to dawn on me,
And save me from despair.

Conviction of sin.

Ah, whither wilt thou go?
All within is desolate,
And all without is wo:
If to heav'n thou turn thine eye,
There a frowning Judge appears;
How can he regard thy cry,
Or quell thy rising fears?

2 Oft hast thou the Spirit griev'd,
So kindly sent to thee,
And that message disbeliev'd
That would have set thee free:
All the blessings God hath giv'n,
All the warnings he hath sent,
Have not led thy soul to heav'n,
Or caus'd thee to repent.

ag 3 Guilty soul, what wilt thou do?
Polluted still thou art;
God is faithful, just, and true,
But thou art vile in heart:

Conviction of sin.

aff 1 WHY sinks my soul, desponding?
Why fill my eyes with tears?
While nature all-surrounding,
The smile of beauty wears:
Why burden'd still with sorrow
Is ev'ry lab'ring thought?
Each vision that I borrow
With gloom and sadness fraught?

2 The pleasures that deceiv'd me,
My soul no more can charm;
Of rest they have bereav'd me,
And fill'd me with alarm;
The objects I have cherish'd
Are empty as the wind;
My earthly joys are perish'd,
What comfort shall I find?

3 If inward still inquiring
I turn my searching eye,
Or upward now aspiring,
I raise my feeble cry,
No heav'nly light is beaming
To cheer my troubled breast,
No ray of comfort gleaming
To give my spirit rest.

cr 4 Oh, from this dreadful anguish
Is there no refuge nigh? di 'Tis guilt that makes me languish,
And leaves me thus to die:
cr I will renounce my folly
Before the throne of grace,

My strength and righteousness.

Joy in God.

vi. f

1 REJOICE in the Lord,
Believe in his word,
Confide in his mercy and grace;
His throne shall endure,
His promise is sure,
In him shall the righteous have peace.

2 Thrice happy are they,
Who his precepts obey,
Who delight in the law of their God;
Their joys shall increase,
And their trials shall cease,
As they enter the heav'nly abode.

3 What scenes will arise,
As they pass through the skies,
What raptures their bosoms will fill,
As their harps they employ,
In the fulness of joy,
On the height of some heavenly hill!

4 Rejoice in the Lord,
Believe in his word,
Confide in his mercy and grace;

The important inquiry.

" 1 'TIS a point I long to know;
Oft it causes anxious thought:
Do I love the Lord or no?
Am I his, or am I not?
Could my heart so hard remain,
Prayer a task and burden prove,
Every trifle give me pain,
If I knew a Saviour's love?

2 When I turn my eyes within,
All is dark, and vain, and wild:
Fill'd with unbelief and sin,
Can I deem myself a child?
If I pray, or hear, or read,
Sin is found with all I do:
Ye that love the Lord indeed,
Tell me, is it thus with you?

cr 3 Yet I mourn my stubborn will,
View my sin with grief and shame:
Should I grieve for what I feel,
If I did not love his name?
Could I joy his saints to meet,
Choose the ways I once abhorr'd,
Find at times the promise sweet
If I did not love the Lord?

aff 4 Oh! decide the doubtful case!
Thou who art thy people's Sun,
Shine upon thy work of grace,
If that work be yet begun:
Let me love thee more and more,
Grant me, Lord, thy heav'nly ray:
Light and comfort now restore,
Lead me to eternal day.

aff 1 OH that I knew the secret place
Where I might find my God!
I'd spread my wants before his face,
And pour my woes abroad.

2 I'd tell him how my sins arise,
What sorrows I sustain;
How grace decays, how comfort dies,
And leaves my heart in pain.

3 He knows what arguments I'd take
To wrestle with my God;
I'd plead for his own mercy's sake,
And for my Saviour's blood.

4 My God will pity my complaints,
And heal my broken bones:
He takes the meaning of his saints,
The language of their groans.

5 Arise, my soul, from deep distress,
And banish every fear:
He calls thee to his throne of grace,
To spread thy sorrows there.

aff 1 WRETCHED, helpless, and distress'd,
Ah whither shall I fly?
Ever panting after rest,
Where shall I turn mine eye?
Naked, sick, and poor, and blind,
Bound in sin and misery:
Friend of sinners, let me find
My help, my all in thee.

2 Jesus, full of truth and grace,
Oh hear my sad complaint;
Be the wanderer's resting place,
A cordial for the faint:
Make me rich, for I am poor;
Let me now thy presence find;
To the dying, health restore,
And eyesight to the blind.

3 Fill my soul with heav'nly grace,
With pure humility:
Clothe me with thy righteousness:
Endue my heart with thee:
Let thine image be restor'd;
Let me thy forgiveness prove;
Fill me with thy fulness, Lord,
For boundless is thy love.

Hung on the cursed tree,

To him who rules the skies.

2 Night unto night, his name repeats,
The day renews the sound,
Wide as the heav'ns on which he sits,
To turn the seasons round.

3 'Tis he supports my mortal frame,
My tongue shall speak his praise;
ag My sins might rouse his wrath to flame;
di And yet his wrath delays.

4 A thousand wretched souls have fled
Since the last setting sun:
And yet he lengthens out my thread,
And yet my moments run.

cr 5 Great God, let all my hours be thine
While I enjoy the light;
Then shall my sun in smiles decline,
—p And bring a peaceful night.

A morning hymn. Ps. xix. 5, 8, and lxxiii. 24, 25.

vi 1 GOD of the morning, at whose voice,
The cheerful sun makes haste to rise,
Now bid my waking pow'rs rejoice,
And lift my thoughts above the skies.

2 From the fair chambers of the east,
The circuit of his race begins;
He never tires, nor stops to rest:
Round the whole earth he flies and shines.

cr 3 O like the sun may I fulfil
Th' appointed duties of the day;
With ready mind and active will,
March on and keep my heav'nly way.

m 4 But I shall rove and lose the race
If God, my sun, but disappear, di And leave me in this world's wild maze
To follow every wand'ring star.

d 5 Lord, thy commands are right and pure,
Enlight'ning our beclouded eyes;
Thy promises are ever sure;
Thy gospel makes the simple wise.

cr 6 Give me thy counsels for my guide
To mansions of eternal bliss
All my desires and hopes beside,
Are faint and cold compar'd with this.

ff 1 UPHELD by God's Almighty arm,
I pass'd the shades of night,
Serene and safe from every harm,
And see returning light.

di 2 While many spent the night in sighs,
And restless pains and woes;
p In gentle sleep I clos'd my eyes:
How soft was my repose!

cr 3 O let the same Almighty care
My waking hours attend:
From every danger, every snare,
My heedless steps defend.

d 4 Smile on my minutes as they roll,
And guide my future days;
And let thy goodness fill my soul
With gratitude and praise.

The Sabbath evening.

1 ANOTHER day has past along,
And we are nearer to the tomb:
Nearer to join the heav'nly song,
Or hear the last eternal doom.

d 2 Sweet is the light of Sabbath eve,
And soft the sunbeams ling'ring there
For these blest hours, the world I leave,
Wafted on wings of faith and prayer.

3 The time how lovely and how still!
Peace shines and smiles on all below;
The plain, the stream, the wood, the hill,
All fair with evening's setting glow.

4 Season of rest! the tranquil soul
Feels the sweet calm, and melts to love;
And while these sacred moments roll,
Faith sees a smiling heav'n above.

5 Nor will our days of toil be long,
Our pilgrimage will soon be trod;
And we shall join the ceaseless song,
The endless Sabbath of our God.

But there's a nobler rest above;
To that our longing souls aspire,
With cheerful hope, and strong desire.

2 No more fatigue, no more distress,
Nor sin, nor death, shall reach the place;
No groans shall mingle with the songs
That warble from immortal tongues.

3 No rude alarms of raging foes,
No cares to break the long repose,
No midnight shade, no clouded sun,
But sacred, high, eternal noon

4 Around thy throne we long to meet;
O grant us but the lowest seat;
cr We'll shout thy praise, and join the song
Of the triumphant, holy throng.

[5 Oh! long expected day begin!

Know the Lord. 1 Chron. xxviii. 9.

1 MY son, know thou the Lord,
Thy father's God obey;
l l Seek his protecting care by night,
His guardian hand by day.

2 Call while he may be found,
And seek him while he's near;
Serve him with all thy heart and mind,
And worship him with fear.

p 3 If thou wilt seek his face,
cr He'll listen to thy cry;
Then shalt thou find his mercy sure
His grace for ever nigh.

ag 4 But if thou leave thy God,
Nor choose the path to heav'n,
Then shalt thou perish in thy sins,
Nor ever be forgiv'n.

d 1 YE hearts with youthful vigor warm,
In smiling crowds draw near,
And turn from every mortal charm,
A Saviour's voice to hear.

2 He, Lord of all the worlds on high,
Stoops to converse with you;
And lays his radiant glories by,
Your friendship to pursue.

3 The soul that longs to see his face,
Is sure his love to gain;
And those that early seek his grace,
Shall never seek in vain.

4 What object, Lord, my soul should move
If once compar'd with thee!
What beauty should command my love,
Like what in Christ I see.

The object of thy care:
Help me to choose the way of truth,

Renew by pow'r divine:
Unite it to thyself alone,
And make it wholly thine.

My warmest thoughts employ;
Be this through all my following days,
My treasure and my joy.

5 To what thy laws impart,
Be my whole soul inclin'd;
O let them dwell within my heart,
And sanctify my mind.

Praise from infant lips. Ps. viii. 2.

d 1 OUT of the mouth of infancy,
O Lord, perfect thy praise:
And let each heart, inspir'd by thee,
Its early incense raise.

ri 2 Then shall the church arise and sing,
When infant lips reveal
The love of Christ our gracious King,
And at his footstool kneel.

d 3 When they with gentle accent speak
Of thy atoning blood,
ag The flinty hearts of men will break,
Their souls be drawn to God.

di 4 When glad hosannas shall ascend
From children's feeble voice,
No enemies shall dare offend,
Or interrupt the joys.

r 5 When shall the heav'nly song arise,

I set my worthless name;
I seal th' engagement to my Lord,
And make my humble claim.

3 I call that legacy my own,
Which Jesus did bequeath;

n 1 BEGIN, my tongue, some heav'nly theme,
And speak some boundless thing:
The mighty works, or mightier name,
Of our eternal King.

2 Tell of his wondrous faithfulness,
And sound his pow'r abroad;
Sing of the glory and the grace
Of our Redeemer God.

3 Proclaim, "Salvation from the Lord,
For wretched, dying men;"
His hand has writ the sacred word
With an immortal pen.

4 Engrav'd as in eternal brass,
Each promise ever shines,
Nor can the powers of darkness raze
Those everlasting lines.

As that which built the skies:
The voice that rolls the stars along
Speaks all the promises.

Drew forth its dreadful sword;
For us his precious blood was spilt,
Without a murmuring word.

aff 3 He sunk beneath our heavy woes
To raise us to his throne:

"I freely all forgive;

What bliss till now was thine!
Yet, though despised and gory,
I joy to call thee mine.

2 How art thou pale with anguish,
With sore abuse and scorn!
How does that visage languish,
Which once was bright as morn!
Thy grief, and thy compassion,

Mine, mine was the transgression,
But thine the deadly pain.

vi 3 What language shall I borrow,

For this, thy dying sorrow,

vi ff 1 O JESUS, our King,
These off'rings we bring,
And prostrate ourselves at thy throne
We come in thy name,
No merit we claim,
We bring thee but what is thy own.

2 Thine, Lord, is the whole;
The body, the soul,
All, all that we have or desire;
Our time and our health,
Our influ'nce, our wealth,
Our affections that upward aspire.

3 Yet wilt thou approve
Such off'rings of love;
And when stewards thy treasures restore,
They find their reward
In the joy of their Lord;

Accept from our hands
What thy glory demands,
And thy praises aloud we will sing.

Life, health, and strength, thy hands bestow;

1 GREAT Ruler of the earth and skies!
A word of thy almighty breath,
Can sink the world or bid it rise;
Thy smile is life, thy frown is death.

And rage, and noise, and tumult reign,
And battle sounds its dire alarms,

Marks out their course and bounds their pow'r;
Thy word the angry nations own,
And noise and war are heard no more.

The moment after death,
The glories that surround a saint
When yielding up his breath.

p 2 One gentle sigh the bondage breaks;
We scarce can say, he's gone, cr Before the willing spirit takes
Its mansion near the throne.

3 Faith strives, but all its efforts fail,
To trace the spirit's flight;
No eye can pierce within the veil
Which hides the world of light.

4 Thus much, and 'tis enough to know,
d Saints are completely blest;
Have done with sin, and care, and wo,
And with their Saviour rest.

5 On harps of gold they praise his name,
And see him face to face;
Oh let us catch the heav'nly flame,
And live in his embrace!

And possess in sweet communion
Joys which earth cannot afford

L. M.

To God the Father, God the Son,
And God the Spirit, three in One,
Be honor, praise, and glory giv'n,
By all on earth, and all in heav'n.

C. M.—No. I.

Let God the Father and the Son,
And Spirit be ador'd,
Where there are works to make him known,
Or saints to love the Lord.

C. M.—No. II.

To Father, Son, and Holy Ghost,
The God whom we adore,
Be glory as it was, is now,
And shall be evermore.

S. M.

Ye angels round the throne,
And saints that dwell below,
Worship the Father, praise the Son,
And bless the Spirit too.

H. M.

To God the Father's throne,
Perpetual honors raise;
Glory to God the Son;
To God the Spirit praise.
With all our pow'rs,
Eternal King,
Thy name we sing,
While faith adores.

7's.

Sing we to our God above,
Praise eternal as his love:
Praise him, all ye heavenly host,
Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

Adore and tremble, for our God 375
Again the day returns of holy rest 459
Again the Lord of life and light 458
Ah, how shall fallen man 325
Ah, who hath keenest sorrow 539
Ah, why should doubts and fears arise 343
Ah, wretched, vile, ungrateful heart 416
Alas, and did my Saviour bleed 397
Alas, what hourly dangers rise 413
All hail the power of Jesus' name 307
All ye nations praise the Lord 188
All ye that love the Lord rejoice 247
Almighty Father, gracious Lord 356
Almighty Maker God 252
Almighty Ruler of the skies 20
Almighty Sovereign of the skies 542
Along the banks where Babel's current flows 227
Amazing grace! how sweet the sound 404
Am I a soldier of the cross 440
Amid thy wrath remember love 73
Among th' assemblies of the great 135
Among the princes, earthly gods 141
And are we wretches yet alive 427
And can my heart aspire so high 561
And must this body die 585
And will the Lord thus condescend 390
Angels roll the rock away 284
Another day has pass'd along 465
Another week of toil is done 459
Are all the foes of Zion fools 102
Are sinners now so hardened grown 28
Arise, my gracious God 33
Arise, my tend'rest thoughts, arise 369
Arise, O King of grace, arise 217
Arm of the Lord, awake, awake 516
Around the Saviour's lofty throne 270
And will the God of grace 135
Ascend thy throne, Almighty King 514
As pants the hart for cooling streams 80
As round about Jerusalem 208
Astonish'd and distress'd 393
At anchor laid, remote from home 313
At God's command the morning ray 114
Attend, O Lord, while hosts of foes 133
At thy command, O gracious Lord 496
Awak'd by Sinai's awful sound 329
Awake, awake the sacred song 266
Awake, my soul, stretch every nerve 441

Go to dark Gethsemane 295
Go tune thy voice to sacred song 354
Go watch and pray, thou canst not tell 382
Go worship at Immanuel's feet 288
Grace, like an uncorrupted seed 345
Grace, 'tis a charming sound 334
Gracious Spirit, love divine 313
Grant me within thy courts a place 55
Grant us wisdom, gracious Lord 476
Great Author of creation 317
Great Father of our feeble race 309
Great God, attend while Zion sings 137
Great God, I own thy sentence just 571
Great God, how infinite art thou 252
Great God, how oft did Israel prove 132
Great God, indulge my humble claim 111
Great God, my Maker and my King 256
Great God, now condescend 477
Great God, to thee my evening song 451
Great God, we sing that mighty hand 551
Great God, whose universal sway 124
Great is the Lord, his works of might 180
Great is the Lord our God 90
Great King of glory and of grace 324
Great Ruler of the earth and skies 543
Great Shepherd of thine Israel 133
Great was the day, the joy was great 372
Guide me, O thou great Jehovah 442

Had I the tongues of Greeks and Jews 363
Had not the Lord, may Israel say 207
Hail thou once despised Jesus 276
Hail to the brightness of Zion's glad morning 527
Hail to the Lord's anointed 126
Happy is he that fears the Lord 182
Happy soul, thy days are ending 577
Happy the church, the sacred place 473
Happy the heart where graces reign 362
Happy the man to whom his God 62
Happy the man whose cautious feet 10
Happy the man whose heart expands 479
Hark, from the tombs a doleful sound 581
Hark, that shout of rapt'rous joy 586
Hark, the glad sound, the Saviour comes 264
Hark, the herald angels sing 263
Hark, the song of jubilee 527
Hark, the voice of love and mercy 275
Hark, what mean those holy voices 263
Hasten, Lord, the glorious time 125
Hasten, Lord, to my release 120
Haste, O sinner, to be wise 374
Hear, gracious God, my humble moan 434
Hearken, Lord, to my complaints 81
Hear me, O God, nor hide thy face 165
Hear me, O Lord, in my distress 236
Hear my prayer, Jehovah, hear 167
Hearts of stone, relent, relent 506
Hear what the Lord from heaven proclaims 580
He dies, the Friend of sinners dies 266
He lives, the great Redeemer lives 265

Help, Lord, for men of virtue fail 25
Heralds of creation cry 246
Here at thy cross, incarnate God 507
He reigns, the Lord, the Saviour reigns 159
Here in thy name, eternal God 475
He sought, and from a Father's hand 398
He that goeth forth with weeping 367
He that hath made his refuge God 150
High in the heavens, eternal God 70
High on a throne of light, O Lord 537
Hosannas were by children sung 490
Hosanna to the Prince of light 283
Hosanna to th' Eternal Son 308
Hosanna with a cheerful sound 447
How are thy servants bless'd, O Lord 176
How beautiful the sight 220
How beautiful those rays appear 540
How beauteous are their feet 467
How calm and beautiful the morn 281
How can I bear a Father's frown 429
How can we see the children, Lord 478
How charming is the place 463
How condescending and how kind 504
How did my heart rejoice to hear 204
How fast their guilt and sorrow rise 31
How firm a foundation, ye saints of the Lord 350
How frail are these bodies of clay 565
How great thy mercies, Lord 495
How heavy is the night 272
How helpless guilty nature lies 328
How honorable is the place 472
How large the promise, how divine 494
How long, O Lord, shall I complain 26
How long shall Jacob's offspring prove 518
How long shall virtue languish 539
How long wilt thou conceal thy face 27
How long, ye sons of men, will ye 15
How lovely and how fair 139
How oft, alas, my wretched heart 424
How oft have sin and Satan striv'n 349
How pleasant, how divinely fair 136
How pleasant 'tis to see 219
How pleas'd and bless'd was I 205
How precious is the book divine 249
How sad our state by nature is 321
How shall the young secure their hearts 193
How should the sons of Adam boast 262
How sweet and awful is the place 511
How sweet and heav'nly is the sight 363
How sweet is the Sabbath to me 489
How sweet the melting lay 453
How sweet the name of Jesus sounds 299
How sweet to leave the world awhile 463
How tedious and tasteless the hours 410
How tender is thy hand 564
How vain are all things here below 326
How will my heart endure 586
How wondrous that manner of love 347

I ask'd the Lord that I might grow 555
If God succeed not, all the cost 210
If God to build the house deny 211
I hate the tempter and his charms 327
I lift my banner, saith the Lord 522

I lift my soul to God 51
I'll bless the Lord from day to day 68
I'll praise my Maker with my breath 240
I'll speak the honors of my King 84
I look to thee, O Lord, alone 396
I love the Lord, he heard my cries 185
I love the Lord, whose gracious ear 186
I love the volume of thy word 40
I love thy kingdom, Lord 225
I love to steal awhile away 444
I'm not asham'd to own my Lord 439
In all my vast concerns with thee 231
In anger, Lord, rebuke me not 17
In God's own house pronounce his praise 247
In God's own workmanship display'd 232
In Judah, God of old was known 130
In mercy, not in wrath, rebuke 18
Inquire, ye pilgrims, for the way 384
In songs of sublime adoration and praise 341
In sweet exalted strains 472
In thee, great God, with songs of praise 43
In this calm impressive hour 446
In time of tribulation 131
Into thy hand, O God of truth 60
In vain the fancy strives to paint 579
In Zion's sacred gates 247
I saw, beyond the tomb 589
I saw One hanging on a tree 505
I send the joys of earth away 421
I set the Lord before my face 32
I sing th' almighty pow'r of God 254
Is there ambition in my heart 215
Is this the kind return 417
It is the Lord our Saviour's hand 167
I waited patient for the Lord 77
I was a traitor doom'd to die 510
I will extol thee, Lord on high 59
I would not live always; I ask not to stay 591

Jehovah reigns, he dwells in light 154
Jehovah reigns, his throne is high 253
Jehovah reigns! your tribute bring 24
Jerusalem, Jerusalem 518
Jerusalem, my happy home 595
Jesus, and can it ever be 439
Jesus, I my cross have taken 401
Jesus, incarnate Son of God 595
Jesus invites his saints 496
Jesus is gone above the skies 499
Jesus, Lord, we look to thee 364
Jesus, lover of my soul 298
Jesus, my Saviour, and my God 400
Jesus, our Lord, ascend thy throne 179
Jesus, save my dying soul 399
Jesus shall reign where'er the sun 125
Jesus, the vision of thy face 580
Jesus, thou everlasting King 511
Jesus, thou Prince and Saviour 287
Jesus, thy witness speaks within 315

Nature with open volume stands..... 500
Nature with solemn accent cries..... 251
No, I will envy those no more..... 511
No more, my God, I boast no more..... 332
Nor eye hath seen, nor ear hath heard..... 590
Not all the blood of beasts..... 273
Not all the outward forms on earth..... 323
Not to condemn the sons of men..... 330
Not to our names, thou only just and true..... 184
Not to ourselves, who are but dust..... 184
Not to the terrors of the Lord..... 330
Not with our mortal eyes..... 501
Now before thy throne we bend..... 206
Now begin the heav'nly theme..... 303
Now be my heart inspir'd to sing..... 85
Now be the gospel banner..... 535
Now by the love of Christ my God..... 365
Now condescend, almighty King..... 489
Now for a tune of lofty praise..... 303
Now from labor and from care..... 450
Now, gracious Lord, thine arm reveal..... 552
Now in my early days..... 484
Now in the heat of youthful blood..... 377
Now in the hour of deep distress..... 44
Now I resolve with all my heart..... 401
Now is th' accepted time..... 381
Now let my soul, eternal King..... 320
Now let our drooping hearts revive..... 471
Now let our mournful songs record..... 44
Now let our voices join..... 598
Now let the Lord my Saviour smile..... 559
Now let the soul on wings sublime..... 438
Now may the God of pow'r and grace..... 41
Now may the Spirit's holy fire..... 311
Now plead my cause, Almighty God..... 69
Now shall my solemn vows be paid..... 116

Now to the Lord a nobler song 309
Now to the Lord, that makes us know 291
Now to the pow'r of God supreme 335
Now ye that boast of earthly pow'r 12

O all ye nations, praise the Lord 187
O blessed souls are they 62
O city of the Lord, begin 528
O come let us sing to the Lord 158
O'er the gloomy hills of darkness 517
Of all the joys we mortals know 512
O for an overcoming faith 574
O for a shout of sacred joy 89
O God, my refuge, hear my cries 103
O God of Abra'm, hear 481
O God of grace and righteousness 14
O God of mercy, hear my call 101
O God of our salvation 87
O God of sovereign grace 517
O God, our help in ages past 148
O great is Jehovah, and great be his praise 91
O happy day that fix'd my choice 491
O happy man, whose soul is fill'd 212
O happy saints, that dwell in light 595
Oh bless the Lord, my soul 169
Oh could I speak the matchless worth 304
Oh could our thoughts and wishes fly 438
Oh for a closer walk with God 433
Oh for a glance of heav'nly day 418
Oh for a thousand tongues to sing 300
Oh for that tenderness of heart 425
Oh how can praise my tongue employ 411
Oh how I love thy holy law 194
Oh let my trembling soul be still 558
Oh, my soul, what means this sadness 430
Oh render thanks to God above 172
Oh speak that gracious word again 433
Oh that I could for ever dwell 457
Oh that I knew the secret place 425
Oh that my soul were tun'd to wo 427
Oh that the Lord would guide my ways 197
Oh that thy statutes every hour 199
Oh the delights, the heavenly joys 306
Oh where shall rest be found 594
O injur'd majesty of heav'n 399
O Jesus, delight of my soul 487
O Jesus divine 426
O Jesus, my Lord and my God 565
O Jesus, our King 541
O Lord, another day is flown 449
O Lord, behold us at thy feet 478
O Lord, encouraged by thy grace 493
O Lord, how many are my foes 14
O Lord, in sorrow I resign 560
O Lord, I would delight in thee 558
O Lord, my best desires fulfil 561
O Lord, my King, how excellent 20
O Lord our God, arise 523
O Lord, our Lord, how wondrous great 19
O Lord, our Lord, in pow'r divine 21
O Lord, the God of heav'n and earth 233
O Lord, thy work revive 368
Once I thought my mountain strong 410
Once more, my soul, the rising day 445

Once on the raging seas I rode..... 404
On Jordan's rugged banks I stand..... 592
On thee each morning, O my God..... 443
On the mountain's top appearing..... 528
On thy church, O Pow'r divine..... 118
O sacred Head, once wounded..... 509
O Shepherd of Israel divine..... 428
O Shepherd of thy people, hear..... 474
O thou before whose gracious throne..... 471
O thou that hearest prayer..... 309
O thou that hear'st when sinners cry..... 100
O thou whose grace and justice reign..... 206
O thou whose hand the kingdom sways..... 121
O thou whose justice reigns on high..... 105
O thou whose tender mercy hears..... 431
O thou in whose presence..... 569
Our God, how firm his promise stands..... 352
Our little bark on boisterous seas..... 548
Our Lord is risen from the dead..... 50
Our rulers, Lord, with songs of praise..... 43
Our soaring spirits fain would rise..... 316
Our souls by love together drawn..... 373
Out of the deeps of long distress..... 213
Out of the depths of wo..... 214
Out of the mouth of infancy..... 486
O what is earthly pleasure..... 77
O, ye mourners, cease to languish..... 579
O Zion, tune thy voice..... 373

Parting soul, the floods await thee..... 576
People of the living God..... 402
Plung'd in a gulf of dark despair..... 331
Praise the Lord, his pow'r confess..... 248
Praise the Lord, ye heavens adore him..... 246
Praise to God, the great Creator..... 360
Praise to the Lord on high..... 299
Praise waits in Zion, Lord, for thee..... 114
Praise ye the Lord, exalt his name..... 221
Praise ye the Lord, my heart shall join..... 240
Praise ye the Lord, 'tis good to raise..... 241
Prayer is the soul's sincere desire..... 367
Preserve me, Lord, in time of need..... 30
Prostrate, O Jesus, at thy feet..... 396

Quench not the Spirit of the Lord..... 383
Quiet, Lord, my froward heart..... 554

Raise your triumphant songs..... 278
Rejoice in the Lord..... 407
Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous, rejoice..... 66
Rejoice, the Lord is King..... 292
Rejoice, ye righteous, in the Lord..... 64
Remember, Lord, our mortal state..... 145
Repent, the voice celestial cries..... 378
Return, my roving heart, return..... 409

Rise, my soul, and stretch thy wings..... 442
Rock of Ages, cleft for me..... 296
Roll on, thou mighty ocean..... 532

Safely through another week..... 457

Saints, at your heav'nly Father's word 562
Salvation is for ever nigh 140
Salvation, O the joyful sound 334
Save me from evil men 112
Save me, Lord, in this distress 82
Saviour, hear us through thy merit 452
Saviour, visit thy plantation 366
Say, sinner, hath a voice within 383
Search my heart, my actions prove 54
See, gracious God, before thy throne 544
See Israel's gentle Shepherd stand 494
See what a living stone 190
Shall Atheists dare insult the cross 336
Shall man, O God of life and light 143
Shall the vile race of flesh and blood 336
Shall we go on to sin 505
Shall Wisdom cry aloud 389
Shepherds, hail the wondrous Stranger 266
Shine, mighty God, on Zion shine 117
Shout, for the great Redeemer reigns 524
Show pity, Lord, O Lord forgive 98
Since all the changing scenes of time 339
Since Jesus freely did appear 546
Sing, all ye nations, to the Lord 116
Sing to the Lord aloud 134
Sing to the Lord Jehovah's name 156
Sing to the Lord, ye distant lands 158
Sing to the Lord, ye heav'nly host 583
Sing, ye redeemed of the Lord 405
Sin has a thousand treach'rous arts 324
Sinner, art thou still secure 376
Sinners, the voice of God regard 385
Sinner, stop, O stop and think 375
Sinners, turn, why will ye die 378
Sinners, will you scorn the message 385
Soft and holy is the place 461
Soft echoes from the bending sky 596
So let our lips and lives express 362
Songs of immortal praise belong 180
Soon as I heard my Father say 55
Soon as the morning rays appear 17
Sovereign of worlds, display thy pow'r 514
Sovereign Ruler, Lord of all 394
Sovereign Ruler of the skies 338
Spirit of peace, celestial Dove 218
Stand up and bless the Lord 359
Stand up, my soul, shake off thy fears 414
Stand up, O ye heralds, your mission proclaim 531
Stoop down, my thoughts, that used to rise 570
Strait is the way, the door is strait 350
Stretch'd on the bed of grief 144
Stretch'd on the cross, the Saviour dies 274
Sure the blest Comforter is nigh 314
Sure there's a righteous God 128
Sweet is the mem'ry of thy grace 239
Sweet is the scene where Christians die 577
Sweet is the work, my God, my King 152
Sweet is the work, O Lord 153
Sweet the moments, rich in blessing 504
Sweet was the time when first I felt 423
Swell the anthem, raise the song 543

Teach me the measure of my days 75
Th' Almighty reigns, exalted high 160

That awful day will surely come..... 589
That man is blest who stands in awe..... 181
That warning voice, O sinner, hear..... 376
The billows swell, the winds are high..... 547
The deep defilement of the heart..... 326
The earth for ever is the Lord's..... 48
Thee we adore, eternal Name..... 550
Thee will I love, O Lord, my strength..... 34
The God of glory sends his summons forth..... 96
The God of love will sure indulge..... 567
The God of nature and of grace..... 253
The heav'ns declare thy glory, Lord..... 38
The hour of my departure's come..... 575
The house of God I love..... 488
The King of saints, how fair his face..... 86
The lands that long in darkness lay..... 267
The law by Moses came..... 322
The Lord appears my helper now..... 188
The Lord Jehovah reigns, And royal..... 154
The Lord Jehovah reigns, Let all..... 162
The Lord Jehovah reigns, His throne..... 259
The Lord my pasture shall prepare..... 47
The Lord my Shepherd is..... 46
The Lord of glory is my light..... 54
The Lord of glory reigns, he reigns..... 155
The Lord is come, the heavens proclaim..... 160
The Lord is gracious to forgive..... 237
The Lord is in his holy place..... 25
The Lord is my Shepherd, no want shall I know..... 47
The Lord is ris'n indeed..... 280
The Lord descending from above..... 320
The Lord, how wondrous are his ways..... 163
The Lord on high proclaims..... 332
The Lord, the Judge, before his throne..... 93
The Lord, the Judge, his churches warns..... 95
The Lord, the Saviour; yes, 'tis he..... 499
The Lord, the sovereign King..... 170
The Lord unto thy prayer attend..... 42
The man is ever blest..... 10
The mind was form'd to mount sublime..... 421
The praise of Zion waits for thee..... 113
The promise is fulfill'd..... 281
The promise of my Father's love..... 503
There is a fountain fill'd with blood..... 501
There is a glorious world of light..... 486
There is a house not made with hands..... 581
There is an hour of peaceful rest..... 596
There is a land of pure delight..... 590
There is a river pure and bright..... 88
The righteous Lord, supremely great..... 259
The rosy light is dawning..... 458
The Saviour bids us watch and pray..... 414
The Saviour calls, let every ear..... 386
The Saviour, O what endless charms..... 513
The spacious earth is all the Lord's..... 49
The spacious firmament on high..... 39
The tempter to my soul hath said..... 14
The wonders, Lord, thy love hath wrought..... 78
These glorious minds, how bright they shine..... 597
They came to the forbidden tree..... 322
They have gone to the land where the patriarchs rest..... 520
They that toil upon the deep..... 177
Thine earthly Sabbath, Lord, we love..... 466
Think, mighty God, on feeble man..... 147

This God is the God we adore 465
This is the day the Lord hath made 189
This is the word of truth and love 318
This place is holy ground 578
Thou art gone to the grave 584
Thou art my portion, O my God 192
Though the watch their guard are keeping 211
Though wicked men grow rich or great 71
Thou God of love, thou ever blest 201
Thou lovely source of true delight 436
Thou only Sovereign of my heart 296
Thrice happy he who shuns the way 10
Thrice happy man, who fears the Lord 181
Through all the changing scenes of life 68
Through endless years thou ar' the same 166
Through every age, eternal God 147
Thus far the Lord hath led me on 449
Thus God, the eternal Father, spake 179
Thus I resolv'd before the Lord 74
Thus saith the Lord, the spacious fields 94
Thus saith the Lord, your work is vain 78
Thus saith the mercy of the Lord 495
Thy gracious presence, O my God 553
Thy glory, Lord, the heav'ns declare 40
Thy law is perfect, Lord of light 40
Thy life I read, my gracious Lord 493
Thy mercies fill the earth, O Lord 196
Thy name, Almighty Lord 187
Thy people, Lord, who trust thy word 515
Thy presence, gracious Lord, afford 464
Thy way, O God, is in the sea 338
Thy works of glory, mighty Lord 176
Time is winging us away 550
'Tis a point I long to know 408
'Tis by the faith of joys to come 365
'Tis by thy strength the mountains stand 115
'Tis finish'd! so the Saviour cried 275
'Tis midnight, and on Olive's brow 272
To bless the Lord our God in strains divine 36
To bless thy chosen race 117
To God address the joyful psalm 162
To God I cried with mournful voice 130
To God, in whom I trust 53
To God I'll make my sorrows known 234
To God, the great, the ever blest 175
To God, the only wise 358
To heav'n I lift my waking eyes 203
To Jesus, the crown of my hope 593
To-morrow, Lord, is thine 381
To our Almighty Maker, God 161
To praise the ever bounteous Lord 549
To thee, before the dawning light 192
To thee, most high and holy God 129
To thee, my God and Saviour 302
To thee, my King, my God of grace 57
To thee, O Lord, I raise my cries 57
To thee, when call'd awhile to part 456
To thy pastures, fair and large 48
To whom, my Saviour, shall I go 432
'Twas by an order from the Lord 249
'Twas from thy hand, my God, I came 230
'Twas in the watches of the night 110
'Twas on that dark and doleful night 498

Unshaken as the sacred hills..... 207
Unveil thy bosom, faithful tomb..... 583
Up from my youth may Israel say..... 212
Upheld by God's almighty arm..... 446
Up to the Lord, who reigns on high..... 255
Up to the hills I lift mine eyes..... 205
Upward I lift mine eyes..... 203

Vain are the hopes the sons of men..... 343

Wait, my soul, upon the Lord..... 351
Wait, O my soul, thy Maker's will..... 339
Watchman, tell us of the night..... 534
Watchmen, onward to your stations..... 533
Weary of wand'ring from my God..... 428
We bless the Prophet of the Lord..... 291
We covenant with heart and hand..... 493
Weep not for the saint that ascends..... 535
We hear the joyful sound..... 465
Welcome, sweet day of rest..... 460
We lift our hearts to thee..... 413
We love the Lord, and we adore..... 35
We sing the glories of thy power..... 521
What equal honors shall we bring..... 304
What is life? 'tis but a vapor..... 593
What scenes of horror and of dread..... 572
What shall I render to my God..... 186
What shall the dying sinner do..... 390
When Abra'm, full of sacred awe..... 545
When all thy mercies, O my God..... 357
When blooming youth is snatch'd away..... 582
Whence do our mournful thoughts arise..... 352
When Christ to judgment shall descend..... 94
When gath'ring clouds around I view..... 286
When gloomy doubts and fears arise..... 554
When God from sin's captivity..... 209
When God in wrath shall come..... 107
When God is nigh my faith is strong..... 31
When God restor'd our captive state..... 209
When God reveal'd his gracious name..... 210
When I can read my title clear..... 568
When I can trust my all with God..... 563
When Israel, freed from Pharaoh's hand..... 183
When I survey the wondrous cross..... 502
When I with pleasing wonder stand..... 232
When Jesus dwelt in mortal clay..... 540
When man grows bold in sin..... 71
When musing sorrow weeps the past..... 557
When my cries ascend to thee..... 56
When o'er the mighty deep we rode..... 547
When on Sinai's top I see..... 403
When overwhelm'd with grief..... 109
When shall the gospel tidings spread..... 530
When shall the voice of singing..... 524
When sins and fears prevailing rise..... 342
When the great Judge, supreme and just..... 22
When the rebellious passions rise..... 293
When the sev'nth angel sounds on high..... 525
When the vale of death appears..... 575
Where shall the man be found..... 52
Where shall we go to seek and find..... 216
Where two or three with sweet accord..... 452
While beauty clothes the fertile vale..... 548

While fill'd with sadness and dismay 369
While life prolongs its precious light 143
While I keep silence and conceal 63
While thee I seek, protecting Pow'r 560
Who are these that come from far 524
Who shall ascend thy holy place 29
Who shall inhabit in thy hill 29
Who shall the Lord's elect condemn 342
Who will arise and plead my right 155
Why did the Gentiles rage 12
Why did the nations join to slay 11
Why do the wealthy wicked boast 72
Why doth the Lord stand off so far 23
Why doth the man of riches grow 92
Why do we mourn departing friends 583
Why is my heart so far from thee 416
Why lament the Christian dying 576
Why on the bending willows hung 226
Why should a living man complain 556
Why should the children of a King 313
Why should the Christian fear to die 573
Why should the wicked make their boast 102
Why sinks my soul desponding 392
Why that look of sadness 563
Wide, ye heav'nly gates, unfold 50
Will God for ever cast us off 128
With all my pow'rs of heart and tongue 228
With earnest longings of the mind 79
With cheerful voices rise and sing 546
With heav'nly pow'r, O Lord, defend 468
Within these walls be peace 485
Within this house, O Lord our God 474
With joy we hail the sacred day 204
With joy we meditate the grace 286
With my whole heart I'll raise my song 22
With my whole heart I've sought thy face 198
With rev'rence let the saints appear 145
With songs and honors sounding loud 242
With tears of anguish I lament 418
Would ye behold the works of God 175
Would you win a soul to God 372
Wretched, helpless, and distress'd 426

Ye dying sons of men 387
Ye hearts with youthful vigor warm 484
Ye holy souls, in God rejoice 65
Ye humble souls, approach your God 255
Ye men and angels, witness now 491
Ye messengers of Christ 530
Ye nations round the earth, rejoice 163
Ye saints, your music bring 513
Ye servants of God 529
Ye servants of the Almighty King 183
Ye servants of the Lord 370
Yes, I am thy servant, most bountiful God 482
Yes, I will be for ever thine 402
Yes, I will bless thee, O my God 360
Ye sons of Adam, vain and young 377
Ye sons of men, a feeble race 151
Ye sons of men, with joy record 355
Ye sons of pride, that hate the just 93
Yes, the Redeemer rose 282
Yes, the Redeemer's gone 284

Ye that delight to serve the Lord 182
Ye that in his courts are found 385
Ye that obey the immortal King 220
Ye trembling souls, dismiss your fears 348
Ye tribes of Adam, join 242
Ye wretched, hungry, starving poor 387

Zion, dreary and in anguish 367
